To Whom, Lord, Shall We Go?

(Thoughts for the New Year)

When all the world seems dark to us, when sunshine turns to clouds,
When hearts are weighted down with grief, and heads in sorrow bowed;
When sickness holds us in its grasp, when death strikes home a blow,
We hear the words of Peter then: "To Whom, Lord, shall we go?"
When empty seem our future years, and joy seems left behind,
When those we love unfaithful prove and all men seem unkind;
When faith and hope from us have gone, and we no courage know,
Ah, then, we understand the cry: "To Whom, Lord, shall we go?"

For over all the world's turmoil, we hear His Voice so blest:
"Ye heavy-laden, come to Me, and I shall give Thee rest,"
True happiness is only found where Jesus doth abide,
And human hearts shall restless be except by His dear Side;
The prizes that the world holds high—position, wealth and fame—
Men give their all and spend their years to add these to their name;
How empty are they when attained, just bubbles in the end,
They cannot add one day to life, or make us one real friend;

No worldly gift can satisfy when hearts for comfort yearn,
Like children sick to Mothers go, to Christ, the Friend, we turn;
When sorrows come and storms beat high, and we would comfort know,
To Thy Feet lead us when we ask: "To Whom, Lord, shall we go?"
Thou hast the peace that men's hearts crave, the rest for tired souls,
And Life Eternal to give all who make Thy Love their goal;
Lives true success, its wealth supreme, shall come, Lord, when we know,
Thou art the answer to all things—to Thee, Lord, let us go.

In the April and May issue of the Parish Calendar, we pointed out the need of getting ready for our big celebration on December 8, 1938 when we shall commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the opening the Church of the GESU. This cannot be done in a slipshod fashion hence we shall need a considerable fund of money.

Two very necessary repairs to our Church building are the first steps in our jubilee program. As you know these improvements will cost about $13,000.00. From our recent bazaar we netted $4,299.96 and thanks to the direct contributions of generous friends we have received an additional $2,825.50. This brings our Golden Jubilee Fund to $7,125.46. So we feel safe in proceeding with the repairs on the Church roof.

There are a number of other improvements that call for attention first of which is the replacement either in whole or in part of our sanctuary carpet. The carpet around the main altar is in exceedingly shabby state. Fortunately, because of the size of our sanctuary this defect is not so conspicuous from the body of the church; nevertheless God's altar must be decently cared for. Then, too, the interior decoration of the Church needs touching up in places.

Nor must it be forgotten that the Church carries a funded debt of $108,600.00. Our good people will be glad to know that recently we received a reduction in interest rate of one-half of one per cent on the major part of this debt. This means an annual saving of $394.00. During the past year we were able to reduce the principal of our debt by $1,100.00. In celebrating our Golden Jubilee we can do nothing more practical than effect a substantial reduction in our debt.

To achieve these purposes we are calling attention to our Third Sunday Collection. Of the late years this has fallen off badly. There was a time, not so long ago, when this collection would average more than $900.00: Now it averages about $650.00 and still shows a downward trend. We have determined to devote the Third Sunday Collection to the building up of our Golden Jubilee Fund. This means that whatever we receive in this collection over and above our present average of $650.00 will go to swell this fund.

Undoubtedly everybody will pull together to make this effort a success.

A Happy New Year

We desire to say to our people that we mean much more than the conventional greeting expressed by all on the first day of January. From our hearts we wish you all that St. Paul meant when he wrote to the first Christians: "Grace to you and peace from God, our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ." Like the Apostle, too, we have neither gold nor silver to offer you, either to relieve your want or to manifest our gratitude for your generous co-operation.

Be these, then, the holidays' gifts we offer you for the new year:

The Gift that kindleth Faith, illuminating your minds to heavenly wisdom, dissipating the shadows of earthly attachments;

The Gift that warmeth Hope, softening your sorrows and adversities, tempering your successes, quickening your holy and lasting trust;

The Gift that burneth in Charity, inflaming your hearts with Christ's eternal love, brightening your lives and filling your homes with Christian joy, enkindling in your souls true Christ-serving fervor.

The Forty Hour Devotion

The beautiful devotion of the Forty Hours will begin on Sunday, January 9, with Procession of the Most Blessed Sacrament after the Solemn High Mass that will be celebrated that morning at 10.45 o'clock. The discourses will be given by Fathers Harrison, O'Gorman and Redmond, on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evening respectively, at 8.00 o'clock. On Tuesday evening the closing of the Devotion will take place with Procession of the Most Blessed Sacrament and Solemn Benediction. The Holy Devotion of the Forty Hours is enriched with many indulgences, and is certain to bring upon the Parish and upon all who share in it, untold blessings from the Heart of Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament.

Live for Something

Do some good and leave behind you a monument of virtue that the storm of time can never destroy. Write your name in kindness, love and mercy, on the hearts of the thousands you come in contact with year by year; you will never be forgotten. No, your name, your deeds, will be as legible on the hearts you will leave behind as the stars on the brow of the evening. Good deeds will shine as the stars of Heaven.

Gesu Parish Improvement Association

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association extends wishes to its members and friends for a very Happy and Prosperous New Year, and we are gratified to see the many homes in the parish which have taken on a new air of happy and prosperous homelife; evidenced by the many signs of repair both inside and out. This indicates a change of attitude on the part of property owners which encourages us to continue in our efforts to make this NEIGHBORHOOD once more a HOME NEIGHBORHOOD.

The time and place of meetings have been changed to make attendance more convenient. Hereafter until further notice meetings will be held on Wednesday evenings in the school hall at Seventeenth and Stiles Streets, instead of on Thursdays in the high school building. The numerous classes conducted in the high school building on Wednesday evenings makes it impossible to obtain a meeting room there on that evening—hence the change, since most of our members find the Wednesday meeting more convenient.

The Housing problem which is occupying the foremost place in public thought today is one which is very near and dear to our hearts and it is earnestly desired that increasing numbers of our parishioners and friends shall take the matter under consideration and by attendance at our regular meetings make possible an exchange of ideas which shall be mutually beneficial. The Housing authorities in Philadelphia hope to approach the problem from a different angle than has yet been tried. They aim to repair and reconstruct old buildings and old homes rather than concentrate all their effort on new buildings.

This is a practical and constructive plan. Many homes in this particular locality could be made into comfortable dwellings by the expenditure of money on renovations and the results would be far more gratifying at less expense than new construction.

Other groups throughout the city are throwing the weight of united opinion into their efforts to attract some of the investment to their particular locality and into their neighborhood improvement. Your Association has worked hard during the past eighteen months to make conditions in this vicinity more conducive to peaceful homelife and we say without hesitation we have succeeded to a great extent.

We could, however, accomplish greater results by the contribution of YOUR EFFORT. Individual demands, as you know, carry little weight. But an Association which represents such a large group as resides within our Parish limits could and would make demands which could hope for response.

It is for this reason, therefore, we urge your participation in our activities. Mutual co-operation will bring mutual satisfaction. YOU can contribute to our efforts, spiritual, mental and financial support. Spiritually by your PRAYERS, mentally by your contribution of ideas, financially by the yearly contribution of $1.00. You know some phase of NEIGHBORHOOD problems which perhaps someone else will overlook. Come to the meetings and let us have the benefit of your thought and suggestions. Let one of your New Year resolutions be a pledge to SUPPORT the activities of YOUR Association. Attend meetings, bring YOUR NEIGHBOR, give us your suggestions, add YOUR NAME to the list of those who seek improvement for the GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD. Happy New Year and God's Blessing on our Homes.

Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association.

Feasts of the Month

NEW YEAR'S DAY—JANUARY 1

"That we should live soberly and justly and godly in this world." Titus 2:12.

Here on the threshold of the New Year, with our faces turned towards the hill of redemption, with all the shames of the dead year fresh in our memories, we are praying the God of mercy to number us among His saints. We thank thee, God, for all thy gifts; for health, happiness and fortune; for scattered hours with friends along life's tedious pathway; for the times thy grace enabled us to walk dry-shod across temptation's sea; for the little thy condescension lent us to do, when infinite sanctity deigned to use vile sinners for instruments of His glory, workmen in His Kingdom. We thank thee for our very faults. They advertise us of our native nothingness, and help foster within us that eternal vigilance, which is the price of holiness. Now is the hour ripe for resolution. Roseate dawn is fingering night's curtain in the east, and hope is making ready for a resurrection. The sun of love waits to shine full and strong tomorrow, with angels those airy messengers of light for heralds and attendants, and the light of God's love is shining yet to lift us from the shadows and tune men's hearts to the softer song of peace. Resurrection is redemption, it is life forever beyond the gates of God's glory and His love. Faith in Jesus, God and man, is pledge of our resurrection. For the man in sin there can be no resurrection, till he visits the priest in confession and walks forth with forgiveness. This duty once fulfilled, faith invests life with a new halo. It lifts men from the tomb of worldliness, and sets them down in the bracing atmosphere of God's love. Under its magic touch grace and virtue become everyday facts, and grace and virtue insensibly wear towards the dawn of Easter morning. Let us rise to the occasion. Let us be men. Once risen, let us put on the armor of light, and during the year about to open let us set aside folly, and fight a way to the side of our Captain and Lord Christ. He is enthroned King of the new century, we are His soldiers in the field. Let us never in the turmoil of battle lose sight of His standard, inscribed with the Sacred Heart and the Sacred Host; and let us bend our best energies to make His kingdom come. We are Catholics, and our belief exacts of us no ordinary degree of sanctity. We are part and parcel of God's chosen people, and our God is the God of holiness. We belong to the one true Church founded by Jesus Christ Himself, and we point with pride to the achievements of men and women whom we love to call our brothers and sisters in the faith, with whom we can really and truly claim kinship by the clearest and sacredest of titles.

SUNDAY AFTER NEW YEAR—HOLY NAME, JANUARY 2

"His name was called Jesus." St. Luke 2:21.

History knows only one name that can boast a universal influence, the name of Jesus. History knows only one name that appeals to all tribes and all nations, the name of the Saviour of mankind. Wherever a human heart beats, there is a subject of this King, and there at mention of this King's holy name, a hand instinctively rises, a head instinctively bows, to do honor to the King. Wherever human agony is rampant, this single whisper can soften woe. Wherever hell makes fiercest fight, this watch-word can rouse drooping courage, can pour new strength into worn heroes. The name of Jesus has a history of its own; and, if all the good it wrought in the universe were gathered into one book, that book would be the faithful record of all the truly great and all the truly grand achievements of our race. Its efficacy did not begin that day after the Lord's death when Peter said to the lame man at the Beauty-gate of the temple: "Silver and gold I have none; but what I have I give thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth arise and walk." A.A. 3, 6. Its efficacy dates back to the beginning of time. Its efficacy touched the lives of our first parents; for they built, as their sons and daughters must still build, their hopes for salvation on faith in the Lord Jesus. "There is no other name under Heaven, given to men, whereby we must be saved." A.A. 4, 12. Jesus is the Hebrew equivalent for Saviour or healer, and an angel instructed the Child's parents to so call Him at the Circumcision, the Baptism of the Old Law. "Thou shalt call His name Jesus, for He shall save His people from their sins." St. Matt. 1:21. The title at its very bestowal cost Him drops of innocent blood and acute pain. He fulfilled all the pledges implied in its acceptance by laying down His life on the hard wood of the cross. The name was a reward dearly won. No other name in all history cost its owner such sacrifices. No other name in all history purchased for its wearer such miracles of humility, self-abasement and suffering. No other name in all history purchased for its wearer such claims to the honor, reverence and respect of men and angels. "He humbled Himself, becoming obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. For which cause God also hath exalted Him, and hath given Him a name, which is above every name, that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow of those that are in Heaven, on earth and under the earth." Philip 2:8. Whatever our nationality, whatever our political prejudices, whatever our tastes, we are all humble followers of the God-man who bore this name, and we all look forward to that day or night, the last in our lives, when, on the point of saying farewell to every other friend, we intend to keep repeating this sweet name, and walk out with Jesus to our destiny.

THE EPIPHANY, JANUARY 6

"In the days of King Herod wise men came from the East to Jerusalem." St. Matthew 2:1.

All know the story of the Epiphany, our Christmas; the feast we keep today; and it is full of lessons. To be brief, let us merely glance at the persons who figure prominently in the event, Herod, the three kings, and our Mother Mary. Herod was the head of the Jewish nation, and the type of all that was wicked. He was a monster of iniquity, as near a devil as anything outside of hell. As soon as he heard rumors of a new-born King of the Jews, he determined to kill the Child, even though that Child was Israel's Messiah, even though that Child's death were God-murder. To succeed in his design, he reddened his hands with the blood of a thousand and more infants; but the Lord Christ escaped his fury. He thought to fool the Magi by an empty lie; but God defeated his plans. The wicked can fool their fellow men to the very eyes; but it is consoling to know that they cannot deceive God. He is infinite wisdom; and, if we keep Him for friend, we are safe. Nothing in Heaven, hell or on earth can harm us. The three kings were men of iron courage and sterling faith. They are our ancestors, and we should today feel proud of them. We should prove ourselves their descendants by copying their virtues. Like them we should give God's interest first place in our hearts. In defense of God's glory we should stand up against the world. When strangers among a strange people they stood before Herod and his soldiers, they were absolutely without fear, because they were fighting God's battle and trusted in God's strength. And we Catholics are sometimes called on to make sacrifices, if we want to remain true to God. We are in the midst of unbelievers and scoffers, and to live up to our fathers' faith we need courage like the courage displayed by the three kings. With regard to our Mother Mary, the characteristic most worthy of note, is her closeness to her Divine Son. "They found the Child with Mary His Mother." She always kept close up to Jesus during life; and we Catholics recognizing this fact never separate Jesus and Mary in our thoughts. We keep them together. No other people outside of God's true Church pay her this homage. Devotion to Mary is the distinctive badge of Catholicity, and we must let this truth shine in our lives. Honor paid the Mother, is honor paid the Son; and God derives unbounded pleasure from every deed of piety and kindness done in His Blessed Mother's memory. Herod can teach us by his example to dread the danger of losing God's faith and His friendship by sin and wrong-doing. The three kings can teach us by their heroism to value as we value life the grand old name of Catholic which we received from our fathers, and to spare ourselves no trouble, no pain, to preserve that name till death. The Blessed Virgin can teach us by her silent example how to persevere till the end, dreading no evil on earth so much as separation from our Lord Jesus Christ by the commission of mortal sin.

THE HOLY FAMILY, JANUARY 9

We are dwellers with Jesus, Mary and Joseph, the three most perfect beings on earth. Jesus is God and infinite; Mary is God's own Mother and immaculate; Joseph is God's foster-father, our just man, our man of faith. Let me begin by remarking that if our boys and girls made their own the virtues of the Child Jesus, if our married women shaped their lives according to the blessed model left by the Virgin Mary, if husbands in their relations with their wives and children imitated the example of St. Joseph, our families would reflect in their bosoms the peace of Heaven, our Republic would be a paradise of delights, and our Church would be a collection of souls predestined to an eternity of bliss after a short or long period of quiet happiness here on earth.

A holy childhood is remarkable for the three attractive qualities of innocence, modesty and obedience. Innocence is the gentle art of harming nobody, God not excepted. It is opposed to wrong-doing, and belongs to such only as never injure or offend God, the neighbor or themselves. Innocence is what makes the lady. It betokens in its owner thorough absence of sin, and is always accompanied by the species of ignorance our Mother Eve attempted to correct that day she ate the forbidden fruit. Knowledge of good and evil is the unlovely legacy left by iniquity to its slaves after years of dark experiences. We learn this science by making mistakes; and boys and girls are angels till they make acquaintance with the crimes of their fathers. This innocence rests like a blessing on the foreheads of the young. It can be seen in their eyes, heard in their laugh, and touched in the pressure of their little hands. It compels the love of the old, it exacts from them the tribute of reverence and respect; and it makes men and women feel, when near it, much as they feel in the presence of God. Like the color of the rose, it is a charm that once lost never returns, and no other gift of body or soul can quite make up for its absence.

And, oh, the lessons fathers and mothers can learn from Mary and Joseph in the difficult art of rearing their children! Catholic homes ought to be built on Nazareth for a model, and Catholic parents ought to love, and educate and watch over their children as Mary and Joseph loved, educated, and watched over their divine Son, Jesus. They were always with the growing Child. The shepherds on Christmas night found them with Him and the kings from the East. He made the journey to Egypt in their fond arms. Keep your sons and daughters at home. Keep close to them, keep them close to you. Love, when solid and true, cannot long endure the absence of its object. Love is uneasy, when the person we love is away. Make the family circle so attractive for the young that, when among strangers, they may sigh for it, and long to enjoy again its pleasures. The streets are the devil's headquarters, they are the workshops of vice, and many a boy, many a girl, have been driven by thoughtless parents, by cruel parents, to seek refuge from their sorrows in the streets. Young hearts need sympathy; and, if they find none at home, they are sure to seek it elsewhere to their destruction. Make home what it ought to be, a place as sacred as the church of God, the resting place of peace, piety and happiness; and children will love home as another Heaven, children will love their parents as the representatives of God. Jealously guard the young against bad company. Diligent parents make it a duty to know with what friends their sons and daughters spend the evening. The mind of a good mother is anxious when a son or daughter is long out of her presence. The Blessed Virgin Mary and St. Joseph once lost the Child Jesus, and how they sorrowed till they found Him! They sought Him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance, traveled back to Jerusalem, and after three days' search found Him in the temple.

The Holy Name

A Name of Power

The Holy Name of Jesus reminds us of Him by Whom all things were made. The Word of God who holds all things in the hollow of His hand; the King of kings and the Lord of lords whose spiritual kingdom is of all times and all climes; the Lamb for Whom the centuries succeed one another, for Whom kings and peoples, whether willingly or unwillingly are like a staff in the hands of a traveler, or like servants under the authority of a master, servants whom He exalts and glorifies if they are faithful and whom He destroys as a vessel of clay if they dare to rebel against Him.

A Name of Love

The sweet sounds of the two syllables that make up the Name of Jesus rouse our attention and awaken our gratitude toward the Author of our salvation Who became Man to bring us near Him; Who was born in a stable; Who wept; Who was persecuted; calumniated, laden with reproaches, mocked and crucified for us; Who, to reconcile us with His Father, rose from the dead; Who ascended into Heaven where He is our Advocate and Mediator; Who, in fine, to console and strengthen us, made Himself the Companion of our pilgrimage by remaining day and night on our altars.

A Name of Victory

Jesus means Saviour, Conqueror, Triumpher, Man and the world had fallen into the power of the devil who, strong and well armed, held his prey in chains for four thousand years. And God knows the use He made of His power! The Son of God came down from heaven to drive out the usurper, to break the tyrant's scepter, to set free the enslaved universe; and His Name reminds us of this victory. Jesus is our Saviour in the fullest sense of the word.

The Saviour of Man in Every Respect

He saves our mind from the galling yoke of cruel, infamous, humiliating errors and superstitions. He saves our heart from the thralldom of its passions; He saves our body from the evils that oppressed it under paganism and communicates to it the germ of a glorious immortality. He saves the child, the father, the wife, society; He saves all. He prevents us from falling back into the abyss into which we had fallen. He is always our Saviour and the Saviour of the world. Without Him the physical world would immediately return to chaos, outraged by our crimes; without Him the intellectual world would immediately shroud itself in the darkness of error, a darkness drearier than the gloom of midnight; without Him the moral world would immediately plunge into a sea of vice and corruption as a body hastens to dissolution when quitted by the soul. The histories of peoples are at hand to give testimony of these truths.

Our hearts should be filled with the most perfect confidence, the most tender love, the most lively joy, and the most profound respect whenever we pronounce the Adorable Name of Jesus. It should be our first word on awakening and our last when going to rest; we should let it lie all night long as a seal on our lips. We should invoke the Name of Jesus in temptations, dangers and afflictions. It is all powerful to gladden the soul and to put the devil to flight. We should acquire the blessed habit of using this Name often in life so that we may be filled with a holy confidence when we pronounce it for the last time in death.

Pilgrimages

Shrines of Memories in our hearts live—we often to them steal,
And there, away from all life's cares, before our Shrines we kneel;
The trust, the faith, the innocence we knew in other years,
We journey to those hallowed days through sin, regret and tears;
The home we knew in childhood's days, with Dad and Mother there,
The memory of its love lives on to soothe our hearts like prayer;
The friendship shown when all was dark, and faith and hope grew dim,
The friend who helped us bear our cross—our love goes out to him;

The "bottom drawer," the old grey trunk, where rest discarded things,
The baby shoe, the golden curl, which to each Mother brings
A thrill of joy; she sees again, amid her treasures there,
The boy and girl, now grown, away, but still her babies fair;
The romance ended, parted lives, by death or other cause,
With memories dear, that hurt and cheer, before Love's Shrine we pause;
The soldier lad who gave his all, in Flanders' Field to rest,
Whose Gold-Star Mother kneels in tears by him she loved the best;

The little mounds of grass or clay where all our loved ones sleep,
We journey to their resting place, our trust with them to keep;
The House of God, where dwells our King, but, better still, our Friend,
We come before Love's Greatest Shrine, and knee and head we bend;
These Pilgrimages made by us to Shrines dear to our heart,
Like rain that beautifies the rose, their tenderness impart;
For hearts that travel Memory's Lane to all that life held best,
Will keep alive faith, hope and love, and find God's peace and rest.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Almsgiving

Almsgiving is a spiritual investment which, from every point of view, is more advantageous than squandering money in luxury or hiding it away in banks, and the reason is because in almsgiving God Himself becomes our debtor. "He who giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." The more God owes the rich—that is to say, the more the rich invest their money with the poor—the more they will deserve God's favor and good will. Among men, a debtor is agitated and worried in proportion to the amount he owes; in Heaven God is a debtor whose joy increases with the number of His creditors. Again, when a man speculates with money or puts it out at interest, he asks for ample security for its return. There are so many failures, bankruptcies, etc., that we lend money only on the strength of bonds or mortgages. Not so when we lend to God. Knowing that His poor have no earthly credit or guarantees to fall back on, He goes security for them. He says to the man of money: "You do not trust My poor—well, then, trust Me and My promises. Know that your investment made in helping the poor will pay you a hundred per cent., at least in the world to come, to which you are traveling with them and where the only bank is in My hands."

The Chicago Council of Social Agencies turned to Loyola University when it found itself confronted with the task of selecting a director for the service bureau for unemployed women, recently opened as a part of the relief program being put into effect at present by the governor's committee on unemployment and relief. Miss Agnes Van Driel, secretary of the School of Sociology of Loyola, and a professor of social science in that institution, was named.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

REV. THOMAS J. HIGGINS, S. J., Rector.

Good Morning, Jesus: Bless This Day

The night is over; morning's here,
So let me greet Thee, Jesus, dear;
The birds, the flowers, every tree,
Send messages of love to Thee;
Thou watched o'er me throughout the night,
And brought me to a new day's light;
Let every breath this day be cords
To bind me closer to Thee, Lord;

Let every beating of my heart
Tell Thee, dear Jesus, that Thou art
My life, my love, my everything,
My God, My Saviour, and My King;
Oh, let this day be lived for Thee,
So Thy sweet smile may rest on me;
Keep sin from out this soul of mine,
And all I am make wholly Thine;

Let me be kind in thought and deed,
And give me help where there is need
To bear their cross, make light their load,
And turn their feet toward heaven's road;
Keep bitterness from out my heart,
Have hate and anger from me part;
May I help all who pass my way,
And make Thee glad I lived this day;

My life this day, dear Lord, please bless,
Fill it with deeds of happiness;
Help me bring sinners to Thy Feet,
There peace and pardon to entreat;
Let not for me the setting sun
Find tasks for Thee, Lord, still undone,
But let me know, before I rest,
For Thy Sake, Lord, I gave my best.

Gesu Holy Name Society

On Sunday morning, January 9, the Holy Name Society of the Gesu Parish held a Communion Breakfast after the regular monthly Communion Mass. The breakfast was very well attended, there being over 120 men present. The breakfast was an overwhelming success, all places were filled and the only regrettable incident was the fact that over 50 men were turned away because they had failed to make their reservations in time.

James J. Dougherty, Chairman of the Communion Breakfast Committee acted as chairman at the Breakfast, the speakers at the Breakfast were the Rev. Albert C. Roth, S.J., Dean of the School of Social Sciences, our Spiritual Director Rev. James I. Maguire and James F. Connor an outstanding member of the Knights of Columbus.

The topic on which Father Roth spoke was entitled "The Church and

The Labor Problem." Father Roth stressed the fact that in the two thousand years of the Churches existence it had solved many labor problems in various parts of the world, that at its inception the Church was faced with the problem of Slavery which was a labor problem, that this labor problem was solved not by teaching the slaves to uprise and slay their masters, but by teaching them the dignity of human labor, by teaching their masters that the slaves were not chattels like horses and cows but fellow human beings, created by God in His own Image and Likeness. He further emphasized the fact that Communism would not exist in the world today if it were not for the evils existing in Capitalism, that both Communism and Fascism are effects the direct cause of both being defects in the Capitalistic System as it exists today. That our present Capitalistic System will fall unless the defects are remedied. That no one outside of the Catholic Church has the correct solution for the cure of the defects existing in present day Capitalism. The speaker believes that while the danger of Communism was present in this Country, the threat was not at present serious, and that eventually the threat would pass away, but absolute vigilance was necessary to prevent the threat from turning into reality.

Mr. Connor spoke on the Holy Name Society and stated that the best protection against the threat of Communism was the formation of a very strong Holy Name Society.

Our Spiritual Director the Rev. Father Maguire expressed his pleasure at the number of men present and thanked the Committee for its excellent work in making all preparation and arrangements for the Breakfast and he hoped that in the comparatively near future another such affair would be held. Father Maguire gave his blessing to the members present, and the Communion Breakfast of Holy Name Society which was the first held in many years came to a close.

The Holy Name Society desires to thank its Vice-President, Mr. Edward Coogan for furnishing the music at the Communion Breakfast, and also the members of the band who played and sang, the members being all young men from the neighborhood and being Messrs. Martin Johnson, Paul Philipps, Edward Boyle, John Walls, John Planster and Frank Scherer.

Mr. James J. Dougherty was Chairman of the Breakfast Committee, Mr. James D. Ramp and Edward A. Daly were in charge of seating arrangements, Rev. James I. Maguire was in charge of securing a place to hold the breakfast and selecting the menu. The following members of the Ticket Committee deserve great thanks for disposing of all available seats, Messrs: Winfield Campbell, Anthony Cherricola, Edward Coogan, Jerome Curtin, Edward A. Daly, James P. Donnelly, Thomas Fogarty, Harry J. Fox, Frank McCabe, Charles McGee, P. McKenny, Joseph Monaghan, B. O'Mullen, John O'Rourke and John McLaughlin.

We also desire to thank the young ladies of the Parish who helped the Caterer serve the Breakfast.

Final Vows

Wednesday, February 2, 1938

A Solemn Ceremony will take place in the Church of the Gesu next Wednesday, February 2, when three Jesuit Fathers will pronounce Final Vows of the Society of Jesus at the 9 o'clock Mass on that day. These Fathers are:

Rev. Kenneth L. Graham, S.J., born in Baltimore, August 30, 1900. Father Graham was graduated from St. John the Evangelist Parochial School in 1914, where he was taught by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent dePaul. He entered Loyola High School, Baltimore, in 1914 and was graduated from Loyola College in 1922. He taught in Loyola High School as a layman from 1923 to 1926, when he entered the Society of Jesus at St. Andrew on Hudson, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. on September 22. Philosophical studies were made at Woodstock College, Woodstock, Md., 1928-1930 and Father taught for three years at Loyola High School and Regis High School, New York. In 1932, he took up his Theological studies at Woodstock College, where he was ordained June 23, 1935 by the Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, D.D. in the Chapel of the Sacred Heart, Woodstock College. After making his Tertianship at Poughkeepsie, Father Graham came to Philadelphia as Professor of Latin and English in Senior year of St. Joseph's College High School.

Rev. John J. Collins, S.J. was born in Brooklyn, N. Y. June 19, 1904. As a boy he attended Holy Cross Parochial School, Brooklyn, N. Y. under the guidance of the Sisters of St. Joseph. He attended Brooklyn Prep from 1918 to 1922, when he entered the Society of Jesus at St. Andrew on Hudson, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. July 30. His Philosophical studies were made at Weston College, Weston, Mass., 1926-1929; his teaching career found him in Xavier High School, New York City for a period of three years. He took up his Theological studies at Woodstock College and was ordained June 23, 1935 by the Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, D.D. in the Chapel of the Sacred Heart, Woodstock College. At present, he is Vice-Principal of St. Joseph's College High School, Philadelphia.

Rev. Thomas A. Duross, S.J. was born in New York City, April 19, 1903. His early studies were made at Mt. St. Ursula Academy, Bronx, New York; his High School studies at Fordham Prep 1916-1920; and he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Fordham University in 1924. He immediately entered the Society of Jesus August 15, 1924 at St. Andrew on Hudson, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He took up his Philosophical studies at Woodstock College. In 1929 he became Professor at Brooklyn Preparatory School, which post he held until 1932, when he began his Theological studies at Woodstock. He was ordained June 23, 1935 by the Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, D.D. and made his Tertianship at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Father Duross is now acting as Assistant Rector of the Church of the Gesu.

The Final Vows of these three Fathers will be received by Reverend James A. McCarl, S.J., Vice-President of St. Joseph's College and Acting Pastor of the Church of the Gesu. On the day of the Last Vows, the Fathers who are consecrating themselves finally to God in the Society of Jesus do not say Mass but receive Holy Communion from the Celebrant of the Mass after their Vows are pronounced. Besides numerous friends and relatives of the Fathers taking their Last Vows, the whole student body of St. Joseph's College High School will be in attendance and receive Holy Communion for the intention of Fathers Collins, Duross and Graham.

The Acolytes of the Mass will be Mr. John C. Baker, S.J. and Mr. William F. Horton, S.J. Mass music will be furnished by the Gesu Boys Choir and the Seventh and Eighth Grade classes of the Gesu Parochial School.

Gesu Neighborhood and Parish Improvement Association

When February appears on the calendar, we begin to feel that winter is passing and glorious spring is approaching. And we are inclined to look about us and see what can be done to bring ourselves and our homes into step with the season. Our particular interest, of course, is in PROPERTY IMPROVEMENT. What can be done? What may be gained by doing it? Where shall we look for mechanics and materials?

The answer is "Look close to home!" Our organization has been in operation for more than a year and last spring we were highly gratified to see the new interest taken in property rehabilitation all through the parish. The movement that started in the summer of 1936 was heralded as a great step in the right direction and so it has proved itself to be. Prior to that time our Parishioners were leaving the NEIGHBORHOOD rapidly because of various conditions existing and increasing which were turning the NEIGHBORHOOD which had formerly been a NEIGHBORHOOD OF HOMES into a very undesirable section. Something has to be done—and the splendid idea of a PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION was presented and eagerly accepted.

The new organization inspired and guided by Father Maguire and Father Gallagher and led by Dr. Stokes has undertaken many new and novel steps and with the earnest endeavors of officers and members, the spirit of personal and individual co-operation among our parishioners and the response by city officials and departments—it has been the means of checking the desertion of our old friends and the entrance of undesirables into our midst. Business enterprises which destroy the peace of the surrounding NEIGHBORHOOD have been prevented—vandalism has been checked—dangerous and unsightly dwellings and buildings have been torn down or put in usable condition—dangerous crossings have been made less hazardous by means of installation of traffic control—adjustments between owners and tenants have been brought about—and all by the quiet but earnest endeavors of your PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

We feel, therefore, that results have justified its existence and with the approach of spring, bringing as it does, new life into nature we hope sincerely that there will likewise be a breath of NEW LIFE into our ORGANIZATION. Many of our Parishioners have not yet responded to our call and to them we make this SPECIAL appeal. Your participation and interest will make possible greater results during the next few months. Your contribution of $1.00 yearly will help financially and will make possible further undertakings but more than that, it will be visible evidence of YOUR interest. YOUR SUGGESTIONS as to possible methods of im-

Feasts of the Month

BLESSED JOHN De BRITTO—FEBRUARY 4

One of the glorious Beati of the Society of Jesus is Blessed John De Britto. He labored in the Kingdom of Maravia in the East Indies, after St. Francis Xavier had opened the way for his apostolate. He endured many labors and hardships and encountered almost constant dangers. He succeeded in converting a great number of idolaters, but was finally seized by the tyrant and twice put to torture. Remaining firm in the confession of the Faith, he was at last beheaded and thus won the palm of martyrdom on the 4th of February, 1693. He was beatified by Pope Pius IX.

SS. PAUL, JAMES AND JOHN—FEBRUARY 5

On the fifth day of February the Society of Jesus commemorates the glorious death at Nangasaki in Japan, of the blessed Martyrs Paul Miki, John De Goto, and James Kisai, native Japanese, the first members of the Society, who under Taiko-Sama, being crucified for the Faith and pierced through with lances, together with twenty-three other martyrs, fertilized by their blood the Christianity planted by the Apostle of Japan. They were beatified by Pope Urban the 8th, and canonized in 1862 by Pius IX.

BLESSED JAMES DE SALES AND WILLIAM SALTAMOUCHE—FEB. 7

On the seventh day of February we have the commemoration of two martyrs of the Blessed Sacrament. They were Blessed James De Sales and Blessed William Saltamouche, slain at Aubenas in France in the year of 1593 out of hatred of the faith. Falling into the hands of the heretics they were for many days tortured with hunger, thirst, and other pains, and then put to death. Father James was first shot through the body, and then as he prayed for his murderers, run through the heart with a sword. William, who was a lay-brother, embracing the Father as he fell was stabbed with daggers. Both had made good preparation to deserve their crown. Father De Sales, though subject to many infirmities, labored as if in strong health. He adored the Blessed Sacrament hourly and asked for the grace of martyrdom from the King of Martyrs, the good Jesus, Whose name was ever on his lips and in his heart.

BLESSED DIEGO CARVALHO—FEBRUARY 26

The martyrdom of Blessed Diego Carvalho is honored on the twenty-sixth of February. He was a priest of the Society of Jesus and was put to death in the Kingdom of Oxu in Japan in a most inhuman manner. He was plunged into freezing water and allowed to stay there for several hours. Then he was released for a time to test his constancy. Then he was immersed again in the icy waters and continued to endure his sufferings for twelve hours. He died at last with unshaken constancy in the confession of the Faith.

BLESSED CLAUDE DE LA COLOMBIERE, S.J.—FEBRUARY 15

When St. Margaret Mary was given the divine work of spreading through the world a new love of Christ's Sacred Heart, she quailed before the immensity of the task and before her own great inadequacy. "Give me, Lord," she prayed in her utter helplessness, "the means to do as Thou wilt." And the Lord made answer, "Go to My servant, Father Claude De La Colombiere, and tell him from Me to do all in his power to establish this devotion and give this pleasure to My Heart."

It was June, 1675. In 1682, Father Claude De La Colombiere was dead. In those few years from the February of the one to the February of the other, had been unrolled one of the sweetest stories of friendship among saints and one of the most glorious apostolates in the incomparable annals of the Church. February 15, the day of Father Colombiere's death, St. Margaret Mary ever after kept sacred to his memory, entreated him with a litany of petition phrased after his own exemplary life she had known so well:

Mirror of All Virtues
Angel of Purity
Man after the Heart of God
Glorious Martyr of Desire
Victim of Divine Love

She besought his intercession in a prayer wherein she addressed him as the "faithful servant." The wording of that prayer, traced through it is in beautiful wording, since the Church's beatification has been infallibly re-traced in letters of gold. "O Eternal and Almighty God, Who hast given us in these latter times a model of all sanctity in the person of Thy faithful servant blessed Father Claude De La Colombiere of the Society of Jesus, grant us grace, we beseech Thee, by his holy and powerful intercession with the Sacred Heart of Jesus Christ, to imitate him in his virtues of charity, simplicity, and humility, that so we may attain to everlasting happiness, through the same Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who liveth and reigneth world without end. Amen."

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

REV. THOMAS J. HIGGINS, S. J., Rector.

"Master, Is It I?"

A Supper laid and thirteen men sit down to dine one night,
The Master and the chosen Twelve, so precious in His Sight;
How heavy was the Master's Heart—for none there knew but He
This meeting with His cherished friends the last on earth would be;
'Twas then He gave to them and us His Gift of Love Divine,
When He didst break and bless the Bread and likewise blessed the Wine;
Then as He gave both to the Twelve, His Voice with Love didst plead:
"Take Ye and Eat; This is My Flesh, and This, My Blood indeed!"

The "Upper Room" the first Mass saw; watched Christ the first Host give,
Which Host contained His Flesh and Blood so He with men might live;
"One of thee here shall Me betray," said Jesus with a sigh,
Then each, in turn, began to ask: "O, Master, is it I?"
When Judas asked, "Thou sayest it," Christ answered in reply,
But, oh, it was not Judas, Lord, but I who made Thee die;
For silver Judas sold Thee, Lord, a few coins were his pay,
But for a moment of sin's thrill, I wound Thee and betray;

Whenever sin has stained my soul, when from Thee I have strayed,
Ah, then, it is not Judas, Lord, but I who have betrayed;
He sinned but once, and for that sin went out to die alone,
Despised, the traitor of His God he ever shall be known;
Yet my soul, Lord, is red with sin, Thy Love I often spurn,
But Thy Arms wait to welcome me when to Thee I return;
Oh, may my life be lived so when I hear Thy plaintive Cry:
"Who doth betray Me?" I can say: "Dear, Lord, it is not I."

The Administration of Confirmation

The Holy Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered by His Excellency, Most Reverend Hugh L. Lamb, D.D., on Wednesday afternoon, March 23, 1938 at 4.30 P. M.

Parents whose children are attending Public School have the obligation of seeing to it that their children receive the proper instruction for the reception of this Sacrament, on the day appointed. These instructions are given every Saturday morning in the High School building at Seventeenth and Stiles Streets.

Adults who have never received this Sacrament should make inquiries at the Rectory and should not delay being Confirmed this year.

Remember the date—Wednesday afternoon, March 23, at 4.30 P. M.

St. Patrick's Day

Look out for our SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT on ST. PATRICK'S DAY, in the HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM! Much preparation is being made. YOU will not want to miss this attraction!

The Girl Scout Troops of the Gesu

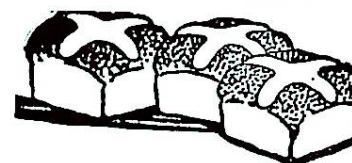

In the latter part of January the girls had an enjoyable evening with motion pictures, "Behind the Front," in the assembly room of their apartments.

The picture was operated through the kindness of Brother Downey. Added features were given in graceful dancing and singing of beautiful songs by Rose Corbin and Gloria Petruska.

The Girl Scout Troops received a very beautiful valentine from Shirley Temple, Hollywood, California. (Love, Shirley Temple).

On February 19, the Girl Scout Troops of our District are invited to a St. Valentine entertainment at headquarters, 311 S. Juniper Street. All the girls of troop 25 are preparing, under the direction of Captain A. Sweeney, to attend.

The girl scouts are happy to have Rev. Father Herlihy as their Chaplain. Girl Scout Scribe.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

REV. THOMAS J. HIGGINS, S. J., Rector.

Gesu Parish Improvement Association

"In Unity There Is Strength"

Members of the GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION had an opportunity at a recent meeting to discuss with two members of the North Philadelphia Realty Board the difficulties and problems confronting our thousands of citizens in the preservation of the conditions which have won for Philadelphia the name "city of homes." There is no doubt that every one who was present at that meeting went home with a feeling of encouragement and satisfaction in the work and aims of the Association.

The representatives of the Realty Board not only gave sound advice and constructive criticism to our members but were loud in their praise of the spirit which has been shown and of the splendid leadership which has guided our undertakings. While they, as members of the Real Estate Board, have been working diligently for several years to combat and overcome the influences which have contributed to the deterioration of property values; they pronounced our organization the first of its kind in the city; that is, the first which has sprung from the ranks of the people themselves. Similar associations throughout the city, they state, would be of invaluable aid to the real estate men who are working and have been working against great odds to revive NEIGHBORHOODS and preserve property values.

Responsible real estate men, realizing the distinct advantages which exist in neighborhoods such as ours, where convenience of transportation, hospitalization, educational institutions, etc., surpass any to be had elsewhere, have been concentrating their efforts to induce Washington authorities to revive the Federal Housing Association, which would make loans available to home owners for the renovation of properties such as we have in our NEIGHBORHOOD.

Meanwhile a Tenants Housing Foundation, financed by private funds, is being organized in our city for the purpose of renovating rows of houses in old neighborhoods, making them into comfortable modern dwellings which can be offered at moderate rentals to reliable tenants. Whereas, the Philadelphia Housing Authority, dispensing Federal funds, would concentrate on the elimination of slum districts; this private enterprise would devote its funds and its energies to the improvement of ordinary city homes and RESTORATION OF NEIGHBORHOODS which have formerly been known as NEIGHBORHOODS OF HOME OWNERS.

Thus, we find several forces UNITING for a purpose which has been the FOUNDATION STONE OF OUR OWN ORGANIZATION . . . That of REMAKING IT ATTRACTIVE to the kind of GOOD NEIGHBORS who make GOOD NEIGHBORHOODS.

In order that our members may know the progress which is being made by these various units it is the purpose of the Association to invite such speakers to our meetings frequently. And to help promote that feeling of GOOD NEIGHBORLINESS—Mrs. Bicking has accepted Chairmanship and selected a committee who will dispense hospitality at the meetings in the form of cake and coffee and a half hour of sociability for "Auld Lang Syne." If you know any FORMER GOOD NEIGHBORS whom you may invite to the meetings, you are urged to do so. If your PRESENT NEIGHBORS are not attending; make it YOUR duty to CALL for them and BRING them to the meeting. For "IT AIN'T THE INDIVIDUAL WHO CAN BRING US TO OUR GOAL—BUT THE EVERLASTING TEAMWORK OF EVERY EARNEST SOUL."

Feasts of the MonthTHE NOVENA OF GRACE IN HONOR OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER
(March 4-12)

One of the most characteristic devotions in churches served by Fathers of the Society of Jesus is the Novena of Grace which takes place every year from March 4 to March 12. This Novena is celebrated to commemorate the canonization of St. Ignatius and St. Francis Xavier, the two most brilliant ornaments of the Society of Jesus. For it was on March 12, in the year 1622, during the pontificate of Gregory XV, that those two glorious Saints of the modern world were raised to the honors of the altar. But though St. Ignatius is not altogether forgotten in the Novena, the devotion, as a matter of fact, has come to be identified in a special way with the memory, and still more with the intercessory power, of St. Francis Xavier.

This remarkable Novena, which year after year is becoming more and more popular, not only in Jesuit churches, but in many others, has its origin in a miraculous intervention of the great Apostle of the Indies; and there is no denying that from its first beginning until the present day it has become more and more worthy of its name, and has been the occasion of countless marvelous favors, both spiritual and temporal, to all who make it.

The history of the Novena of Grace is not shrouded in mystery, but can be clearly traced to an apparition which St. Francis Xavier made in 1631 to a fellow Jesuit, Father Marcellus Mastrilli, who lay mortally injured as a result of an accident which occurred in the Church of the Society of Jesus in Naples. The Saint, all resplendent with heavenly glory, assured his devout client of his recovery and instructed him to make a vow that he would go as a missionary to Japan, where martyrdom awaited him. St. Francis declared that all who should make a Novena ending March 12, devoutly approaching the Sacraments during the Novena, would enjoy his protection and obtain from God abundant favors.

Father Mastrilli, who was instantly cured, lost no time in setting out for Japan, proclaiming, as he advanced, the glory and the power of the Sainly Apostle who had long since preceded him on that journey of zeal. Soon after his arrival in Japan he was arrested and condemned to the torments of the pit, an unspeakable horror, which he endured for four days till death came to release him from his agony and reunite him to his heavenly patron.

This brief record of the origin of the Novena of Grace is familiar to all who have been accustomed for many years to make the Novena in the Church of the Gesu at Eighteenth and Stiles Streets. But it is a record which, like many familiar narratives, is held in benediction; for not to one only but to many does it bring back the memory of the richest blessings and graces that any devout soul could wish to win and possess. The testimony of grateful hearts who have received nothing less and nothing other than the very favors asked for, has been most enthusiastic and authentic. Not a day of the Novena passes without the surest warrant that the heavenly power of the great Apostle of the Indies is not in any way lessened, but rather increased for the benefit of those who know and love and trust one who is acknowledged on all sides to be the most wonderful of God's missionaries since the days of the Apostles.

The very name "Novena of Grace" indicates the primary and principal object of the Novena. It is grace. Implied in that very word is everything whether temporal or spiritual, that conduces to our eternal salvation. Sometimes, in God's Providence, it is a temporal favor of some kind that starts us on our way to salvation, or carries us on, or even helps us notably towards the completion of our journey to Heaven. Such favors we may well ask for and obtain. Often these favors are granted to us during the Novena and at no other time, because then we pray with a fervor and intensity of faith which we do not rise to at other times. In the Novenas we make privately during the year we pray alone, while in the Novena of Grace hundreds and literally thousands of others are praying with us and for us. The Novena in honor of St. Francis Xavier is peculiarly one of concerted power, all pray for all, and no one merely for himself. No wonder, then, that so many graces and blessings are obtained and so many prayers are answered. For then specially are Christ's words verified, "Wheresoever two or three are gathered in My name, there am I in the midst of them."

The Public Novena requires one to be present each day for at least one exercise. Daily Mass and Holy Communion are strongly recommended. The services are short and fervent, and prayers, instruction and Benediction last not more than one-half hour.

Consult the Parish notes in this Bulletin for time of exercises.

INDULGENCES

By a brief of the 16th of June, 1898, Leo XIII granted a Plenary Indulgence to all the faithful, who, in a church of the Society of Jesus (at any time in the year), should make a Novena in honor of St. Francis Xavier, and on one of the nine days, after confession and Communion, should visit the same church and there offer up prayers according to the usual intentions of the Pope. Those who are prevented by sickness or any other lawful reason from receiving Holy Communion during the Novena, may gain the same Indulgence by confessing and Communicating as soon as possible afterwards. The Indulgence is applicable to the souls in Purgatory.

Another Plenary Indulgence may be gained on the 12th of March, the day of the Canonization of St. Ignatius and St. Francis Xavier, on the usual conditions: Confession and Communion, and visiting a church of the Society of Jesus and praying for the intention of our Holy Father.

On the 23rd of March, 1904, our Holy Father, Pius X, granted to all the Faithful, who make this Novena of Grace, publicly or in private, the following indulgence which may be applied to Souls in Purgatory (the Indulgences cannot, however, be gained more than twice in the same year):

1. An Indulgence of 300 days to all who on any day of the Novena devoutly and with sorrow for their sins, shall say the prayer: "O most lovable and loving Saint Francis Xavier, etc." If this prayer cannot readily be had, its place may be supplied by the "Our Father," "Hail Mary" and "Glory be to the Father" (said five times).

2. A Plenary Indulgence to all, who, besides making the Novena, shall, within eight days of the completion of the Novena, receive the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist, and pray devoutly for the intentions of our Holy Father.

N. B.—The privileges granted by Pope Leo XIII, and mentioned above are not changed by these recent and generous concessions made by our Holy Father Pius X.

WHAT SHALL WE PRAY FOR DURING THE NOVENA

Temporal favors—Yes, pray for every temporal need you have. You do that every time you recite the Lord's Prayer. Have you to labor hard every day for a discouragingly small salary? Have you sickness to contend with? Have you a large family to support, children to feed and clothe and educate, so that you hardly know how to get along from one day to the next? Or worse still, is sorrow or fear or disgrace haunting your hearth and threatening the happiness of yourself or those that you love? Then, tell St. Francis Xavier about it all in the Novena of Grace!

There is one other intention that we all should endeavor to keep uppermost in our prayers during this novena, "The Conversion of America." The wonderful growth of the Novena of Grace during the past few years induces us to hope that the great Apostle of the Indies will become the Apostle of America. Think of it, sixty millions of our fellow citizens are affiliated with no Christian church! Let those who make the Novena here join with the hundreds of thousands elsewhere in this general intention, "The Conversion of America, through the merits and prayers of St. Francis Xavier." Great faith wins great graces! What a magnificent manifestation of the power of united prayer, of the greatness of St. Francis Xavier, and of the infinite goodness of God, the conversion of America would be! St. Francis Xavier, Apostle of America, pray for us!

The relic of St. Francis Xavier will be exposed during the Novena of Grace for the veneration of the faithful, and at each service of the Novena the relic will be used to bless those who are present.

A sealed box for petitions will be placed at the altar rail in front of the Shrine. "Ask and you shall receive."

HOLY WATER OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER

We are familiar with the "St. Ignatius Water" and the wonderful cures wrought through its use but it is not so well known that a similar Holy Water may be blessed in honor of St. Francis Xavier. At one time the use of this water was very common in the older Catholic countries, but the vicissitudes and changes of time, dispersions, suppressions and persecutions, may explain the partial oblivion of this great help to devotion to the great Apostle of the Indies.

In our own day, however, possibly on account of the great popularity, in recent years, of the Novena of Grace, the practice of blessing this Holy Water is to be revived. A few years ago, on May 12, 1926, on recommendation of the Cardinal Prefect of the Sacred Congregation of Rites, the ancient formula for the blessing, revised and amended by that Congregation, was graciously approved by our Holy Father Pope Pius XI and its use conceded to all priests of the Society of Jesus. In blessing the water the priest asks God to bestow His blessing upon it and to grant that through the invocation of His Holy Name and the intercession of St. Francis Xavier, Apostle of the Indies, those who use it may obtain health for their bodies and salvation for their souls.

In another prayer the priest asks of God to grant, through the intercession of St. Francis Xavier and in consideration of his merits, that we who use this water may be strengthened in the faith which he taught and be energetic in the charity which he practiced.

A supply of this Holy Water will be provided for the people who make the Novena of Grace. It may be had in the religious article room.

THE HOLY SEASON OF LENT ASH WEDNESDAY—MARCH 2

The Retreat Master is the Holy Spirit who speaks to us through the Gospels of the Masses of the days of Lent. In these Gospels we shall find a beautiful mosaic of wholesome counsels and thoughts depicted for us individually by the divine Retreat Master, the Spirit of Holiness and the sanctifier of the hearts of men. For some of us there will be in this mosaic thoughts of death and sin and the punishment of sin, for others there will be thoughts of peace and eternal joy, for others again counsels and inspirations to consecrate ourselves to greater service and higher perfection in the court of the King and Lord of the universe.

We may divide the holy season of Lent into several stages. The first stage will be from Ash Wednesday until the Third Sunday of Lent. Here we shall find thoughts of sin and eternal punishment, serious suggestions and reflections about death and judgment. We may call this first stage the Preparation or Foundation. It would be practical at this time to make a serious and earnest confession. The second stage or division of the season of Lent begins with the third Sunday. Here we see Christ in His power, casting out the prince of devils. Christ, the King, is before us through this period and announces His doctrine and principles to us. We shall be witnesses to the wonderful miracle of the multiplication of the loaves and we shall see Christ on the very next day casting the buyers and sellers from the temple. Those of us who wish to follow this King and who wish to excel in His service must be willing to take up the cross. The third stage of the season will show us Christ, our King and Model, in His passion. This period begins with the fifth Sunday of Lent, Passion Sunday. The enemies of Christ will conspire against Him. They will plan His death, and the terrible Decree will come to pass on Good Friday.

The holy season of Lent, then, is built up in a logical manner, and is a season of retreat for all Catholics. To derive the greatest good from this Retreat we must be generous, we must make sacrifices, we must follow the King even to Calvary.

BL. JOHN OGILVIE, S.J., M.—MARCH 10

At Glasgow in 1615, died Father John Ogilvie the first of the Society of Jesus in Scotland, to suffer death for the Faith. Scarcely had he been a year on the mission, when he was betrayed by one who had been admitted to hear his Mass. Incredible were the barbarities the holy man had to endure; they were scarcely paralleled by the refined cruelty of the persecutors of the first three centuries. Condemned to death, he thanked the messenger who gave him the news and went joyfully to the gallows clearly stating that he was dying merely because he was a Catholic and a Priest.

MARCH 12

On this day the Society of Jesus offers thanks to God for the canonization of Saint Ignatius and Saint Francis Xavier by Pope Gregory the fifteenth on March 12, 1622.

ST. PATRICK—MARCH 17

St. Patrick is Ireland's Patron Saint, and Ireland's love for St. Patrick, now 1500 years old, is today as strong and as holy as ever. He has an abiding place in Irish hearts, his memory is going to endure as long as Ireland's fame, and that can never die. He was born in 373, somewhere outside of Ireland. Brittany, part of present-day France is, according to most writers, the favored spot. A miracle was wrought at his very baptism. The priest called to perform the function was blind. No water was at hand. Taking the child's fingers in his own, the old priest traced the sign of the cross in the sand, and forthwith a brimming fountain arose. The child was baptized, the priest washed his eyes in the Stream of Miracle, and recovered his sight. The boy was taken captive when sixteen by a band of pirates, and sold as a slave on the west coast of Ireland. He tended his master's flocks for six long years, and put the time to good use by unbroken hours of prayer in the solitude of the hills and valleys. During this blessed period he received from Heaven a plain intimation of his future apostleship. Escaping at the age of twenty-two, he at once set about preparing himself for the priesthood. After thirty-eight years spent in prayer, penance and study, he was consecrated bishop in 432, the sixtieth year of his age. On a visit to Rome, Pope Celestine had previously commissioned him to carry the faith to Ireland, and consecrated him Apostle to that wild but docile people. Then began his sixty years of missionary work, extending over the length and breadth of the island. He landed at Wicklow, on the east coast, no long journey from Dublin, and by slow stages made his way along the shore to the northernmost province of Ulster. Then he retraced his steps southward to hold that decisive meeting with the king, his Druids and bards at Tara, in the County of Meath. On his way to Tara he composed his remarkable hymn to the Holy Trinity called his Lorica or Breastplate:

"Christ with me—Christ before me,—Christ behind me,—Christ within me,—Christ at my right,—Christ at my left,—Christ at the fort,—Christ in the chariot seat,—Christ in the heart of every man who thinks of me,—Christ in the mouth of every man who speaks to me,—Christ in every eye that sees me,—Christ in every ear that hears me,—I bind to myself today,—the strong virtue of an invocation of the Trinity,—the Faith of the Trinity in Unity,—the Creator of the elements."

And Tara has ever since been famous in Irish song and story. It is the birthplace of Irish faith, and the Shamrock plucked that day from its green fields to illustrate the mystery of the Trinity, the divine Three in One, has been transplanted with the listening bard's golden harp to our battle-flag, and harp and shamrock are Erin's boast, the idols of our hearts' affections, the symbols of faith's first conquest, the emblems dear to men singing in their hearts in grace to God. We thank thee, St. Patrick, for dressing religion in so sweet a guise, the three wee leaves of green that smile upon us at every step we take through Ireland, and the tuneful harp with a human tongue to talk comfort to our musical natures. No cross! Oh Catholicity in Ireland has been hanging on a cross for the last 400 years and Catholics in Ireland and Irish exiles are today silent martyrs for the faith and lovingly kiss the hand of a Father, Who for reasons known to Himself prolongs their agony.

From Tara, passage was made across the Shannon to Connaught, through Roscommon, Killala, Sligo and Mayo. On the hill of St. Patrick, near Mayo, our Saint passed 40 days in fasting and prayer, and himself notes that ever after opposition to his work of conversion ceased. He spent years in Connaught, and left only to revisit the North, touching at Donegal, Antrim and Tyrone. Then down again to Meath, Cashel and Tipperary. The Kings of Munster received him most hospitably, and one of them, ancestor to Brian Boru, he baptized near Limerick. After seven years in Munster he made ready to return to Leinster. The Saint soon found himself back again in Ulster; and after founding the Church and Archbishopric of Armagh, the primatial See of all Ireland, settled down to a life of prayer and study and virtue. He died holly at Armagh in 493, at the advanced age of 120, and was buried in Downpatrick.

ST. JOSEPH MARCH 19

Pharaoh of old commended all Egypt to the care of our Saint's name-sake, and that Joseph saved Israel from all the horrors of famine. Our St. Joseph spent his manhood's energies toiling to procure nourishment for the tender body of the Child Jesus, strengthening it for the hour of trial on Calvary and shaping it for the tabernacles on our altars. Devout clients have repeatedly experienced the rare value of St. Joseph's intercession in time especially of temporal need. Jesus obeyed him on earth as a parent, and in Heaven relationships are purified and strengthened, not annihilated or destroyed. After the Child's birth Joseph fulfilled in His regard all the offices of a fond father; and Jesus abundantly rewards every token of affection rendered His friend of friends. This father's Son is omnipotent, the world's absolute owner; and a word from His father is law to this Son. No request presented at the throne of mercy and duly endorsed by St. Joseph can fail of effect. We may not know why, we may not understand how, but whatever favor asked through St. Joseph is refused, we are better off without it. God knows why, God understands how, and that is enough.

"Honor the Kings father," is an old adage, and has its practical application here. St. Joseph's rank among the Saints of God cannot be a moment doubted or disputed. In the order of sainthood he stands next to the Virgin Mother of God, his lawful spouse; and between her and the Godhead no creature intervenes. We Catholics know well from our Catechism the position he fills in the Saviour's regard. Mary was really and truly the Mother of Jesus. The God-man had no human father in the full and complete sense of the word. The Holy Ghost assumed the part of father, and the birth of Jesus was from this point of view a miracle. Joseph was never more than foster-father to the Child, bearing towards Him only what relations the rich patron bears to the boy or girl he adopts. The teaching of our faith is clear in this matter, and to entertain any other opinion would be wrong, nothing short of heresy.

God calls nobody to a position of trust or honor in His kingdom without at the same time equipping him with abundant graces and means to meet its requirements. He confided to St. Joseph's keeping all that He held most sacred on earth. He commissioned St. Joseph the keeper, the guardian and the support of His two most precious treasures, a well-beloved and only begotten Son and that Son's Immaculate Mother. Our Saint's virtue, therefore, must have been of so conspicuous a kind that it attracted God's notice and fixed His attention in a singular way. God had the world to choose from; He chose St. Joseph, who therefore must have quite come up to God's ideals of a man, a husband and a father. Divine motherhood sets the Blessed Virgin Mary at the head and front of women and men. His fatherhood sets Joseph at the head and front of men.

THE ANNUNCIATION MARCH 25

The feast of Our Lady's Annunciation is on March 25. This feast recalls the occasion on which an archangel was sent by God to a lowly maiden to communicate to her God's design but left the execution dependent on her consent.

"Lady Day" was the name by which this feast was known in countries in which the English language was spoken. In the Mass of this feast we say after Communion: "Pour forth, we beseech thee, O Lord, thy grace into our hearts, that we to whom the incarnation of Christ Thy Son was made known by the message of an angel may by His Passion and Cross be brought to the glory of His Resurrection." How often that prayer is on our lips!

The Great Retreat of the Christian World

This holy season may well be considered as the great retreat of the Christian world in preparation for the Easter festivals. As Jesus fasted for forty days (Gospel of the first Sunday of Lent) and later in His public life, taught us how to die to self and to conquer sin in our souls, so now in Lent the Church teaches us how to die to sin and evil. Lent, then, is principally a time for meditation on the sufferings of our Blessed Lord. We meditate on the sufferings of Christ in order to be strengthened in our struggle against the world, the flesh and the devil. Lent is a great retreat, as we have said above. By penance and mortification by prayer and alms-giving, by denying ourselves pleasures that are legitimate, we root out what is wrong and sinful in us and we adjust our lives in accordance with the divine command and example. At the end of Lent, then, we should aim to be better in soul, purer in heart, and more faithful in our service to the Divine Master. This work of self-reformation and of purifying the evil that is in us should be finished on the night before Holy Thursday. The fast of Lent continues till noon Holy Saturday, but the Lenten season as a time of retreat is over the night before Holy Thursday.

Lent is not a time of sadness and depression. Quite the contrary, since we are closer to God during this season, the Divine Presence will bring happiness, true happiness, a foretaste of heaven to our souls.

How then can we keep Lent in the spirit of the Church? What practices will most conduce to make this Lent of 1938 a thorough reformation of soul?

Daily Attendance at Mass, and keep in mind that the Sacrifice of the Mass is the greatest act of worship that we can offer to God. The Mass is not only for the priest in the sanctuary, it is for the faithful as well. Therefore, read about the Mass and ask the priest about it. Any priest will be glad to instruct you. Obtain a pamphlet on the Mass from the stand in the rear of the Church. Read it. If we know the Mass we will love it, and to attend Mass, then, will be a very interesting and delightful treat for us.

Holy Communion Every Day During Lent. Even at a great inconvenience to yourself, try to receive Holy Communion every day, if possible.

The Law of Fast and Abstinence. Could you perhaps do a little fasting? In the early days of the Church up to the eleventh century Mass was celebrated at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the faithful received Holy Communion at this Mass. Only after this time did they break their fast. We do not live in those days, but could we be inspired from this example to do also a little to carry out the law of the Church in this matter? Consult your confessor about the penance you intend to take up during Lent.

The Way of the Cross will obtain for us courage and generosity to serve God as He wishes it and to purify our souls from sin and from habits of sin.

Daily Recitation of the Beads, the Sorrowful Mysteries, will do us much good.

Induce the family at home to have some Spiritual Reading during the Evening Meal. Five minutes reading from the Little Lives of the Saints will soon create a thoroughly Catholic atmosphere in your home.

During Lent whatever practice you adopt do not fail in this one: Make a Brief Examination of Your Conscience every night and try to make a fervent act of contrition. Examine your home, too. Is your home an ideal Catholic home? Are objects there which will suggest to the world that you are a Catholic and that will suggest piety and Godliness to the inmates of the house? Is there Holy Water, a Blessed Candle, Blessed Palm, a Crucifix, Holy Pictures and at least a picture of the Sacred Heart in a proper place? Are there Catholic books on your library shelf? Does the mail-man bring several Catholic magazines to your door every month? Lent is a time of retreat, and retreat is a time to set things in order.

Remember, O man, that thou art dust and to dust thou shalt return." May the fervor with which we receive the ashes on the first day of Lent abide with us through the entire season.

If you talk too much and want to cure yourself, say a Hail Mary instead of an unnecessary sentence. Count the Hail Marys every day and you will soon be cured.

Penance: Substitutes

One thing we ought to bear in mind with regard to Lent is that Catholics are, during that season, under command to do Penance. All Catholics, without exception, who have the use of reason, are included in this command. For those between the ages of twenty-one and sixty, if they are not lawfully excused, the penance is prescribed—fasting. But those who do not fast are morally bound to substitute an equivalent, each according to his or her ability.

Fasting, therefore, is the main duty of Lent—the fast prescribed by the Church, and our first question should be, "Am I in the number of those who should fast?" Let me answer this question squarely, and if needful, have my confessor's advice on it. The Church makes exceptions, it is true, but am I one who hurriedly takes up the exception list with the settled idea away down deep, "I'm not going to fast, that's certain, and I'm going to get under cover in one of those bomb-proof 'exception' shelters." It won't be bomb-proof if we are not fair with God.

The next question is, "in case I cannot fast, what shall I substitute?" Remember, this is a duty. We must do Lenten Penance. The substitute should, in all fairness, be an equivalent penance. Therefore, we should do something approximately as difficult as fasting. Recollect, we that fasting is a continuous penance. It effects us, in a sense, the whole day through. Then our substitute penance should be something on this order. What shall we think, then, of substitutes like these? "I won't chew gum during Lent." "I shan't taste candy during Lent." "I shan't go to the movies during Lent," and other "won'ts" of the kind?

No one will say these are bad resolutions, but as a fitting substitute for the duty of fasting, what do you think of them? We shall admit, I imagine, that they don't quite cover the ground.

"What would be an approach to the adequate?" one asks. It is hard to be definite, but would not some, or all, of the following make it more really Lent for most of us?

1. Hearing Mass every morning.
2. Receiving Communion at least three times a week or daily.
3. Visiting the Blessed Sacrament some time each day.
4. Saying our Beads carefully once a day.
5. Remaining home in the evening and closing the day with the Rosary said in common by the family.
6. Some added original touch that would be a steady little sting for our own darling selves.

And so, in case we cannot fast, we can come appreciably near Penance, if we really mean it.

What Lent Means to Me

If we have had the good fortune of being brought up amidst Catholic surroundings at home and school, we can remember what Lent meant to us as children. It was a time when the good nuns, our teachers, urged us to make some little sacrifice in the cause of Christ. Encouraged by the help given us at home and school, we may have been brave enough to say, "I shall eat no candy during Lent and with my extra pennies I shall help buy a mission baby;" or, if less strong or less confident in our strength, we may have said, "I will not eat any candy during Lent except on Sundays." We knew that Sundays were not fast days for the grown-ups. Thus it is that our Holy Mother, the Church, teaches her children lessons in self-restraint from their earliest years and the lessons taught are meant not only for childhood days but for life.

The people of today are beginning to acknowledge the need for a teacher like the Church who is brave enough to teach the lesson of self-restraint. Unchecked desires grew in men from year to year; their greed for riches led them to defraud the working man of his hard-earned money; their lust for power led them to amass fortunes through which they were almost able to control the whole of the country and its resources. Unchecked desires have brought our nation face to face with dire want and suffering and it is only by restraining these desires that our government is saving us from utter ruin. The government has been forced to take in hand the task of restraining desires which should have been checked long ago by the individual himself; it is forced to teach oppressing capitalists the lesson of self-restraint, a lesson which should have been ingrained in them from childhood days. Driven by the grim specter of starvation, we are taking measures to secure a just wage for the working man and to prevent crafty politicians and speculators from getting rich on the people's money.

Yet, through all the centuries of its fruitful life, the Church has proclaimed during the season of Lent a remedy, much surer and more enduring. Laws imposed on men may be avoided, their enforcement may relax or their executors themselves may be corrupted but, if men are taught from childhood that they cannot enjoy all they desire, that sometimes they must sacrifice their pleasure for the sake of other men, there will be no need for laws. Now it may be true that such an attitude will never become universal among men by reason of our fallen nature, yet this is no reason why the Church should discontinue her practice of teaching self-restraint. She is seeking the good of men and hence she is bold in preaching her doctrine and today our government has, in a sense, set its seal on her doctrine of restraint by imposing laws which have the same end in view.

Now that we see the importance of this virtue and what evil a want of it can bring about, we may better understand the insistence of the Church on fasting and abstinence and penance. She has shown us how to raise this natural virtue, I mean self-restraint, to the dignity of a supernatural virtue by basing it on motives of sorrow for sin and a desire to appease God's wrath. Now we can understand the importance of that childhood lesson; the child who could go without candy during Lent and give his pennies to buy a mission babe will not become the employer who would deprive working men of a portion of their just wages and so drive them and their children to starvation because of lust for riches, pleasure and power. The child who learned to control his childish appetite for sweets and even forego its legitimate satisfaction will hardly become the victim of disgraceful passions which would ruin both himself and those who are dearest to him. St. Paul tells us to put off the things of a child but he does not mean the lesson we learned as children, for, in this sense, the child is father of the man. Though the lesson of self-restraint may repel us and though the sacrifice we can make be little, we are still bound to the practice of this virtue. By living up to this obligation, we will show our faith in the policy of the government as well as in that of the Church. By basing our sacrifice on the motives of contrition and love of God as the Church teaches us, we will insure for ourselves a happier eternity.

Hear Mass with Reverence

When you are attending Mass, act as one who is in the presence of God. Do not be looking around here and there, when you should be looking toward the altar. When the Consecration is taking place, kneel on both knees, not on one, or scarcely at all. When the priest adores, bow the head.

Is not the manner in which some Catholics hear Mass a reproach? Their conduct from beginning to end indicates that the Mass is a burden to them. They long to be out of the church. They cannot pay homage to God for even half an hour, and this once a week.

When we think of it, such seems almost incredible. Can it be that those for whom our Lord has given His life cannot find strength to love Him in return and pay Him the adoration He deserves? Who would think of abusing the goodness of a friend? Why abuse the goodness of God? In the Mass Christ dies again! Again His blood is poured! His side is opened!

Think of this! Hear Mass with reverence. Do not be afraid to kneel. Do not be afraid to adore. Above all things, do not rush out of the church before Mass is over. If a Catholic cannot give love to our Lord, let him at least pay Him the respect due through common courtesy.

Friends

We should never let a friend go out of our lives, if we can by any possibility help it. If slights are given, let them be overlooked. If misunderstandings arise, let them be quickly set aright.

Friendship is too rare and sacred a treasure to be thrown away lightly. And yet many people are not careful to retain friends. Some lose them through inattention, failing to maintain those little amenities, courtesies, kindnesses, which cost so little and yet are hooks of steel to grapple and hold our friends. Some drop old friends for new ones. Some take offense easily at imagined slights and ruthlessly cut the most sacred ties. Some become impatient of little faults and disregard even truest friends.

Some are incapable of any deep or permanent affection, and fly from friendship to friendship, like birds from bough to bough, but make no rest for their hearts in any.

Broken friendship, like china, may be repaired, but the break will always show. And it is a bit of real truth and wisdom. Friendship is a precious thing—too precious a treasure to be carelessly broken or thrown away.

The Sun that Shines on Easter Morn

I always think of sunshine as the brilliance of God's Face,
Which lights the world as He looks down upon the human race;
When on Good Friday afternoon, Christ's Eyes were closed in death,
His Sacred Rays, the sun, I know, died, too, with His last Breath;
"The Easter Sun does dance for joy," it oftentimes is said,
"For Christ, Its Master, rose that Morn in triumph from the dead;"
What contrast to Good Friday's gloom! What changes Easter brings!
The bleeding, tortured, murdered Christ—the Risen God and King!

The Man at Whom they scoffed and cursed, the Man with thorn-pierced Brow,
Whom stalwart soldiers flogged and scourged—where is their Victim now?
The Man Who bore so patiently the Cross to save mankind,
Who welcomed nails, which torture brought, so men might heaven find;
Him Whom they thought died in defeat, Who gave the piercing Cry:
"My God, hast Thou forsaken Me?" before they saw Him die;
Where is that Man of Sorrows now? Is death the victor still?
Have sin and hate and works of men proved master o'er God's Will?

The sun didst shine that Easter Morn more brilliant than before,
Its dazzling splendor held the Smile the Risen Christs Face wore;
For then Good Friday's Victim pierced the darkness of the Tomb,
And at His wish, came Life and Light to banish death and gloom;
The Wounds He bore were glorified, His Heart was open wide,
So sinners through the years might find a refuge safe inside;
"O, Risen Saviour, Who didst leave death's hold within Thy grave,
Have us, beside Thy empty Tomb, find strength our souls to save."

—William F. Sheridan.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

The Mass

So much we cannot comprehend, but this, Lord, bring to pass,
That we at length may realize the value of the Mass;
When to this Sacrifice we come, let us not kneel there cold.
But closer to Thy Altar draw, and there Thy Priest's hands hold;
Those hands made sacred to embrace and have Thee rest therein,
And each Morn raise Thee up to plead for pardon for men's sin;
The Priest says not the Mass alone; each worshipper as well,
Stands at his side; his voice is ours, our love for Thee to tell;
When his hands hold the Host aloft—Redemption's tragic Price—
Our eyes, with his, then gaze into the bloodshot Eyes of Christ;
We see Thy Head, Thy matted Hair, the thorns which pierce Thy Brain,
We see Thy Face, grief in each line, distorted now with pain;
We see Thy Heart, torn open wide, with Love for men it burns,
It pleads with all to rest within, with sinners to return;
We see Thy Hands nailed to the Cross—Thy Arms are opened wide—
To welcome sinners to Thy Heart and keep them by Thy Side;
Forgetting torture and the pain which racks Thee hanging there,
For pardon Thou dost plead for men—it is Thy dying Prayer;
We see the crimsoned, dripping Cross where Christ, our Saviour, dies,
That Cross which brings joy to our hearts and warm tears to our eyes;
For joy is ours to know that Thou hast paid our debt of sin,
And tears burst forth because we have ungrateful, faithless been;
This is the Mass; Oh, teach us, Christ, to love its treasures rare,
For every Mass is Calvary's Hill, and Thou the Victim fair.

Gesu Parish Improvement Association

THE GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION enlists the support and co-operation of all progressive business men and homeowners in the vicinity; as well as the interest of tenants and AGENTS in direct contact with property owners. "A penny saved is a penny earned." Thus reads the old adage. Our purpose is to save—not merely pennies—but the THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS which have been invested in real estate in this NEIGHBORHOOD, by combating the forces of deterioration and devaluation which for many years have been disheartening the property owners.

Dr. Francis Stokes, President of the Association not only has devoted much time and effort to the development of ways and means of accomplishing the very worthy aims of the Association, but has given a very concrete example of how to accomplish those aims. Dr. Stokes has purchased and entirely renovated one of the oldest properties and his home stands "out of the crowd" we might say, made prominent by its entirely new and cheerful appearance, which seems to say to the passerby, "See what I have become? A HOME to make a family happy and proud."

Other farsighted owners and investors, encouraged by the support which UNITED ACTION gives are planning a similar restoration in the spring. During the past year all changes in the NEIGHBORHOOD have been "for the better." Few properties have become vacated and all formerly vacant properties which are habitable have become HOMES again. Why? Because of the many advantages which are obtained by residence in this vicinity. And because the steady trend toward property improvement has been an encouragement to GOOD NEIGHBORS to participate in the GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD movement.

Thus we see the results of CO-OPERATION and UNITED ACTION.

Make it your personal interest to look around your own particular NEIGHBORHOOD and see what the present standing is. If you find the properties in good condition you find the NEIGHBORHOOD a good place in which to live. If you find the properties standing neglected and deteriorating you find the former NEIGHBORS have gone and a less desirable element filling their places. Or worse, you find no one filling their places and the once substantial homes slowly falling into ruin at the hands of that worst destroyer—"neglect." If you find the latter condition existing, endeavor to learn the same of the owner or agent in whose care the property is entrusted. Bring the information to the GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION, so that we may contact the proper parties and endeavor to persuade them to co-operate with other GOOD NEIGHBORS in a rehabilitation program. Methods have been devised, means are being made available and results are astonishing and gratifying from a standpoint of both accomplishment and financial return.

THIS IS YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD AND YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD ASSOCIATION. Your NEIGHBORS are interested. Are YOU?

Meetings are held regularly in the school hall at Seventeenth and Stiles Streets. Announcement is made on the previous Sunday and we suggest YOU make a resolution when you hear the next announcement to come to the MEETING and bring with you THOSE FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS whose support and co-operation is essential to the well-being of your NEIGHBORHOOD.

Vestments Needed for the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass

Holy Mass is in the words of the catechism: the sacrifice of the Body and Blood of Christ, really present on the altar under the appearances of bread and wine, and offered to God for the living and the dead. This sacrifice is one and the same with that of the Cross, inasmuch as Christ Who offered Himself on the Cross, continues to offer Himself on the altar through the ministry of the priests. On the Cross Christ died once for all, redeeming us and ransoming us poor sinners, not with gold and silver, but with His own most precious Blood; in the Mass, in which He dies mystically, He commemorates that same sacrifice and applies to our souls its priceless merits. Only the mode of offering is different, for, on the Cross, Christ offered Himself in a bloody manner, and on the altar, in an unbloody manner. This is the incomparable sacrifice of the Mass, Christ offering Himself to God. Its value therefore is supreme, for if all the prayers and worship of men and angels and even Mary's devotion were offered in one act of adoration and praise, they would not even approach in efficacy the infinite worth of one Mass, which alone is worthy of God.

And this Holy Mass is given to the Church, priests are ordained for it, for men. All men are included in the Holy Sacrifice. The Liturgy brings this home in a beautiful manner by the words it places in the mouth of the priest as he raises the Host on the little golden paten at the offertory of the Mass. The Holy Sacrifice is applied, first of all, to all those present, "pro omnibus circumstantibus;" then the circle widens out beyond the particular church, until it embraces all countries and peoples: "Pro omnibus fidelibus;" but not satisfied with this, it stretches beyond this lower world, until it has drawn the entire Christian Family into its range: "Pro vivis et defunctis."

Our beloved ones are remembered in each Holy Mass in a general way. What a consolation to know that the ones we treasured and loved here on earth are remembered in a general way at each Mass at the altar. It is God's way of lightening the weight of the Cross that He has found us worthy and willing to bear. How this consolation would be increased in our sorrowing hearts if we knew and realized that the tender, gentle, sweet little Mother God blessed us with on earth is remembered in a very special way at the altar in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Now this can happen and can be done in this way.

Certainly for the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass everything should be immaculate about the altar—the vestments should be befitting and in the best of condition for the August Sacrifice—with the daily use of the vestments the wear on them is telling—new ones must replace the old ones—this is our present situation—we have to get new vestments.

It has been thoughtfully suggested by some kind parishioners that an appeal be made to the members of the parish for the donations of vestments for the Altar—these vestments to be given in memory of some loved member of the Family or for the Family in general—a little marker is to be placed in the vestments asking the priest to remember that loved one or that Family in his Mass that day. A beautiful idea! Surely each and every one of us who is in the position, even at some little sacrifice, would want this for our dear ones who have gone before us. As there are many Masses said in our Church each morning you can readily understand the benefits derived. Are you interested? Call at the Rectory and get the information any evening after dinner.

Feasts of the Month

Passiontide and Easter

There are seven Sundays in the Holy season of Lent. The first four Sundays are called respectively the first, second, third and fourth Sundays. The fifth Sunday is called Passion Sunday, the sixth, Palm Sunday, and the seventh, Easter Sunday.

The time between PASSION SUNDAY and Easter Sunday is known as Passiontide, because the sacred mysteries of the holy Passion of Christ are most solemnly commemorated by Holy Mother Church during these last two weeks of Lent.

The ceremonies of the sanctuary are most impressive and full of deepest meaning for the faithful.

ON THE SATURDAY PRECEDING PASSION SUNDAY the crosses, statues and pictures of our Saviour and the saints on the altar and throughout the church are covered with a violet veil, and remain covered until the solemn Mass on Holy Saturday. There are two reasons for this practice—first, because during this time before His Passion our Lord no longer walked openly among the people, but hid Himself. In the chapel of the Holy Father in Rome, the veiling took place during the Mass on Passion Sunday when the priest recited the words of the Gospel: "Jesus therefore hid Himself from the people."

The second reason is that during the time of His sufferings and death Christ hid His divinity under His sacred humanity.

ON THE FRIDAY FOLLOWING PASSION SUNDAY the Church very appropriately commemorates in a solemn manner the Seven Sorrows of our Blessed Mother.

THE SIXTH SUNDAY OF LENT IS PALM SUNDAY, so called from the ceremony of blessing and distributing palms to the faithful. This ancient ceremony recalls the last entry of Christ into Jerusalem, when the Jews went forth to meet Him, and sang their Hosannas to Him, and spread their garments, and the branches of trees on the ground before Him. The blessing of the palms takes place before the High Mass. Then follows the procession of the clergy and the sanctuary choir carrying palms and chanting antiphons. The Mass is celebrated afterwards, and the principal feature of the ceremonies is the chanting of the Sacred Passion according to St. Matthew, during which all hold the palm in their hands.

PALM SUNDAY is also the beginning of the greatest liturgical week of the year, commonly called "HOLY WEEK." All the services of this week are memorials of the Passion of our Lord.

The Passion is read in the Mass on Tuesday and Wednesday of Holy Week, as well as on Friday. On Wednesday is the solemn office of Tenebrae.

THE THURSDAY OF HOLY WEEK is called Maundy Thursday or Holy Thursday. During the Solemn Mass the priest and his assistants wear white vestments, because the Mass is the Mass of the Blessed Sacrament. There are two hosts consecrated at the Mass of Holy Thursday. One is consumed during the Holy Sacrifice by the celebrating priest, the other is preserved and carried in procession after Mass to a richly prepared repository, where it is adored by the faithful till the services on Good Friday morning.

FRIDAY OF HOLY WEEK IS CALLED GOOD FRIDAY. This is the day of Christ's death on the Cross. The ceremonies of the Church keep before us in a striking manner the great mystery of the atonement on Calvary. The priests begin the services by a solemn prostration. Then follows the solemn chanting of the Passion according to St. John. After this the crucifix is most solemnly unveiled, and while the choir chants its weird antiphons, the Clergy and laity adore our crucified Saviour. The sacred Host is carried in procession from the repository to the main altar and after a few ceremonies the celebrating priest consumes It. This is called the Mass of the Presanctified.

On the evening of Good Friday there is always a sermon on the Passion of our Lord, after which the faithful approach the sanctuary to kiss the crucifix as an act of love and sorrow.

HOLY Saturday is the vigil of the greatest feast of the year, the Feast of the Resurrection. The ceremonies are divided in two parts. During the first part the priests wear violet vestments and bless the fire, the paschal candle and the water for baptism. The lamps and candles are lighted during the first part of the service. After the chanting of the prophecies and litanies, the officiating clergy lay aside the violet vestments and put on the white and gold vestments for the Mass. With the intoning of the Gloria in Excelsis on Holy Saturday the feast of Easter begins. The priest immediately after the singing of the "Gloria" intones the "Alleluia" and announces the joys of Easter. Vespers is sung during the Mass on Holy Saturday.

On EASTER SUNDAY the church is once more richly decorated and the glories of the risen Saviour are commemorated in all the prayers, psalms, canticles, antiphons and sermons.

During this holy season of Passiontide every devout Christian should make special efforts to show great devotion to our Holy Redeemer. We should leave aside all worldly amusements and enter into the spirit of Holy Church. We should attend the services as much as possible and crown our Lenten works by a good confession and fervent holy communion on Easter Sunday. With our divine Saviour we should rise to the life of grace and holiness.

Holy Week—Palm Sunday

Before the Solemn High Mass, a striking ceremony occurs, to which the Church herself has always attached the deepest significance. It is the BLESSING OF THE PALMS. It begins with the antiphon: "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord. O King of Israel! Hosanna in the highest!" For today we commemorate the triumphal entry of Our Lord into Jerusalem, when the multitudes who had come to the holy city from all parts of the world for the celebration of the Pasch, and who had heard of the miracle that Jesus wrought in raising Lazarus from the dead, went forth to meet Him bearing palm-branches in their hands, and making the air resound with their joyful acclamations.

After the antiphon, the priest, standing at the corner of the altar, prays God to multiply in the hearts of the faithful the gifts of His grace, that as, by the death of His Divine Son, we have faith and hope in the life to come, so, by His resurrection, we may one day have the happiness of attaining to it. A lesson is then read from the book of Exodus, after which the deacon chants the narrative of the triumphal entry into Jerusalem as recorded in the Gospel of St. Matthew. Then the celebrant solemnly blesses the Palms, the beautiful prayers, which he sings meanwhile, setting forth in language full of unction the mysterious meaning of the ceremony, and invoking the divine blessing upon all who receive the symbolical branches, as well as upon their homes.

The Procession which follows, commemorates the journey from Bethania to Jerusalem, when Our Lord was so enthusiastically welcomed by His people. But as the procession, headed by the sub-deacon bearing the cross, is about to reenter the church, they find it closed against them. It is no longer the earthly, but the heavenly Jerusalem to which they seek admission. The voices that are heard within singing the praises of Christ, are the voices of the Angelic choir, celebrating the entrance of Our Lord into the heavenly city, while the voices outside the church, which at every verse take up the refrain, are those of the people who have been conducting Our Lord in triumph into the earthly Jerusalem. It is only when the sub-deacon strikes the door with the staff of the cross, that it is thrown open, and the procession enters, proclaiming the praise of Him, who is our resurrection and our life. For it is only Jesus, the King of glory, who by His victorious Cross has opened to us the gates of the kingdom of heaven, thus uniting the Church militant with the Church triumphant.

The Mass, which follows the Procession, bears not a trace of the exuberant joy, which is so marked a feature of what precedes. The parts that are sung by the choir are expressive of the deepest desolation, and the history of Our Lord's Passion, which is read in advance, gives to the rest of the day that character of sacred gloom, which we are wont to associate with it.

Holy Thursday

What day could be more appropriate for the fulfilment of the Easter duty than this, on which we commemorate the institution of the Adorable Sacrament? Certainly no one, who has the leisure, should fail to attend Holy Mass. It is today that the unbloody Sacrifice of the new law was first offered up, and it is today that Christ gave to His Apostles that ministerial power, by which they too could offer the same Sacrifice, being made priests forever according to the order of Melchisedech. The Holy Eucharist, whether we consider it as a Sacrament, or as a Sacrifice, was instituted on the eve of Our Lord's Passion, and we should prove ourselves strangely ungrateful, if, believing what we do, we should neglect to give evidence of our faith, when the occasion would seem to call for some very special manifestation of it.

It is the REPOSITORY, where Our Lord's blessed Body is reserved, that gives to Holy Thursday a character of solemn joyousness, which is peculiarly its own, and it is with hearts full of gratitude and veneration, that the faithful hasten today to the house of God, to spend at least a few moments prostrate before their hidden Saviour. The profusion of lights and of flowers, and the other rich adornments of the holy place, bespeak the liveliness of their faith, and the depth and tenderness of their love, and the stream of worshippers that flows by in ceaseless procession the whole livelong day, is proof that in spite of the widespread indifference in matters of religion, which is so deplorable a feature of the times, there is also a strong leaven of genuine piety, and of intense personal devotion to Our Lord, which through God's blessing may be instrumental sooner or later in permeating the whole mass, and in bringing mankind back once more to the feet of Jesus Christ.

But despite its religious joyfulness, this Festival is at the same time deeply tinged with sorrow. For we are on the very eve of Our Saviour's Passion, and the great gift, which is the motive of our gladness, is a gift from the hands of our dying Lord, and is bequeathed to us as a memorial of His death. That we may give free rein to our joy, and may keep with exultation the memory of this greatest of God's wondrous works, Holy Church will establish another special Festival in the glad Easter time. Meanwhile, as we bow down in loving adoration before our Eucharistic Lord, we shall behold in the Blessed Sacrament a sweet reminder of Our Saviour's sufferings and death. The Sacred Host that is kept in the Repository today, is the same that will be consumed tomorrow in the Mass of the Presanctified.

Good Friday

Our one great preoccupation today should be with the all-absorbing mystery of the Passion of Our Divine Redeemer. If we are able to attend the various functions that will take place at the Gesu, with but little interruption, from morning till night, they will greatly contribute to awaken in us such sentiments as the death of Jesus should inspire. So deep is the impression made upon Holy Church today by the anniversary of the Sacrifice of Calvary, that she suspends her daily oblation, the mystic Sacrifice of the Mass, and prefers to have her children fix all their attention on the great tragedy itself, of which the Mass is but the unbloody renewal.

Almost the first feature of the morning office is the solemn chanting of the Passion, which by its dramatic character and the sorrowful tone of the music, cannot fail to produce a profound impression, and so dispose us to profit by all that follows by way of commemorating this most mournful anniversary. Then follow those wonderful prayers, which the priest offers up in the name of the Church for every class of persons, from the Sovereign Pontiff to the least of the clergy, for the faithful and for those outside the Church, not even excepting the perfidious Jews, and for the manifold needs of mankind.

Next comes the unveiling, and, immediately afterwards, the Adoration of the Cross, two strikingly beautiful and most impressive ceremonies. There is no need of telling Catholics that the adoration we pay to the Cross is relative adoration, being referred, of course, to Him who for our sake died upon the Cross. The Mass, which follows, is called the Mass of the Presanctified, because the Host, which is consumed by the priest, is not consecrated at the Mass itself, but is brought to the altar from the Repository, where it has been reserved since the day before.

The Three Hours' Agony, which begins at noon, is an admirable practice for uniting the hearts of the faithful with Our Divine Lord during the most solemn part of the day. This it does in a way that is at once easy and delightful, and while every feature of the devotion bears directly on the great event commemorated, there is no room for anything akin to weariness, and, along with the blessed fruit of sorrow for sin, the soul reaps much spiritual advantage in numerous other ways.

Holy Saturday

Only the mournful part of today's office belongs by right to Holy Saturday, the day on which Our Lord's body lay in the sepulchre. In the first ages, it was not until the approach of daybreak on Sunday morning, that the faithful who had spent the whole night watching in the church, were privileged to assist at the Mass, which was then offered up in memory of the risen Christ. And if the hour of the Resurrection is now anticipated, and the Holy Sacrifice is joyfully and solemnly celebrated as early as Saturday morning, it is because Holy Church would give her children a foretaste of the Easter gladness.

The fire, which is blessed at the beginning of the ceremony, is struck from a flint, and it represents Jesus Christ rising from His rock-hewn sepulchre through the stone that had been rolled against it. From it the Paschal Candle, the lamps of the church, and the candles that are placed on the altar, are all lighted, the new light symbolizing the preaching of the new law of Christ, as the putting out of the lights, which preceded, signified the passing of the old dispensation.

The five grains of incense, whose blessing immediately follows that of the fire, represent the perfumes prepared by Mary Magdalene and her companions. They are inserted in the Paschal Candle in the form of a cross, and so symbolize again the five wounds. The Paschal Candle itself, whose eulogy is sung with such extraordinary solemnity by the deacon, arrayed as on a festal, is another emblem of Our Divine Saviour, and it is for Him that the Church intends the enthusiastic praises which she lavishes upon it. Before being lit, it is a figure of Our Lord lying lifeless in the tomb; when lit, we see in it the glory of Jesus, victorious over death. It will grace the sanctuary until Ascension Day, when He, whom it symbolizes, will be taken up into heaven, and so, for a time, disappear from the sight of His beloved disciples.

Facts of the Resurrection

The Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead is the most important fact of history. If the Resurrection is a fact, we must live by that or abide by the eternal consequences. If it is not a fact, it is the greatest fraud ever perpetrated in the world, and Christians are the most deplorable dupes conceivable. I propose to demonstrate that the Resurrection is the best established fact in all history. In presenting the proofs I shall proceed in a judicial manner, dealing only with authenticated facts and appealing solely to reason and fairness. In an article like this the demonstration must necessarily be brief. I shall first set down the outstanding facts of the Resurrection. Let me preface my procedure by stating that the Gospel narrative which records the Resurrection is the best authenticated document of history. The ripest scholarship, after the severest scrutiny, has pronounced the Gospels genuine history. Even the enemies of Christianity, who set out to invalidate the Gospel narrative, have ended by declaring that it is absolutely genuine and authentic. (Harnack, "Nature of Christianity," p. 11.)

Taking for granted, therefore, the truth of the Gospel record, Father Martin Scott, S.J., summarizes:

Fifteen Outstanding Facts

1. The Resurrection was foretold by Christ.
2. The Jews knew He foretold it.
3. They took every precaution in regard to it.
4. Christ's death was officially certified by the Roman Governor.
5. A guard of Roman soldiers were on duty at the tomb.
6. The Roman guard testified to the Resurrection.
7. The Jewish leaders paid hush money to the Roman guard, thus silencing them.
8. The Resurrection was proclaimed in the very city where Christ was crucified, and to the people who put Him to death.
9. On the first proclamation, 3,000 joined the Standard of the Crucified and Risen Christ.
10. The Apostles were transformed by the Resurrection and its consequences.
11. They made the Resurrection the basis of their Christian Mission.
12. The Jews never denied the Resurrection, but forbade its proclamation.
13. Paul, the bitterest opponent of the Resurrection, became its greatest champion.
14. The Risen Christ became the dominant factor in the history of civilization, the world beginning a new era dating from Him.
15. The conversion of the Roman Empire was due fundamentally to the fact of the Resurrection.

These are the great outstanding facts of the Resurrection. No cause in all history has such a convincing array of evidence.

The Resurrection is the most vital fact in the history of the world.

The Resurrection is not an isolated fact of history. It concerns us personally. The conquests of Alexander may or may not be a fact. It matters not to us. The assassination of Caesar may or may not be a fact. It does not affect us. But the Resurrection is a fact which intimately concerns you and me. Christ did not come into this world for Himself, but for us. He left Heaven and became man in order to enable mankind to partake of divinity. The Resurrection is Christ's pledge that we may become sharers of His eternal and divine blessedness. It is His pledge that we may be incorporated into the family divine. "To as many as receive Him, He gives the power to become the children of God" (John 1:12).

The Resurrection, therefore, has a vital bearing on our life. It is the guarantee of our Resurrection. The Christian man has it in his power to make a success out of life, no matter what its eventualities may be here. For if life, no matter how great a failure, terminates in a glorious immortality, it becomes an eternal success. On the other hand, if we have all success in this life and lose everlasting life, the greatest worldly success is an eternal failure. The Resurrection is, therefore, the most important fact of all history.

The Feast of Feasts

In a life of contrast, the greatest contrast was that of Christ's death and His resurrection. Darkness was overcome by light; despair was conquered by hope; death was overcome by life. This is why Easter is the Feast of Feasts—the greatest day in the calendar of all the year. In early Christian days a common salutation among the people was: "The Lord is truly risen. Alleluia." The day ever carried with it a message of joy and hope.

With the resurrection of Christ came new courage to His Apostles. These men, yesterday in despair, have now regained everything. They believe, they preach, they triumph. Simple men, scattered abroad, men without worldly influence, proclaim the Risen Christ and change the face of the earth. They have but one text for their sermons: Jesus is risen and we are His witnesses.

As in the beginning, so now Easter brings its message of restored hope and re-established gladness of heart. To the individual soul, tempted, tried, discouraged, perhaps despairing, the fact of the Resurrection of Christ restores the strength and the hope that were failing.

The message, spiritual in character, is meant not only for the individual but for all the world. Today, in a special manner, the world stands in great need. It has its material and economic problems to meet; and, indeed, these must be met with material and economic remedies. But its greatest need is spiritual. That need is met by spiritual resurrection. "If you be risen with Christ," said Saint Paul, "seek the things that are above."

And, indeed, all lesser matters, all necessities, all sufferings, all trials and labor and fatigue can be borne bravely and profitably if the spiritual and be uppermost in the thought of the mind and in the desire of the will. It was the Christ, now risen, that said: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His justice and all these things will be added unto you."

There are many and striking evidences today that the world, suffering indeed in many ways, is turning to God. Men are rising from the grave of lethargy. They are putting on the armor of spiritual strength. They are awakening to the realization of spiritual things. They are recognizing the highest meaning of life.

With a force that is not lessened by the lapse of centuries, the fact of the resurrection of Christ, more than anything else, comes to fill the mind of man with truth, the heart of man with hope and the will of man with strength. The whole world needs the Feast of Easter. Nineteen hundred years ago that Feast brought courage to quaking hearts. It is no less powerful today, for the Risen Christ is Living Christ and in Him is the hope of all the nations of the earth.

St. Peter Canisius, S.J., Doctor of the Church—April 27

The Universal Church celebrates on April 27, the Feast of St. Peter Canisius, canonized during the Holy Year and proclaimed at the same time Doctor of the Church.

Peter Canisius was the first German to join the Society of Jesus. He entered on May 8, 1543, less than three years after the Papal approbation of the new Order. He was at that time just twenty-two years old, having been born on May 8, 1521, at Nymwegen, in the Netherlands, a city then under German rule.

In 1540 he had received the degree of Master of Arts at Cologne and having resolved to become a priest, had bound himself by a vow of perpetual virginity. Some Jesuits having come to Cologne, Canisius heard of Blessed Peter Favre, the first companion of St. Ignatius, who was then at Mainz, and went thither to consult him on his vocation. Blessed Peter directed him in the "Spiritual exercises" of St. Ignatius, during which the young student bound himself to apply for the new Order and, if not admitted, to join any Order the Superior would point out.

After his admission, he continued his studies at Cologne and was ordained to the priesthood in 1546. So great was the reputation he acquired as a theologian, that in 1547 he was designated by Cardinal Otto von Truchsess as his representative at the Council of Trent. In September of that year he went to Rome to make his final probation under the guidance of St. Ignatius. In March, 1548, he went to Messina to teach, but God had chosen him to be "the second apostle of Germany," and so in 1549 he returned to Rome, where on September 4 he pronounced his solemn vows. On that day he was enraptured by a vision of the Sacred Heart at the tomb of the Apostles.

From Rome he was sent to Ingolstadt. On the way he received the degree of Doctor of Theology at Bologna. A year later at the age of twenty-nine he was elected rector of the university of Ingolstadt, where he taught theology, catechized and preached. In 1552 he went to the new college at Vienna to teach theology and preach. Three times, we are told, he was offered the bishopric of Vienna, which in obedience to his Jesuit vow he refused. One of the last administrative acts of the life of St. Ignatius Loyola was the appointment of Father Canisius as provincial of Germany, in June, 1556.

The special work of St. Peter Canisius was the publication of the three editions of his catechism, one intended for advanced students, a short extract for school children, and a catechism for the lower and middle grades. All three were most effective in preserving the Catholic religion in the western part of Germany and in Austria. Noteworthy also are his works on the abuses of Scripture texts by Protestant theologians, and on our Blessed Lady, but the list of his occasional writings fills many columns in the bibliography of the Society of Jesus. He labored for forty-one years before his holy death on December 21, 1597.

Easter Duty

The practice of going to Confession and Communion at least once a year, at Easter time, is the minimum requirement for practical membership in the Church. A Catholic who will not do at least this is not deserving of anything more than the title of nominal Catholic. If such a person really believes what he professes to believe about the Sacrament of Penance and Holy Eucharist, it would not be necessary for our Holy Mother, the Church, to tell him that if he will not do at least this, he deserves to be disowned by her and no longer regarded as her child. Catholics who neglect this duty may keep up for a time an outward show of church membership by attending such services occasionally and going to no other church, but this makes them only the shadows or ghosts of Catholics—not living members of the Church. There is no life in them, because the Master has said: "Unless you eat my flesh and drink my blood you shall not have life in you." It is quite remarkable that among such people are often found men and women who are prepared, on occasions, to defend their religion in an argument with non-Catholics to fight for their religion, to stand up for it; but they are not prepared to kneel down for it—to pray and approach the Sacraments. It is on account of such Catholics as these that the precept concerning Easter duty is necessary.

The Easter Duty is the obligation of every Catholic of requisite age to receive Holy Communion within the Easter time. During this time it binds under pain of mortal sin, all those who enjoy the use of reason.

The Easter time extends from the first Sunday of Lent until Trinity Sunday. Trinity Sunday this year is June 12.

Those who are not able to go to church during the Easter season, or those in charge of them must notify the priest, so that he may bring Communion to the former, although they be in no danger of death.

Our Lady's Easter

The Gospel story tells us very little of the life of Mary, the Mother of Jesus. We must read largely between its lines if we would discover from it the beauty of that life which, more than any other, approaches the divine in the perfection and splendor of its living.

Of Christ's appearance to Mary after the Resurrection, the Gospel tells us not so much as a single word. But St. Ignatius Loyola, who is surely no idle dreaming visionary, warns us that we should be deserving of Our Lord's rebuke: "Are you also without understanding?" if we should doubt the reality of that first apparition. For to whom would Christ naturally pay His first visit of consolation and reassurance after His triumph over death and sin? To whom, pray, but to Mary, His Mother! To Mary, who had wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in a manger the night of His birth into the world; to Mary, who had nestled Him at her breast during His infant years at Nazareth; who had shielded Him from the biting winds on the journey into Egypt; to Mary, who had taught His baby lips to whisper their first faltering words, who had guided His tottering baby steps across the floor of the cottage of Nazareth. Oh, naturally, to whom would Christ first go on this shining Easter morn, to whom COULD He go but to Mary?

Who needed His consoling presence as did Mary; who so deserved the sweetness of His consolation as Mary? Look into her life. From the beginning down to the present hour a slow, constant martyrdom. Few lives have been so sorrow-laden, no heart ever more crushed than the crushed mother-heart of Mary. Behold her on Calvary, valiant, strong, faithful in the midst of suffering that would stagger a lesser soul. Has ever a mother been called upon to bear such agony of soul as Mary bore on Calvary's heights? Looking up she sees her innocent Son (her own darling Boy, after all, though He is her very God!) dying the death of a despised outcast and criminal.

What we so overwhelm a mother's heart as to see her boy branded before the world with the brand of failure? Still Christ hung for a whole afternoon before the gaze of an insulting world, stamped with failure so complete that His enemies could fling their jibes into His face with the air of conquerors. Yea, on Calvary, Christ, before His mother's very eyes, was marked with the mark of the world's greatest failure.

Oh, the inexpressible joy of those first moments as Mary looks up into the face of her divine Son—not bruised and bleeding and defiled with mud and spittle, as it had been when she looked upon it during His Passion, but shining like the sun, beautiful and glorious with a beauty not of earth and beyond the power of human tongue to say. Might not the angels crowding the little room sing out when Jesus had left at last to visit His apostles and disciples the joyous tones of the "Regina Coeli Laetare"? The time was indeed come for her to rejoice. "Rejoice, O Queen of Heaven, Rejoice, Indeed."

A Child's Easter Sunday

The "GREAT WEEK" has just closed. Sorrow marked these days for us. And now follows the great joy of Easter Sunday. Since the child's heart is more easily touched by joy than sorrow, you should know how to play your part in this happy celebration. What do you think a good child should do to celebrate Easter? Maybe you are glad Lent is over, and spring is here. Perhaps you remember that vacation follows soon after Easter. Why not think of the real meaning of Easter?

Jesus, our Saviour, arose from the death tomb on Easter Sunday. He had given the last drop of His Precious Blood for your souls. He had died on Calvary's Cross for you. Now, to prove to you and to all people of all times that He really is God, He arose, as He had promised, on the third day. As God, He gave life and every good gift to you. As God, He brought you out of nothing, drew you to the baptismal font to receive the saving waters of Baptism. He promised you Heaven, if you obey His Laws.

Now as your Saviour and Divine Friend, He suffers and dies for you, then arises from the tomb, to show He was Divine. He arose by His own power and appeared to hundreds of people. In His mystery of Love, in the Blessed Sacrament He comes to each one of you in Holy Communion. He actually visits you. Your souls are lifted out of the dangers of the world and sin, by the grace and blessings He brings you. Hence, the first thing you must do in celebration of this glorious feast of Easter, is to prepare carefully and devoutly to receive Him in Holy Communion.

Prove your love for Him, as He proved His love for you. His Sacred Heart longs for the love of you, His children. Pour it out, with all your heart, during the visit He makes with you in Holy Communion. No dearer friend could come to you for an Easter visit; the joys of spring will not bring so much happiness to your young hearts, nor will you allow your minds to run ahead to vacation time, if you just remember Who He is that comes to you, and how very, very great is His love for you. Visit your Divine Friend in the Sacrament of the altar sometime during Easter Sunday. Tell Him how you love Him.

An Easter Hymn

(Aurora Coelum Purpurat)

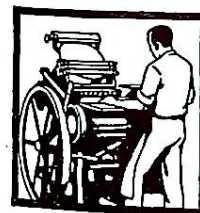

The dawn was purpling o'er the sky,
With alleluias rang the air,
This earth held glorious jubilee,
Hell gnashed its teeth in fierce despair.

When He, Whom stone and seal and guard
Had safely to the Tomb consigned,
Triumphant rose, and buried death
Deep in the grave He left behind.

O Jesus, from the death of sin,
Keep us we pray, so Thou shalt be
The everlasting Paschal Joy
Of all the souls new-born in Thee.

To God the Father, with the Son,
Who from the grave immortal rose,
And Thee, O Paraclete, be praise
While age on endless ages flows.

Fourth Century Breviary Hymn.

Our First Communion Day

Bring back, O. Lord, in memory, our First Communion Day,
Let Hands of Time roll back the years, and life's cares steal away;
Let us once more be children with no stain of sin to grieve,
Just longing deep within our souls, our God to first receive;
Since then have come the crowded years, still more may come and go,
And we may taste life's sweetest gifts, and fame and honor know;
But we shall never feel again the love, the thrill, the joy,
Thy first reception, dearest Lord, brought to each girl and boy;

As we walked to Thy altar, Lord, and said: "Come, Jesus, please,"
With love Thou watched us and didst say: "My Kingdom is of these;"
Thou still the same dear Jesus art, 'tis we who wandered far,
The boy and girl of yesteryear today Thy sinners are;
So many things have drawn from Thee our love in fullest measure.
Like children's toys we find earth's joys are only fleeting pleasure;
The world has sought to crowd Thee out, we freely heard its plea.
We turned away, we sinned, dear Lord, and sorrow brought to Thee;

Children kneel now to receive Thee, the first time, Lord, within Their hearts so pure, their souls so free from stain of any sin;
Give us, O, Lord, their innocence, our hearts in Thy Heart keep.
Within Thy Wounds place all our sins, let Love heal their scars deep;
Make of our hearts a grateful Shrine for Love which makes Thee give,
Thy Body in the Eucharist for food that we might live;
It matters not what life may hold, but this grant, Lord, we pray,
Thy Comradeship as sweet as on our First Communion Day.

Brother Stengel's Golden Jubilee

On May 19th, Brother Ferdinand Stengel will celebrate his Golden Jubilee in the Society of Jesus. On that day, to honor the occasion, a Solemn High Mass will be sung in the Church where Brother Stengel has spent so many years of fruitful service.

For more than forty years, Brother Stengel has been at the Gesu, serving as porter, sacristan and in many other offices of trust and importance. We are sure that parishioners, past and present, in large numbers will be glad to be present on this occasion to congratulate Brother Stengel, and to offer to Almighty God for him their many prayers and Holy Communion. He richly deserves this testimony to his many faithful years.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association, through the courtesy of the Philadelphia Electric Company, was entertained at the last meeting by a presentation of that famous old-time silent picture "The Covered Wagon." No better choice could have been made to convey the lesson which it has been the aim of our Association to teach. The lesson of the ability of men and women to overcome any and every kind of hardship provided they "salt" their efforts with that hardy virtue of perseverance.

This lesson was portrayed both in the picture and by the picture. The story in the picture was a true portrayal of the almost unsurmountable obstacles overcome by the early pioneers and their triumph as their HOMES emerged from the wilderness which they conquered by sheer grit.

The story told by the picture was the almost unbelievable progress which has been made in comparatively few short years in this outstanding art, the motion picture. The "Covered Wagon" which was a classic in its day appeared almost crude by comparison with today's beauty and artistry in pictures; a striking example of the results which perseverance will accomplish.

We are indebted to the Philadelphia Electric Company for having brought to our members and friends so emphatic a demonstration of our slogan—"Nothing is impossible to those who have courage." For nearly two years we have been endeavoring to convey this message and to encourage our NEIGHBORS that in spite of apparent difficulties in the way, earnest endeavor and perseverance will result in restoring this GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD to its former state of grandeur and homelife.

We have seen the pioneers of America and of the motion picture industry set out on an uncharted course and bring such success as was phenomenal. We have the benefit of past experience to help us and the example of those who have overcome similar difficulties. All we need is the COURAGE and PERSEVERANCE.

Spring is always the inspiration to dress up our homes. It is the time when that new "coat of paint" is applied and when little additions in keeping with the happy touch of spring are made. What is YOUR PLAN for this Spring. If you are a HOMEOWNER, no doubt you will apply those touches without urging. If your HOME is a rented one, it behooves YOU to make the OWNER acquainted with the fact that he has the benefit of our ASSOCIATION to encourage his efforts and to assist him with HIS problems of restoration. Urge HIM to attend our meetings and participate in the exchange of ideas.

Each month we try to bring to the meeting some outstanding authority who can bring a message of interest to our membership. We have had officials of the Housing Authority, representatives of the home finance plans, delegates from the North Philadelphia Real Estate Board, displays given by heating concerns showing the best and most economical methods of heating and many other interesting and instructive features. We URGE YOUR attendance at our next meeting and your co-operation in our work. HOMEOWNERS, AGENTS, TENANTS, all are welcome. Your earnest prayers are requested that our success will continue.

—Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association.

Holy Name Society

At the March meeting of the Gesu Holy Name Society the following were elected as officers for the year: Rev. James I. Maguire, Treasurer; James J. Dougherty, President; James D. Ramp, First Vice-President, and Edward Coogan, Second Vice-President; Jerome Curtin, Secretary. Also the following delegates were elected: John O'Rourke, John McLoughlin, Patrick McKenney, Winfield Campbell and Charles McGee.

A social evening was held on Friday, February 25th, at which about seventy-five were present. The principal speaker of the evening was Tommy Loughran, who described some of his ring experiences and his experiences in South America, he then spoke on the need of a strong Holy Name Society and emphasized the fact that every Catholic man should belong to the Holy Name Society and receive Communion with the organization every month.

Eddie Coogan our Vice-President and his string band furnished the music for the evening, the members of the band are Lucky Johnson, Al Joslin, Frank Scherer, John Walls, Paul Phillips and James Mangan. Mr. Mangan played several Irish pieces on his violin.

Margaret Coyle the organist had several children present who danced, sang and played. Buddy Nugent, baritone sang several numbers which were very well received.

The officers and men of the Holy Name Society desire to extend their sincere thanks to Tommy Loughran for giving of his valuable time and coming up to address our gathering, we also desire to thank the band, Mr. Mangan and Miss Margaret Coyle and her entertainers and Buddy Nugent. After the entertainment was over refreshments were served and all left feeling that they had spent a very enjoyable evening.

Golden Jubilee Bazaar

It is with happy memory that we recall the colorful setting and enthusiastic reception of our First Golden Jubilee Bazaar last June. It is also with the sincerest gratitude that we recall the devoted labor and generous cooperation of our parishioners that made our Bazaar and Raffle such a financial and social success.

On December 8, 1938, we hope, please God, to celebrate with becoming ceremony the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of our beloved Church. Last year's Bazaar, therefore, was really in preparation for this great event. We are now actually in Our Golden Jubilee year, and because of this meritorious circumstance, we hope with God's blessing that our actual Golden Jubilee Bazaar this year will even surpass that of last year in its grandeur and success.

Our Bazaar this year will begin on Friday night, June 17 and continue until Saturday night, June 25. There will be no Saturday matinees this year, as they were found to be too much of a strain on our workers and without hardly any financial return. The most important feature of our Bazaar this year will be that it will be run entirely under our own auspices and without any outside professional assistance.

Our annual Raffle for the Bazaar will get under way the early part of May and the grand award this year will be a beautiful automobile or $500.00 in cash. Fitting prizes, to be announced later will be given to those who solicit the most chances. All the attractive booths and carnival amusements which characterized last year's bazaar will be duplicated and we hope even vastly improved this year. Such a program should appeal to all our parishioners and call forth their most zealous efforts and cooperation. The many devoted workers of last year will again we hope lend their generous assistance as workers of experience will be absolutely indispensable as we will be running our own money booths and using our own ingenuity to make all our merchandise as attractive as possible. New workers will also be necessary, but we feel confident that under the inspiring motive of fittingly celebrating the actual fiftieth anniversary of our beloved Church that there will be no dearth of enthusiastic workers in the vineyard of the Gesu.

The organization and conduct of our actual Golden Jubilee Bazaar and Raffle will be under the joint direction of Father Duross and Father Brennan. They will be glad to receive any suggestions for the successful running of our Bazaar and will deeply appreciate any voluntary offering of services to help in the electrification of our grounds, the setting up and construction of booths, the actual supervision of booths and to carry out the thousand and one details which demand generous cheerful workers if we wish to make our Bazaar a magnificent success that will bring glory to our beloved Parish.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association, through the courtesy of the Philadelphia Electric Company, was entertained at the last meeting by a presentation of that famous old-time silent picture "The Covered Wagon." No better choice could have been made to convey the lesson which it has been the aim of our Association to teach. What is YOUR PLAN for this Spring. If you are a HOMEOWNER, no doubt you will apply those touches without urging. If your HOME is a rented one, it behooves YOU to make the OWNER acquainted with the fact that he has the benefit of our ASSOCIATION to encourage his efforts and to assist him with HIS problems of restoration. Urge HIM to attend our meetings and participate in the exchange of ideas.

Each month we try to bring to the meeting some outstanding authority who can bring a message of interest to our membership. We have had officials of the Housing Authority, representatives of the home finance plans, delegates from the North Philadelphia Real Estate Board, displays given by heating concerns showing the best and most economical methods of heating and many other interesting and instructive features. We URGE YOUR attendance at our next meeting and your co-operation in our work. HOMEOWNERS, AGENTS, TENANTS, all are welcome. Your earnest prayers are requested that our success will continue.

Holy Name Society

At the March meeting of the Gesu Holy Name Society the following were elected as officers for the year: Rev. James I. Maguire, Treasurer; James J. Dougherty, President; James D. Ramp, First Vice-President; and Edward Coogan, Second Vice-President; Jerome Curtin, Secretary. Also the following delegates were elected: John O'Rourke, John McLoughlin, Patrick McKenney, Winfield Campbell and Charles McGee.

A social evening was held on Friday, February 25th, at which about seventy-five were present. The principal speaker of the evening was Tommy Loughran, who described some of his ring experiences and his experiences in South America, he then spoke on the need of a strong Holy Name Society and emphasized the fact that every Catholic man should belong to the Holy Name Society and receive Communion with the organization every month.

Eddie Coogan our Vice-President and his string band furnished the music for the evening, the members of the band are Lucky Johnson, Al Joslin, Frank Scherer, John Walls, Paul Phillips and James Mangan. Mr. Mangan played several Irish pieces on his violin.

Margaret Coyle the organist had several children present who danced, sang and played. Buddy Nugent, baritone sang several numbers which were very well received.

The officers and men of the Holy Name Society desire to extend their sincere thanks to Tommy Loughran for giving of his valuable time and coming up to address our gathering, we also desire to thank the band, Mr. Mangan and Miss Margaret Coyle and her entertainers and Buddy Nugent. After the entertainment was over refreshments were served and all left feeling that they had spent a very enjoyable evening.

Golden Jubilee Bazaar

It is with happy memory that we recall the colorful setting and enthusiastic reception of our First Golden Jubilee Bazaar last June. It is also with the sincerest gratitude that we recall the devoted labor and generous cooperation of our parishioners that made our Bazaar and Raffle such a financial and social success.

On December 8, 1938, we hope, please God, to celebrate with becoming ceremony the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of our beloved Church. Last year's Bazaar, therefore, was really in preparation for this great event. We are now actually in Our Golden Jubilee year, and because of this meritorious circumstance, we hope with God's blessing that our actual Golden Jubilee Bazaar this year will even surpass that of last year in its grandeur and success.

Our Bazaar this year will begin on Friday night, June 17 and continue until Saturday night, June 25. There will be no Saturday matinees this year, as they were found to be too much of a strain on our workers and without hardly any financial return. The most important feature of our Bazaar this year will be that it will be run entirely under our own auspices and without any outside professional assistance.

Our annual Raffle for the Bazaar will get under way the early part of May and the grand award this year will be a beautiful automobile or $500.00 in cash. Fitting prizes, to be announced later will be given to those who solicit the most chances. All the attractive booths and carnival amusements which characterized last year's bazaar will be duplicated and we hope even vastly improved this year. Such a program should appeal to all our parishioners and call forth their most zealous efforts and cooperation. The many devoted workers of last year will again we hope lend their generous assistance as workers of experience will be absolutely indispensable as we will be running our own money booths and using our own ingenuity to make all our merchandise as attractive as possible. New workers will also be necessary, but we feel confident that under the inspiring motive of fittingly celebrating the actual fiftieth anniversary of our beloved Church that there will be no dearth of enthusiastic workers in the vineyard of the Gesu.

The organization and conduct of our actual Golden Jubilee Bazaar and Raffle will be under the joint direction of Father Duross and Father Brennan. They will be glad to receive any suggestions for the successful running of our Bazaar and will deeply appreciate any voluntary offering of services to help in the electrification of our grounds, the setting up and construction of booths, the actual supervision of booths and to carry out the thousand and one details which demand generous cheerful workers if we wish to make our Bazaar a magnificent success that will bring glory to our beloved Parish.

Feasts of the Month

ST. ROBERT BELLARMINE, S.J.—MAY 13

Archbishop, Cardinal and Doctor of the Church

Robert Francis Bellarmine was born in Montepulciano, Tuscany, on October 4, 1542. When eighteen he joined the Society of Jesus and after his philosophical and theological studies, he taught theology in Louvain and Rome, where he was the first to occupy the newly founded chair of Catholic Apologetics. In 1599 in spite of all his tears and entreaties to the contrary he was made Cardinal by Clement VIII, and in 1602 was consecrated Archbishop of Capua. Three years after the new Pope asked the saintly Cardinal to stay in Rome to assist in the general government of the Church. The last years of his life were as strenuous and as crowded as all the rest. The only holiday he loved to enjoy was a month's Retreat in the summer at the Novitiate of the Society of Jesus. And from the Novitiate, to which he was finally allowed to retire in August, 1621, he went to his reward in the following month, September 17, feast of the Stigmata of St. Francis of Assisi, to whom he was particularly devoted.

Cardinal Bellarmine was one of the greatest and most learned men of his time. His books on Catholic Apologetics proved such a powerful vindication of the Faith, that Queen Elizabeth forbade her subjects, under pain of death, to keep any of them. Benedict XIV named Bellarmine "the hammer of heretics," and Benedict XV said he was "the model of defenders of the faith." But he was a great saint as well, living a life of ceaseless labor and uninterrupted union with God.

THE ROGATION DAYS, MAY 23, 24, 25

The three days following the Fifth Sunday after Easter, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, are called Rogation Days, or days of supplication and prayer to the Lord of Heaven and Earth, that His wrath may be appeased towards the children of men. The origin of this solemnity dates as far back as the fifth century, and by St. Aritus of Vienna and St. Cesaire of Arles, is ascribed to St. Mamertus, Bishop of Vienne in Dauphiny. This holy Bishop was grieved at the sight of the great number of evils which had befallen his diocese, and proposed to his people that solemn processions be made, public prayers offered up, and fasts and other works of penance performed to stay the afflicting hand of God. The people obeyed, and the time was fixed for the three days following the fifth Sunday after Easter, and in a short time this pious solemnity was observed in all the churches of Gaul. The first council of Orleans, held in the year 511, issued a decree expressly ordering its celebration; and we can see from the writings of St. Gregory of Tours, with how much piety and fervor the faithful fulfilled this obligation under the reign of the sons of Clovis. Some time afterwards it was adopted by the church of Rome, whence it spread throughout the universal Church.

The Rogation Days were at first considered as days of obligation, on which it was not permitted to work, and all were obliged to fast. In after times, the prohibition to work was removed, and the fast is now omitted. But there can be no doubt that it is the desire of the Church that these days be passed in a spirit of penance and prayer. The Litany of the Saints is said on each of these days.

THE ASCENSION, THURSDAY, MAY 26

"While He blessed them, He departed from them, and was carried up to Heaven."—St. Luke 24, 51.

St. Luke is wonderfully brief in his narrative of the Ascension. We can only surmise in what terms the Son took leave of His fond mother. He must have had a word of cheer for every individual in the group of disciples, and His final instructions to Peter and the rest must have been full of wisdom and encouragement. Farewells taken, He makes ready to rise on the wings of His own supreme power. "Lifting up His hands, He blessed them." Therefore, He blessed them as He went. He bade their work and our work prosper. We can ask Him to renew in our favor the blessing vouchsafed the apostles, supplementing it with the spirit of detachment from earth and from earth's trifles. And we must carry this blessing of the Lord away with us, and take measures to grow in that species of divine independence which refuses to lean on creatures for content or comfort. We can reflect that our Lord and Captain Christ has broken camp on earth to fix His headquarters in Heaven. From its heights He can get a better view of the field, and distinguish with greater accuracy the movements of opposing squadrons. We are fighting under the King's eyes, and we must bear ourselves valiantly to win the King's approval.

"He departed from them, and was carried up to Heaven." His work is over, our work begins. We can pause to feast our eyes on the sight, and meditate with devotion the circumstance that our Leader is but opening for His friends among the elect a pathway to the skies. We can hope that some day and somewhere a messenger from His side will summon us home, and fit our souls with needed wings to take the same flight. "A cloud received Him out of their sight." And this is the end of the story. On a cloud, as on a car of triumph, He makes solemn entry into Heaven. For purposes of rest and encouragement we ought often to feast our eyes on the sight. Every time we lift our faces toward the sky, memory of the event ought to crowd our minds with comfort and consolation. When our hearts are bowed down, we can still raise our heads and see, or think we see, the selfsame cloud that served Jesus for Chariot on this occasion. What uncounted lessons are writ large across the broad expanse of the heavens, ready to hand for the meditative soul! St. Martin, when dying of fever, lay prone on his back, to mark the course of his soul's flight between the tossing clouds, and denied himself the small relief attaching to change of position, to enjoy without interruption the inspiring picture. St. Ignatius spent night after night on the housetop, and in full view of the stars repeatedly cried out: "How vile a thing seems the earth, when I behold the sky!"

MOTHER'S DAY, SUNDAY, MAY 8

If there is any day observed by the secular world whose spirit blends easily and naturally into the practice of Catholics, it is MOTHER'S DAY. And it seems, too, that the spontaneous observance of it SHOULD BE A RELIGIOUS ONE. It has been a part of their commonest daily devotion to honor motherhood in Our Lady, and to conceive the highest ideals of that blessed state in her holy person. The lips of Catholics have grown used to the universal prayer of the Church invoking the Mother of God: "Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners;" their most familiar aspirations of piety are the invocations from her litany: "Mother most pure," "Mother most chaste," "Mother undefiled," "Mother most amiable," "Mother most admirable;" and long before their ears had become accustomed to the ver-tiginous rhythm of the modern popular song, their happy voices had sung from hearts full of filial love tender hymns to the Mother of God.

It seems natural, therefore, that the CATHOLIC SHOULD CONSECRATE THIS DAY BY SOME FORM OF RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE. It is the custom of men of the world who recognize no particular religious significance in motherhood, to wear on this day a white carnation in honor of their mothers. Eminently more fitting, we believe, is the custom now established in many Catholic colleges, of students' sending to their mothers a spiritual bouquet of prayers and good works as a grateful tribute to her from whom they have received the first seeds of Catholic faith and the example of holy living.

To go to Holy Communion, not once but often, to visit the Blessed Sacrament, to say the round of Our Lady's Rosary, to attend the morning Mass—these are flowers as fair as the fairest of the field, and they will bloom before Christ and His Blessed Mother, and draw down favors for the mothers of our homes long after the white carnations are withered and cast into the fire. There is fast growing in many parishes the laudable custom of whole families' receiving Holy Communion on this day for the intention of the Mothers of their homes, a practice that, like mercy, blesseth him that gives and her that takes.—Ave Maria.

Thirty-eighth Annual Report

OF THE

GESU CHURCH DEBT ASSOCIATION

This Association was organized in February, 1900, by the Rev. Wm. F. Clark, S.J. It has for its object the payment of the annual interest on our heavy Church Debt, and the gradual reduction of the principal itself. The good results looked forward to are being gradually accomplished year after year.

During the year March 1, 1937, to February 28, 1938, as appears from our report, the very generous amount of $3,536.85 was contributed which is an evidence of the devotion and generosity of our people, for which we are sincerely grateful.

Our heartfelt thanks are especially due to the Solicitors, who, week after week, cheerfully go their rounds, undaunted either by the inclemency of the weather or the many other inconveniences of their self-imposed work of zeal.

We ask for our Solicitors a continuance of good will and generosity on the part of our contributors. The work is the work of God, and God, Who loves the cheerful giver, will not fail to bless and sanctify every home in which they are cordially and cheerfully received.

Gesu Church Debt Association

1. The object of this Association is to assist in paying off the debt on the Church of the Gesu.
2. The weekly dues are Five Cents, payable to the authorized Solicitors.
3. Every week two Masses will be said for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the regular contributors.
4. Deceased relatives and friends may be enrolled as members.
5. The members of the Association will also be remembered in the Masses which are said each week for our benefactors, both living and dead.
6. Mass will be said at the Altar of St. Francis Xavier every first Friday at seven o'clock for the Solicitors.
7. Anyone wishing to join this Association or to enroll deceased members of their families, write to or call at the Treasurer's Office in the Rectory.

The Divine Prisoner

There is a Prisoner Whom I know whose sentence never ends,
The only charge against Him is His burning Love for friends;
He is more lonely than if He for some crime did atone,
For those He loves forget Him as He meekly waits alone;
Ah! not alone; the wee red light tells man that God above,
Has come to earth and dwells therein, a Prisoner of rare Love;
How lonely is Thy vigil, Lord, how weary Thou must be,
Before man turns aside to spend a little while with Thee;

If man but knew, or realized, that, past Thy prison door,
There dwells the same dear Jesus Whom Thy Mother Mary bore;
The loving Friend Who healed the sick, the poor and hungry fed,
Who pardoned sinners, gave them hope and brought life to the dead;
The patient Christ, Who bore the Cross, the thorns, the nails, the pain,
Who gave His Life on Calvary's Mount so man might live again;
If our poor minds could dimly grasp that God lives in that Cell,
The same as He in heaven with His Saints and Angels dwell;

If we could strike the film that hangs before our mortal eyes,
There, in Thy glory radiant, our God we'd recognize;
For in that tiny wafer there, so pure, so snowy white,
Art Thou, O Jesus, God and Man, veiled from our earthly sight;
Our weary bodies we would drag each footstep of the way,
And fall in sorrow at Thy Feet, and through our tears would say:
"O, Eucharistic Christ, take Thou this wayward heart of mine,
And in Thine Own dear Heart enclose, and make it wholly Thine;"

Would man but knew how precious are these Tabernacle hours,
How garlands sweet they weave for him of heaven's choicest flowers;
When we are weary of the world, and hearts sad and oppressed,
His Cry breaks through the gloom and pleads: "Come unto Me and rest;
Come spend an hour with Thy God, I am so lonely here,
I do not make this plea as God, but as Thy Friend most dear;
Thou givest time to all the rest, thy friends, thy work, thy play,
'Tis I alone thou dost forget in life's swift whirl each day;"

O, Jesus, make my love a light, my heart a lamp to cheer,
Thy lonely Heart so Thou wilt know Thy child and friend is near;
Take me within Thy loving Arms, my head lay on Thy Breast,
So I may know how sweet it is to come to Thee for rest;
And let me know the comfort, Lord, which only Thou canst give,
As near Thy Tabernacle Cell I fain would ever live;
Oh, may the light that burns for Thee be but a little part,
Of burning love that ever glows for Thee within my heart.

Gesu Holy Name Society

At the last meeting of the Holy Name Society of the parish the parish was divided into districts and certain men were picked out to be leaders, or captains, in these districts. There are still several vacancies to be filled. The duties of the captains will be to call on all the men and boys over sixteen in their district and attempt to persuade them to attend Holy Name meetings and especially to attend the Holy Name Mass and Communion on the second Sunday of the month at 7.30. In this manner it was believed that the membership of the Society would be increased and invigorated. There is great need of real hard work to enlighten our men on their duties towards this great Society. The following men were selected:

Mr. Leo A. Glasser	Mr. Francis Scherer	Mr. Bernard Callahan
Mr. Thomas Malloy	Mr. William Welch	Mr. James Donnelly
Mr. Edward P. Coogan	Mr. Alfred Joslin	Mr. Patrick McKenney
Mr. John McLoughlin	Mr. John Burtchall	Mr. Lawrence Finnegan
Mr. Thomas Holmes	Mr. John O'Rourke	Mr. William Ford
Mr. James D. Ramp	Mr. Hugh Mangan	Mr. Walter Lawler
Mr. Harry J. Fox	Mr. Jerome Curtin

It was also suggested that the Society hold an outing for the members and their families. Mr. James D. Ramp suggested that the affair be held at the Knights of Columbus Country Club at Eddington on the Delaware. Mr. Patrick McKenney suggested Cornwalls where there is a beautiful grove for such affairs. Mr. Thomas Malloy and Mr. John O'Rourke believed that we should reserve space on the Wilson Line and go down the river to Riverview or Pennington, N. J. Mr. Jerome Curtin our Secretary, and Mr. Bernard O'Mullan thought we should go to Atlantic City for the day. Willow Grove was also suggested. No definite action was taken and the decision was postponed till the next meeting.

It is hoped that the above named Captains, and others to be selected, will be favorably received when they call at the various homes in the parish, and that there will be a large increase in attendance at the next Holy Name meeting and especially at the next Holy Communion.

Good Neighborhood News for Good Neighbors

What makes a GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD? The kindly spirit of GOOD NEIGHBORS! That is the most essential qualification. Accompanying this kindly spirit is a willingness to co-operate in NEIGHBORHOOD problems; the desire to contribute one's share to the preservation of conditions which prevail in GOOD NEIGHBORHOODS; and last, but not least, the means of UNITING in a common effort to promote the common good.

This is a NEIGHBORHOOD of homes—mostly in fact of whole family homes—homes where youthful parents a generation or more ago established themselves and reared their families with the intention that the old homestead would go on from one generation to another. And so, in many cases, it has.

That is why there is today a GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION—because the owners of those homesteads refuse to see the hand of time and the advance of progress leave unfavorable marks on the neighborhood which offers advantages today just as desirable as were the advantages of a generation ago.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATION? The requirements are simple:

First: Your interest in the preservation of the NEIGHBORHOOD.

Second: Your willingness to co-operate by making and keeping your own home in a desirable condition.

Third—Your attendance at meetings where you may make known items of interest which occur in your own neighborhood and where complaints of unsatisfactory conditions may be made known to the proper authorities and taken care of in the proper manner.

Fourth: Your financial support to the extent of $1.00 per year—a mere evidence of your good will and desire to promote the work.

In the near future a discussion of Federal Credit Unions will be held at our regular meeting, where information as to the method of financing the salvaging of homes through Federal Credit will be explained and where investors who are interested in this type of investment may be contacted. Homes in this vicinity today are being purchased for a mere fraction of their former cost and those wide awake NEIGHBORS who are in position to take the opportunities that present themselves will be the reapers of a big harvest in the future.

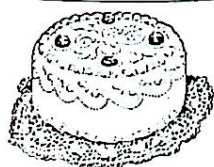

The work which has been accomplished in the parish and neighborhood through the inspiration of the Association is an encouragement to future effort and we feel that the next few months will add many more properties to the list of those which have been improved.

WE URGE YOU to lend your support to this very worthy parish activity and help in the restoration of the GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

The Grand Raffle

It was announced in the last edition of the Parish Monthly Calendar that the prize for this year's Grand Raffle for the Bazaar would be an automobile. However, a change of plan has been made, for in talking and consulting with a great number of the parishioners, we found that all were of the opinion that it would be better to run the Raffle as it was run last year. That is to say that instead of offering one grand prize, an automobile or five hundred dollars, it would be better to divide the prize up into eight smaller prizes; thus giving everyone who takes a ticket eight chances of winning instead of one. This then we shall do. On Friday evening, June 17, the day the Bazaar opens, fifty dollars will be given away. On Saturday, June 18, one hundred dollars; and so on as indicated on the Raffle tickets.

Also in connection with the Raffle there will be a popularity contest. The boy who receives the most number of votes will receive fifty dollars as a popularity award. The most popular girl will receive a like amount. So do not fail to mark in the name of the boy or girl whom you wish to receive this prize. Obviously if you pick your candidate early, and muster all your friends and relatives to your aid, and send your votes in as soon as possible, your choice will have a very fine chance of winning.

As has already been said, this year we are employing no professional outside help in running our Bazaar and Raffle. Every cent we make goes to our beloved Gesu Church, for upkeep and to make it a more and more fitting dwelling place for our Eucharistic King.

You have all by this time received two Raffle books. If you have been overlooked try to excuse us, for in such a big parish, there are sure to be some mistakes when trying to reach everyone. There are twenty-four tickets in each book. Ten cents is the donation for each ticket; two dollars is the donation for each book, so here is a chance for the wide awake boy or girl to make a little spending money.

Returns are to be made at the Rectory door, where extra books may be obtained. More books may also be obtained from your Church Debt Collector, who will likewise make returns for you, if you wish.

Please God we will make this Raffle a great success. But we can only do this if everyone of us is willing to work hard by going out with our books to all our friends and relatives and to those with whom we work and with whom we play. Surely the end in view, the further improvement of Our Church building, is worthy of much hard work, especially in this our Golden Jubilee Year.

Vestments Needed for the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass

In the Church Bulletin for April we made an appeal for vestments for the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. We are in need of vestments. You who have been attending Masses during the week in the Church of the Gesu are fully acquainted with the number of Masses said each morning in our Church—you are fully aware of the number of sets of vestments required in our Church to supply the number of Fathers who each morning offer up the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Some mornings at the 6.30 as many as nine Masses are being said at that time—the same number sometimes at 7 o'clock. Vestments are needed for this sublime service.

Through the thoughtful suggestion of some Parishioners we made a sincere and earnest appeal for vestments. We suggested that this being the Jubilee of our Church it would be a very fitting thing to donate a vestment in memory of some loved member of the family or for the family in general. We suggested that a little marker be placed in the vestment asking the Priest using the vestment for Mass to remember that loved one or that family in his Mass that day. A beautiful idea! Surely you could not make a better investment! Certainly whatever sacrifice you would make for the donation of a vestment would have its ample reward. Up to the present some of our Parishioners have very generously given the assistance we asked for—the number of donors must be greatly increased if we hope to answer the needed supply—Perhaps you have intended to make such a donation—you have just slipped up on the remembrance of it—you are grateful to us for reminding you about it—we shall be grateful for your loyal and generous support.

A Golden Investment

It is true that the Catholic priesthood presents few attractions to the worldly-minded. It is not a "career," as the world understands a career. There are no opportunities of accumulating a fortune, or of cutting a figure in social circles. Besides the canonical restrictions of his state of life, a Catholic priest must be prepared for continual hardships and sacrifices, if he is to be worthy of his cloth. But the glory of the priesthood, on its spiritual side, ought to outweigh all temporal considerations and to stir the noblest ambitions in the breast of a Catholic father and mother. They should be proud to offer for ministry at the altar the flower of their little flock—the dearest, the brightest, the best of their boys; and those who, while possessing the means, are, for one reason or another, deprived of the privilege of dedicating a son to God, could hardly find a better investment than the adoption of a promising candidate, destined, in due time, to repay his benefactor, in life and death, by constant loving remembrance at the Altar of Sacrifice.—Bishop Keating.

"The Priest"

Honor the Priest. Who received your soul as it entered on its spiritual life by Baptism? The Priest. Who nourished it and gave it strength on its pilgrimage? The Priest, always the Priest. Who will prepare it to go before God? The Priest. And if the soul should die by sin, who will call it back to life and give it rest and peace? Again the Priest. Can you remember a single gift from God without seeing by its side a Priest? Of what use would be a house of gold, if you had no one to open the door for you? The Priest has the key of the treasures of Heaven. He opens the door, he distributes the gifts of God. If you went to confession to the Blessed Virgin or to an angel, could they absolve you? No. Could they give you the Body and the Blood of Christ? No. The Blessed Virgin could not call her Divine Son down into the Host, and were a thousand angels to exert their power, they could not absolve you from one venial sin. But a priest, no matter how humble he be, can do these. He can say to you, "Go, your sins are forgiven you." Therefore, honor the Priest; pray for the Priest.—Cure d'Ars.

Christs of the World

O, Priest of God, no human tongue can even faintly tell
The power God hath given thee, whom He doth love so well;
In youthful years He spoke to thee: "My Son give Me thy heart;"
His Plea was heard, thou left the world, to dwell with God apart;
From out all men, He chose thee do the work His Life began,
To give thy all, as He had done, to save the soul of man;
He made the world, the sky, the seas, the beauties of all lands,
But these are naught beside the power God places in thy hands;

Thy voice is heard where once He spoke, His Gospel thou doth preach,
Thou tellest men of God and beg them strive His Home to reach;
He leaves His Home at thy command, to dwell with men on earth,
For in the Mass, Love's Miracle, is Jesus given birth;
When souls return, sin-laden, crushed, God's Pardon to entreat,
The Blood of Christ flows from thy hands on sinners at thy feet;
To tongues of men thy fingers bring the Sacred Host to rest,
Wherein dwells Christ, our God, Who comes into our hearts as Guest;

When death is near and dying souls await the journey's end,
Thou bringest Christ to comfort them, to be their Hope, their Friend;
We bring our dead to rest before God's altar ere we lay
Them in the grave: thou sayest Mass and for their soul doth pray;
What joy is thine to work for souls for whom thy Jesus died,
What happiness awaits thee when He calls thee to His Side;
O, Priest of God, keep thy heart pure; thy hands keep ever clean,
For in those hands there rests each day, Christ Jesus, God unseen.

Feasts of the Month

PENTECOST SUNDAY—JUNE 5

With this great festival the ecclesiastical year reaches its climax. At Easter we celebrated the glorious Resurrection; June 5—we keep the festival of Pentecost, which is the crown and perfection of the work of redemption. Christ arose from the dead. He ascended to heaven to receive His reward, and today He completes the work He came to do by sending the Holy Ghost to His Apostles and to His Church.

In truth, the festival of the Christian Pentecost is the Birthday of the Church. On this day it received its life and inward strength; this life and soul, the very Spirit of God, prompted St. Peter to preach to those Jews whom he feared only a few hours before, this Holy Spirit strengthened the Apostles and heroic martyrs of the early Church so that they willingly gave their life's blood for the love of Christ; this Holy Spirit has extended the Church to all lands, to the mission lands of the East and West, and the Church to all lands, to the mission lands of the East and West, and that today it stands for the same eternal principles of truth and purity and sinlessness, the same principles and truths which it received from its Founder, Christ, our Lord. This Holy Spirit will be with the Church, will be its life and soul, even to the end of time, when legions of faithful souls will be gathered around the King of kings to enter into the joys of eternal life.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, June 8, 10 and 11 are Ember Days and are days of fast and abstinence.

Sunday, June 12, Trinity Sunday—The close of the Paschal Season, with-in which period every Catholic is obliged, under penalty of serious sin, to receive Holy Communion. Those who have not yet made their Easter Duty must do so now. Trinity Sunday marks the limit of time prescribed by the Church. The names of invalids and old people who cannot leave the house should be left at the Rectory.

Thursday, June 16, Feast of Corpus Christi—This is a day of special devotion—the feast of the Blessed Sacrament. All should try to receive Holy Communion on this day.

Friday, June 24, Feast of the Sacred Heart—Our Holy Father grants to all the faithful who, with devout and contrite heart, honor the Sacred Heart during the month of June, publicly or privately, and pray for the Pope's intention, an indulgence of seven years and seven quarantines; and the winters he passed in country missions, traveling from place to place in indulgence is granted. Indulgence is applicable to the Souls in Purgatory.

CORPUS CHRISTI—JUNE 16

The feast of Corpus Christi was not established until the middle of the thirteenth century, yet it at once took its place with the four great solemnities of the Christian year. In the case of this feast, as in that of the devotion to the Sacred Heart, God was pleased to make use for its institution of what might seem to men to be but a feeble instrument. As our Lord chose St. Margaret Mary to spread and promote the devotion to His adorable Heart, and to secure the institution of a feast in its honor, so in His providence the Solemnity of Corpus Christi was to owe its establishment chiefly to the courage and the piety of another lowly and persecuted nun.

St. Juliana of Cornillon, near Liege, was the saintly virgin whom our Lord first inspired with the idea of a special festival, the direct purpose of which should be to honor the institution of the Blessed Sacrament. Her whole life had been a life of prayer and penance, and the Blessed Sacrament of the Altar had always been the object of her special devotion. In her meditations, as well as in her sleep, she often beheld a vision, the meaning of which she strove in vain to fathom. The moon appeared to her, all bathed in light, yet lacking completeness. Something was wanting to round out its orb. As she begged her Divine Spouse to explain to her the meaning of the vision, He gave her to understand that the moon represented His Church, while the rent in the planet's circumference indicated that there was yet wanting a feast which He desired the faithful to celebrate, and which was to be especially consecrated to the memory of the institution of the Blessed Sacrament.

It was not until some six years after the death of Juliana that Pope Urban VI established the Solemnity of Corpus Christi and its observance did not become general until half a century later. In the Bull of institution the Pope exhorts all the faithful by their extraordinary devotion on this day to confound, if possible, the perfidy of heretics and to repair and make amends for former tepidity in assisting at Mass, as also in the reception of Holy Communion.

The festival is no longer a holy day of obligation in our country. But it should always be a day of special devotion. The faithful should strive by every means in their power to keep alive in their hearts the fire of devotion and of love for our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament of the Altar.

FEAST OF THE SACRED HEART—JUNE 24

The Friday following the Octave day of the great Festival of the Blessed Eucharist, Corpus Christi day, is set apart in the liturgical services of the Church as the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. It is one of the great observances in the devotional life of our Catholic people that has grown into universal practice during the past few generations. From the earliest days of Christianity there has always been in the Church a devotion to the love of God Who so loved the world as to give us His only Son, and to the love of Jesus Who so loved us as to deliver Himself up to death for us. But it was only after the lapse of many centuries that love and veneration for the Sacred Person of the Redeemer became centered, as it were, or specially directed toward the Sacred Heart as the special seat of His divine Love.

This was a perfectly natural and reasonable development of earlier religious practice, as the heart was universally regarded as the noblest organ of human nature, the seat of the emotional and moral life, and the natural symbol of love. Thus it was inevitable that devotion to the Sacred Humanity should find its center in the Sacred Heart of Jesus—the real living heart of the Redeemer which loved and suffered so much for men.

But it was through the seemingly feeble agency of a humble Visitation nun in a little village convent of Seventeenth Century France, and her Jesuit confessor that the devotion to the Sacred Heart as we know it today was, in the designs of Providence, made known to the modern world. The life story of this chosen soul whom the Catholic world now calls Saint Margaret Mary, and the wonderful revelations from Heaven which she received in her quiet convent home, are known to all men as the starting point in the history of the present world-wide devotion to the Sacred Heart. Yet it was fully ninety years after the date of these extraordinary revelations through which the designs of Heaven in regard to this devotion were made known, that the ecclesiastical authorities at Rome gave due authorization to the Feast of the Sacred Heart, which is now of world-wide observance.

FEAST OF ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST—JUNE 25

It seems to be the thing nowadays to have favorites—your favorite flower, favorite cigarette, favorite author, favorite, etc. Well, St. John the Baptist is my favorite Saint, my real hero, and I get a real thrill every time I come into contact with him, however that may be. Take the way he told Herod what a crime he was committing when he married his brother's wife. No fear at all; just calm and quiet. In fact, it speaks mighty well for St. John that it was Herod who did the fearing. But it speaks much more for him that Herod had a great deal of respect for our hero, shown by the reluctance with which he cut off his head. St. John was big. In fact, he was made big by God on account of the job he had to do; for the job was big, and he did it in a big way. I get a thrill out of the way he sent his disciples to Christ so that they might find out who He was and believe in Him; and the way he pointed Him out to Andrew and John the Evangelist, that they might follow Him; and the way that he pointed out Christ to those who were listening to him on the banks of the Jordan; and then when he baptized Christ. And when you think of his birth. Born of a mother who was barren all her life, born now in old age, born according to the prophecy of an angel who stamped the genuineness of its revelation by striking Zachary dumb so that men should know that this child was in all truth a child of God, born confirmed in grace to be worthy of his great vocation or rather destination as the Precursor of the Lord. Why, the story of St. John fills you with a greater faith in Christ, a greater love of Christ, a greater reverence for Christ, a greater enthusiasm for Christ, giving color and strength to the part you are to play in this life, by reason of the inheritance you received in your baptism.

ST. ALOYSIUS—JUNE 27

St. Aloysius was born March 9, 1568, in Castiglione, of which place his father was Marquis. From his earliest years he was a model of angelic purity, and this even amid the temptations of the Spanish Court, where he served as page to the queen. On November 25, 1585, after overcoming a long opposition on the part of his father, he entered the Jesuit Novitiate. In religion his life was one of strictest fidelity to rule, humility, prayer and constant mortification, checked only by obedience. Innocence and penance were St. Aloysius' characteristic virtues, and he is held up to imitation as the Patron of Youth.

The Great Novena for the Feast of the Sacred Heart

"There has stood One in your midst Whom you knew not."

This reproach cannot in truth be directed towards the Catholic Church and our Catholic people. On the contrary, it is our interest and enthusiastic devotion to Christ that has angered the Modernists and the arm-chair infidels of the day. Accordingly, Holy Mother the Church has dedicated the entire month of June to the Sacred Heart, a devotion dear to every Catholic.

The Novena to the Sacred Heart should be the best attended of any Novena during the year. And with good reason too. For should not our devotion to the Sacred Heart be our greatest devotion. Sad to say the Novena to the Sacred Heart is not attended with the great numbers the other Novenas during the year are attended. Why is that? Do we realize that the Sacred Heart of Jesus is the fountain and source of all graces. Do we realize the wonderful promises of the Sacred Heart? Behold the Heart which has loved so much that It has left nothing undone to show Its love and yet from the greater part of men It receives only coldness and ingratitude.

This year the Feast of the Sacred Heart will be celebrated on Friday, June 24. A Novena in honor of the Sacred Heart will begin in the Gesu Church on Thursday, June 16. There will be two services one at 4 P. M. and another at 8 P. M. both preached by Father James Murphy, S.J.

There is no reason why our church should not be filled with members from each family in the parish to make this Novena in honor of the Sacred Heart. Every family in our parish should be consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Every one should make every effort to make this Novena learn more about the great Loving Heart of Jesus Christ and to increase his or her own personal love for Jesus Christ. Remember the Promises of the Sacred Heart. Only in Heaven will the innumerable and wonderful favors be known that have been granted to lovers of the Sacred Heart and are daily granted throughout the Catholic Church.

League of the Sacred Heart—Apostleship of Prayer

This is a world-wide association.—world-wide,—there are over 30,000,000 members scattered over the whole world. Their one object to honor the Sacred Heart of Jesus. All are Catholics—all have that one wish and have had their names inscribed in some local division of this grand army. What is their work? To offer each morning all their daily actions to the Sacred Heart. They make their morning offering and then each one in his separate sphere goes about his ordinary work, but it is all for the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Here you have work, action turned into prayer, honoring, working for the Sacred Heart and the intentions of all the 30,000,000 members and laying up merit in heaven.

For the twenty-four hours of the day there is no cessation of these million prayers of action—ascending to the Sacred Heart and pleading for our needs.

The morning offering division are the rear guard of this great army; the next division do more: they say daily one Our Father and ten Hail Marys for the same end, and the front guard are those who come closer to the Sacred Heart and receive Holy Communion, once a month, or weekly or daily.

Every Catholic should be a member of this grand League. It is so easy and it makes our lives holy—because our daily work that would have been but an indifferent or natural action, now assumes a different aspect—it is done for God, honors God, brings down favor and blessing from the Sacred Heart.

During the Novena, Promoters of the League will present invitations to all to join in this grand army of lovers of the Sacred Heart.

A Radio Message

For about 1900 years I have been speaking to people from My throne in Heaven and from My throne in the tabernacle. Each heart has a radio in it and all you need to do in order to hear Me is to turn the radio dial to J-E-S-U-S and you will hear Me say: "My son, give Me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe My ways." I bought it at a great cost on the cross and your heart belongs to me. I loaned it to you, hoping that when you knew how I came and lived and died on the cross for you, you would love Me and would let Me have your heart and yourself to keep safely, now and through eternity. Ask any one who has given his heart to Me and you will be told how easy it will be. Dial at once! I will be waiting and hoping and longing to tell you about My great love for you and I will gladly accept your heart and life and love and I will keep them safely forever.

Discouragement

Discouragement is known to all, it comes to every heart,
It steals from us our peace of mind, makes hope and joy depart;
It chases sunshine from our lives, it kills ambition too,
And leaves a trail of saddened hearts that happiness once knew;
These trials are little Shadows from an Olive Garden where
A Christ lies crushed because He chose the sins of men to bear;
He lived and labored for men's sake, He healed the lame and blind,
He cured the sick and raised the dead, and to all men was kind;

Yet now He sees these men approach, to lay on Him rough hands,
And Judas, Friend, Apostle, too, leads now that motley band;
And "Crucify Him; Give Him Death," are cries which reach His Ears,
No kindly eye is raised to His, no friendly voice He hears;
The three friends whom He thought that night would with Him company keep,
He finds unmindful of His Grief, for while He prays, they sleep;
He hears Himself three times denied by Peter, Chosen One,
To head His Church and take His place when His Life's work was done;

His Father's Face is turned from Him, men's sins pass in review,
The Christ Divine beholds each one, the human Jesus too;
O, Man of Sorrows, Lonely Christ, discouraged and heartsore,
Before Thou goest forth to die, make me, Christ, love Thee more;
Beside Thy prostrate Form from which the Blood and Sweat doth flow,
Let me draw near so Thy poor Heart a Comforter shall know;
When I too know discouragement, when men shall prove unkind,
Beside Thee in Gethsemane, let me Thy comfort find.

—William F. Sheridan.

May their souls and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

Good News

The Gesu Mission Club of the Married Women's Sodality at the closing of its first series gave to Rev. Father Dawson, S.J., $100 for the Philippine Missions.

This club under the good management of Mrs. Alminde and her assistants, Mrs. Foley, Mrs. Kraft and Mrs. Carrol, with the cooperation of the Sodality deserve our sincere thanks.

A new series is now starting which will end by Christmas of this year.

Any one, whether a Sodalist or not, can join. Beside helping financially the Missions, all members are assured of splendid value in the merchandise received at the end of the series.

We are anxious to double our amount for next year. Help us do it.

The Girl Scout Troop of the Gesu

In the Church of the Gesu on Thursday, May 19th, a Solemn High Mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock in honor of the Golden Jubilee, as a member of the Society of Jesus, of Brother Ferdinand J. Stengel, the Director of our Girl Scout Troop.

Besides many relatives and friends of our Jubilarian, the sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the boys and girls and their teaching Sisters and a number of Girl Scouts attended the Solemn High Mass. The regular choir of the Gesu, under the direction of Miss Margaret M. Coyle, rendered the music. The school children joined in the singing of the last hymn.

At the Solemn High Mass the following Reverend Clergy officiated: Celebrant, Rev. Aug. B. Caine; Deacon, Rev. Aloysius Scherf; Subdeacon, Rev. Charles J. Melchior, O.S.A., and Master of Ceremonies, Rev. James A. McCarl, S.J. The Rev. Rector of the Gesu, Very Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S.J., preached the sermon. In his sermon, he described the religious career of our Jubilarian during the past fifty years.

The Rev. Celebrant is a first cousin and the Rev. Subdeacon a second cousin of our Jubilarian. The Rev. Deacon is the Rector of the Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament in his native town, Bally, Pa.

A number of Jesuit Fathers and Brothers and many acolytes were present in the sanctuary.

In the afternoon, Rev. Joseph A. Fortescue, S.J., secured from two of his friends two touring cars and a chauffeur for each and gave the Brothers and the visiting Brothers a tour through the country to see the beautiful scenes of blossom time. After their return they attended a dinner in the dining room of the rectory.

In the evening of the following day a surprise reception was arranged for our Jubilarian by Miss Agnes M. Sweeney, Captain of our Girl Scouts. The Scout Troop and its Captain of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Germantown, and other guests were invited. Entertainments were given and refreshments served.

The following Girl Scouts graduated from the eighth grade in the parish school: Rose L. Corbin, Theresa V. Dougherty, Agnes G. Glenney, Grace F. Heisinger, Theresa Heron, Regina R. Kane, Rebecca L. McConnell, Helen C. Murphy and Anne O'Leary.

Rose L. Corbin attained the highest general average in the graduating class which was 95 per cent.

The graduating class was educated and excellently trained by its very learned and experienced teacher, Sister Rita Angela, S.N.D., who is exceedingly esteemed and loved not only by the members of the present class but also by the members of her former classes.

Edna M. Green,
Girl Scout Scribe.

For the Altar of God

In the last two issues of our Bulletin we have been making an appeal for donations for vestments for the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. We renew our appeal here to our parishioners and friends who may wish to have their dear departed loved ones remembered at the altar each morning in holy Mass. One generous donor in presenting the donation remarked, "It could be spent in no better way than in purchasing the precious clothing for the 'Alter Christus' for the offering of the sacrifice most dear to our hearts." Up to date some large contributions have raised our fund but the number donating is comparatively small in comparison with the number in our parish. Remember the number of Fathers attached to the Church—we need at least 12 sets of vestments of the six colors used for the various feasts of the Church. That means at least 72 sets of vestments for Solemn High Masses. From our present Church Funds we cannot do this for that Fund has little or nothing in it. We feel sure that you will generously come to our assistance. REMEMBER THE NOBLE PURPOSE. Perhaps you have intended to make such a donation—you have slipped up on the remembrance of it—you are grateful to us for reminding you about it—we shall be grateful to you for your loyal and generous support.

Holy Name Notes

All who attended the last meeting of the Holy Name Society, June 9, were well repaid for their sacrifices, for Mr. Sydney Flood from the Diocesan Executive Board of the Diocesan Holy Name Union gave a very instructive and interesting talk on the plans that are now being developed by a committee of the various Catholic organizations of the Diocese for Catholic Action. This plan for Catholic activities will be published soon, and all those who wish to co-operate will be assigned to various tasks where their talents will be used to best advantage for God and country. The members present seemed to be very much interested, and enthusiastic over the prospect of being able to fight under intelligent leadership against the agents of hell who are threatening the existence of God's Kingdom and civilization as we know it.

The discussions that followed were an indication of the thoughts that were uppermost in the minds of our good Holy Name men. We can safely say that when the time comes for action that the Gesu Holy Name Society will take a prominent place in the movement.

It was the sense of the meeting that special efforts must be made to bring every man in the parish into the ranks of the Holy Name Society. The visitor showed how they built up the Society in his parish from about one hundred communicants in his parish two years ago to one thousand four hundred last month. The members felt that it was possible to put life into the Holy Name Society of our own parish.

The Rev. Director was appointed to select a site for the excursion and make all arrangements necessary. Accordingly Father Maguire interviewed the officials of the Wilson Line about an excursion to Riverview Beach at Pennsville, N. J. It was arranged that Father Maguire and the President, Mr. James Dougherty, should visit the picnic groves and see for themselves what manner of place the company was advertising. They decided then that a better place could not be found for the purpose. It has every thing that could be desired for an outing of this kind. The committee in charge decided that August 7, the first Sunday of August, would be the best day for this great event. From present indications it will be a mile post in the history of the old Gesu Parish, an event worth remembering.

The ride down the beautiful Delaware on the Wilson Line steamer, "State of Pennsylvania," will be most enjoyable. The steamer will leave the Wilson Line Pier at the foot of Chestnut Street at 9.15 A. M. and arrive at Riverview Beach about 11.45 A. M. The return trip will be at 5 P. M. thus giving about five hours in the beautiful groves at Pennsville, where will be found amusements for young and old. Tables will be reserved where the families may dine as comfortably as if they were in their own homes. There is a well equipped restaurant on the grounds and also a cafeteria where food and drink may be purchased at moderate cost.

Tickets will soon be in circulation. Purchase yours as soon as possible. The trip will be made regardless of the weather. The tickets may be procured from the Captains, the members of the committee, or at the Rectory. Remember the date, August 7, 1938, and the price for the day's outing, SIXTY CENTS, you need not spend any MORE. Children 5-12 half price—30 cents.

What Has Been Done By the Gesu Improvement Association

If you are not a member of the GESU PARISH AND IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION you have probably asked that question and perhaps you have not had an answer. We are proud to claim the following list of accomplishments which we feel certain are beneficial to YOU to YOUR NEIGHBOR TO YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD.

Eighteenth Street and Girard Avenue: The renewal of the lease by the State on this corner was brought about by the Association when the decision to transfer the business elsewhere had been made. Occupation of this building means a source of income which is beneficial to the unfortunate victims of the bank closing and termination of the lease would have left the building idle or subject to rental for purposes which may have been detrimental to the welfare of the NEIGHBORHOOD.

Eighteenth and Ridge Avenue: Have you noticed the property standing vacant at the corner for so long a period. EXCEPT FOR THE ACTIVITY of the Association backed by the business men in the vicinity that site would long ago have been the scene of disorder, and disturbance of the peace such as exists in the neighborhood of Fifteenth and Ridge Avenue—a blight on the whole NEIGHBORHOOD.

Traffic Control: Have you seen the improvements in traffic control in the neighborhood; at Eighteenth and Stiles, Nineteenth and Girard Avenue, Seventeenth and Ridge Avenue at Wylie Streets (where such tragic accidents have occurred formerly) Fifteenth and Oxford Streets and other intersections where life and limb were endangered before the ASSOCIATION made its demands for better protection for the NEIGHBORS in the vicinity whose taxes entitle them to a fair share of protection.

PROPERTY IMPROVEMENTS: Scarcely a street in the NEIGHBORHOOD does not show some sign of improvement during the past two years since the organization has been functioning. GOOD NEIGHBORS who had lost courage to spend time or money for property repairs have been encouraged to do so by watching the slow but sure steps towards NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT which have come about through your association.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE: Previous to the forming of the GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION, the trend had been "out of the parish" often against the wishes of those NEIGHBORS who had made their home here for years, but who fearing the continual depreciation of the NEIGHBORHOOD felt impelled to rescue what they could and transplant their homes to other and more desirable localities. Many of our old parishioners are still hankering for the contacts and friendships they enjoyed during the "old days" in the Gesu Parish and which were broken only through fear of property loss here.

VACANCIES: Every available property in the parish which is in fit condition for tenants has been rented during the past few months. Residents have lost their fear of conditions and are UNITING IN THEIR EFFORTS TO RESTORE instead of DEPRECIATE the old neighborhood. Therefore, we are concentrating our efforts now on persuading OWNERS of unoccupied properties to take courage from the results already accomplished and make their properties clean and comfortable for tenants who are desirable. A waiting list of prospective tenants assures such OWNERS of a return on their investment as soon as such necessary repairs to properties have been made. IS THERE A VACANT HOUSE NEAR YOUR HOME? If so, will you lend us your aid to the extent of advising us—THE ADDRESS OF THE PROPERTY—THE OWNER'S OR AGENT'S NAME—THE SIZE OF THE PROPERTY AND ITS PROBABLE CONDITION—WHETHER IT IS FOR SALE OR FOR RENT—IN FACT—give us the FACTS that will enable us to make the necessary contact to start the wheels of progress rolling in YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD.

WE NEED YOUR CO-OPERATION—and we feel justified in asking for it since we have such real results to point out from the limited amount of effort so far expended.

IF YOU ARE AN OWNER—you have a real investment to protect!

IF YOU ARE AN AGENT—your earnings depend on OCCUPIED PROPERTIES!

IF YOU ARE A TENANT—your health and your family's health depend on sanitary comfortable home conditions!

IF YOU ARE IN BUSINESS—your business depends on keeping the NEIGHBORHOOD HOMES occupied and your influence will carry weight with agents and owners who are responsible for vacancies!

IN A WORD—THIS ASSOCIATION is YOUR ASSOCIATION and its success or failure will be YOUR success or failure in a corresponding degree. Therefore, we URGE you to put your shoulder to the wheel and help to PRESERVE THE NEIGHBORHOOD by JOINING THE GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

Our ASSOCIATION is affiliated with the North Philadelphia Realty Board and has been highly commended for the initiative and courage which characterized its formation. City officials in the TRAFFIC BUREAU, BUREAU OF HEALTH and SANITATION, etc., have co-operated with the ASSOCIATION in eliminating danger and hazard at crossings—in protection of health through cleaning up neglected lots and demolishing properties which were beyond repair.

A study in FEDERAL CREDIT UNION will be started within the next few weeks with a view to creating an aid to property owners in making repairs which are being neglected for lack of funds. Many things can be done for the general betterment of the ENTIRE NEIGHBORHOOD—BUT it is essential that those NEIGHBORS and BUSINESS MEN who comprise the NEIGHBORHOOD and who will benefit through its preservation co-operate with the ASSOCIATION.

YOU KNOW THE PROBLEMS OF YOUR PARTICULAR NEIGHBORHOOD—BRING THEM TO US AT THE REGULAR SEMI-MONTHLY MEETINGS AND by the exchange of ideas and discussion of ways and means our progress will be hastened.

MEETINGS SECOND AND FOURTH WEDNESDAY OF THE MONTH IN THE SCHOOL HALL.

REMEMBER—IT IS YOUR ASSOCIATION—YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD—YOUR SUCCESS.

GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

Feasts of the Month

FEAST OF THE PRECIOUS BLOOD—JULY 1

Each month of the year commemorates some particular mystery or devotion of our holy religion. July is the month of the Precious Blood. And July 1st is the day set aside for the Feast of the Most Precious Blood. It stresses the price of our redemption. When we estimate in life and treasure the cost of what peace our late Great War brought us, we learn that so many millions of men were killed or wounded and so many billions of dollars were spent in carrying on operations or lost in property destroyed. Would we evaluate the cost of the Greatest War waged by Christ our Lord for the conquest of the human soul, of my soul and your soul and all our souls, we would find that, in the words of St. Peter, "you were not redeemed with corruptible things as gold or silver . . . but with the Precious Blood of Christ, as of a Lamb unspotted and undefiled." When, therefore, we barter these souls for sinful pride or pleasure, we bargain with the blood of the God-man. Think of this, O Christian man and women, and reopen not those sacred wounds whence gushed forth and still gushes forth the bounteous springs of grace and holiness and salvation. "Blood of Christ, inebriate me."

THE VISITATION—JULY 2

The opening chapter of St. Luke's gospel is full of magnificence. It describes the Annunciation, that sublime meeting between the Archangel Gabriel and the Virgin Mother of God; the Visitation, that visit of three whole months made her cousin Elizabeth by the Virgin Mary. It contains all the words composing the first half of the Hail Mary, along with the Magnificat of the Blessed Virgin and the Benedictus of Zachary, the two most sublime songs that ever escaped mortal lips. We are concerned with the Visitation. Humility and charity are the two virtues most conspicuous in this mystery, and the whole story is a vivid reminder of what happens when God and His Blessed Mother visit a heart or a home. Humility forgets distinctions, thrusts aside all thought of personal excellences, and is always beforehand with the neighbor in kindly offices. Mary is Queen of angels and of men—Elizabeth is one of her subjects; and in this mystery of the Visitation, the Queen forgets her exalted dignity, assumes the character of a servant, leaves her own home, going a long and hard journey into the hill-country to do menial work in the house of her subject, Elizabeth, three whole months. Mary is the Immaculate Mother of God, gifted with a virtue, a beauty and a wisdom, that never before or since fell to the lot of woman, and she puts herself at the service of the Precursor's mother, a common, every-day mortal, able to boast only what attributes belong to the ordinary friends of God. Mary waits for no summons. As soon as she understands from the angel that her cousin is in distress, she packs and leaves to comfort and help her.

This humility is a most wonderful virtue. Of all the virtues it sits closest to the heart of God. It is the one lesson the Master would have us learn from the example of His holy life. "Learn of Me, because I am meek and humble of heart." It is the key to God's treasury of good things, and every prayer it prompts meets with abundant answer. "God gives His grace to the humble, He resists the proud." Pride is humility's opposite, and is of two kinds. One kind causes God small or no worry. The other kind arouses all His wrath. One kind is peculiar to little children and young girls, it is an amiable weakness of human nature, betrayed in the desire to attract notice by finery of dress, paint and powder on the face, coloring matter on the hair, and other such barbarous devices. The other kind is peculiar to grown men and women, mostly intellectuals, dead set in their own opinions, unwilling to learn from anybody, God Himself included, and self-constituted educators to the world. The first kind of pride is regularly a trifle, hurting nobody but its owner, stripping him of all claim to common sense, and commending him or her to the pity of the wise and judicious. The second kind attacks God, calls into question God's dominion over the minds of men and His veracity, and assumes all the horrid proportions of the sin of the angels. Intellectual pride is a decidedly unnatural fault, belonging to only such as live ignorant of the limitations native to created minds in the field of knowledge. It is the mistake Lucifer made when he measured swords with Omnipotence and hoped to win. It is the crime of such misguided souls as today persecute Christ in the magazines and other vehicles of literature, and wage an educational war against God and God's Church in the world. This second kind of pride is responsible for most of the moral ruin that encompasses our universe today. Men and women are falling away from faith and honesty and piety, simply because their heads are swollen to such an extent by their progress in human learning, that they reckon themselves independent of Almighty God, and impudently refuse allegiance and submission to God's true Church and its authoritative teachers. These men and women are perfectly willing to confess and acknowledge their ignorance of astronomy, medicine, law and kindred sciences, sitting at the feet of today's professors and taking information from them without complaint or murmur; but in matters religious they account themselves oracles of wisdom, and haughtily spurn aside instruction at the hands of the profoundest theologian, backed by the authority of an infallible Church.

Mary's charity is as conspicuous as her humility in this mystery of the Visitation. It rings true. It is not content with mere words and empty desires. It passes to deeds, and like all genuine love it finishes in labor and pain. Charity is love, love is labor and all through history pain is never distant from the side of love. Pain is love's shadow, and its near presence kills suspicion about love's quality. Think of that hard and long journey into the hill-country, of the three whole months away from her home, and of the housework that kept her mind and her hands busy during all this period. Charity is kindness, kindness means to do good to another, and nothing seems simpler. Kindness is always and everywhere in demand. It touches every nook and corner of the day and night. When not doing kindness, we ought to be thinking or talking it; and when not doing, thinking or talking, a person is asleep or dead.

In this mystery of the Visitation, Mary is the agent of her divine Son Jesus, and the good she wrought in Elizabeth's household is vivid reminder of the blessings Christ scatters in hearts and homes, when He visits the soul in Holy Communion. Mary's presence freed the child John from original sin, it made son and father prophets, it made the unborn child leap for joy in his mother's womb. And Holy Communion clears the soul from sin, renders it superior to temptation, and vests man with some of God's own omnipotence and immutability. Holy Communion makes its patrons prophets. A prophet is a seer, and those enamoured of frequent Communion see God in a way denied other mortals, partaking in large degree of the surpassing prerogative promised the clean of heart in the Beatitudes. "Blessed are the clean of heart, for they shall see God." Holy Communion is a treasury of joy and gladness to the devout soul, putting it in quiet possession of that peace the world cannot give. In Holy Communion, God and the soul are one, God and the soul are friends, between them there are no secrets, no suspicions; nothing but love, and friendship, and affection, and a readiness to surrender the whole world rather than part with the comfort of God's nearer presence and His benignant smile.

SAINT IGNATIUS—JULY 31

Sanctity is love of God and love of man pitched to the highest degree of which a fond heart is capable. We can bring this truth home to ourselves by considering some few details in the life of a hero saint, and by gleaning from the consideration the process by which this love of God and man in sober everyday practice evolves itself. When a lesson is to be learned, the way of example is easier and more potent for good than the way of precept and abstract instruction. And you can search the whole calendar of God's saints without finding an apter illustration of the principle underlying sanctity than the grand soul of Ignatius Loyola.

St. Ignatius was a Spaniard, and was born a little more than four hundred years ago, in 1491. His birth was nearly coincident with the discovery of our own America. During the first thirty years of his life he was essentially a man of his time, when all the men of Spain were Knights, when military glory was the nation's pet ambition, and when the clash of arms and the din of battle alone made welcome music to the ears. Like many a Catholic warrior of old Spain, he reserved in the middle of his heart a shrine for pious thoughts; and, though he would have ridden through fire and blood for a point of honor, though he would have ridden to the ends of the earth to win favor in the eyes of a lady, he nevertheless kept all his thoughts subservient to the glory of God, and the queen of his affections was the Blessed Virgin Mary. At the age of thirty an accident befell him, and this mysterious interference of Divine Providence turned the whole course of his life into another channel. Defending the fort of Pampeluna against the French, he was put out of the combat by a cannon ball. Removed to a neighboring castle for medical treatment, he lay for a long time between life and death. When well on the way to recovery, time hung heavily on his restless spirit, and he called for books to read. Romances were the literature indulged in by gentlemen of that period; and sore was his disappointment, when informed that the castle library was wholly destitute of his favorite volumes. The only writings procurable were some thumb-worn lives of the saints, and Ignatius had to be content with the recreation their perusal afforded. And so he read the rather sober and somewhat tedious accounts of the severe fasts, the long prayers, and continued vigils of the servants of God in the desert. But as he read, a new interest seized him, and to this new interest succeeded a desire to seek glory in another and a different field. He was radically a man of arms, and a soldier. The atmosphere of the camp was as much part and parcel of his being as the free air is part and parcel of the bird's being. Would he have to surrender all the projects he had nurtured from early youth, would he have to forego the mad joy of winning victories in the service of his country and his king? Ah, no! God, accommodating Himself to the tastes and predilections of His servant, so arranged matters that Ignatius would be able to vie with monks in virtue, and still remain a soldier. Without bidding adieu to the shock of combat and career of arms, he would still be able to enlist in the ranks of the King of Peace. To become a saint he would not have to cease to be a warrior. He would have only to change his weapons, and transfer his allegiance from the king of Spain to the King of Kings. And so he journeyed from Pampeluna to Montserrat, where in a chapel of the Blessed Virgin Mary at dead of night he hung his trusty sword and coat of mail, put on the garments of a pilgrim, and after a prayer that extended to the morning started on his memorable campaign for the conquest of souls. This was in the year 1522, when Luther had just hurled defiance at God's Vicar, and set up the standard of hell and revolt. Our hero had a long march and a weary one, but God was ever at his side, and vouchsafed several times to visibly appear to him. God was leading him by the hand, and he never once faltered or faltered on his journey, till on the 31st of July, in the year 1556, at the age of 65, he laid his arms at the feet of Christ's viceroy in Rome, and went to receive the crown he had so well deserved and won. Time will not permit us to follow him in all the grand movements he made during the thirty odd years intervening between 1522 and 1556. But a glance at some of the leading events in his life, and the barest reference.

The Holy Water of St. Ignatius of Loyola

Founder of the Society of Jesus

The acts of his canonization recognize more than two hundred miracles wrought through his mediation. These marvels have continued without interruption even to our own days. Among the many practices of devotion to which God has deigned to attach miraculous favors, the most universally known is the use of the Holy Water of St. Ignatius. Almighty God has visibly approved of this pious practice by granting the desires of persons who have availed themselves of this means with faith and confidence. The very prayers used with the approbation of the Church in the blessing of this water are enough to convince us of its efficacy! For the priest, whilst dipping a relic or medal of the Saint into the water prays that God may grant the water the virtue of healing the body and the soul, and of driving away all evils from our dwellings.

Persons wishing to make use of this Holy Water are exhorted to make a Novena to St. Ignatius, reciting some daily prayers, and drinking a little of the water, morning and evening, or putting some drops on the parts of the body affected. They should approach the Sacraments during the Novena, or at least promise to do so as soon as they obtain the grace they ask. Souls that have confidence will soon experience the great power of St. Ignatius with God; and the greater this confidence, the sooner will they obtain their request. Nevertheless, if at the end of a Novena the grace is not obtained, let them not lose confidence. Ordinarily, God does not grant His favors at once, but He often delays, in order to prevent us from falling into a blind self-sufficiency. Our Lord has said: "Ask, and you shall receive;" but He has not said "immediately." Some persons have obtained the cure they sought only after several Novenas.

The following prayers must be recited during the Novena:

Three times Our Father, Hail Mary and Glory be to the Father, etc., night and morning. Litany of the Holy Name of Jesus or the Blessed Virgin once a day.

V. Pray for us, O holy Father St. Ignatius.

R. That we may be made worthy of the promises of Christ.

Let Us Pray

O God, who for the increase of the greater glory of Thy Holy Name, has been pleased by Blessed Ignatius, to strengthen the church militant with new help, grant that aided by his prayers, during our warfare on earth, we may so imitate his virtues, as to be happily crowned with him in heaven. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Thou, who dost vouchsafe Thy blessing to this Holy Water, that it may be a salutary remedy to the human race, grant, by the intercession of Blessed Ignatius, whose relic has been immersed in it, that whoever partakes of it, may receive health of body and protection of soul. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Prayer of Saint Ignatius

Soul of Christ, sanctify me.
Body of Christ, save me.
Blood of Christ, inebriate me.
Water from the side of Christ, wash me.
Passion of Christ, strengthen me.
O good Jesus, hear me.
Within Thy wounds, hide me.
Permit me not to be separated from Thee.
From the wicked foe defend me.
At the hour of my death, call me.
And bid me come to Thee.
That with Thy saints I may praise Thee.
For ever and ever. Amen.

Prayer of Oblation and Divine Love

Take and receive, O Lord, my memory, my whole understanding, entire liberty, accept my whole will; whatsoever I have or possess, Thou hast bountifully bestowed it upon me; I restore it all to Thee, and deliver it up to be governed entirely accordingly to Thy will, vouchsafe to give me Thy love with Thy grace, and I am rich enough to desire nothing more.

Novena

The Novena in honor of St. Ignatius will begin on Saturday, July 23rd, and end on the Feast of St. Ignatius, Sunday, July 31st. The Novena exercises will be held each evening at 8 o'clock, consisting of prayers, a sermon on the life of St. Ignatius and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The Feast will be solemnly observed on Sunday, the Feast of St. Ignatius, July 31st, with Solemn High Mass at which a panegyric of the Saint will be preached.

Vacation Time

There are few things in the life of man which concern him more than his health. He will do many things he does not care to do in order to retain that health and will take willingly all kinds of the most distasteful medicine in order to regain his former healthy condition.

It is perfectly natural then that mankind should heartily rejoice when they find something that is most conducive to health and at the same time entirely in accord with their wishes. It is a very comforting feeling to know that while one is enjoying himself, one is fulfilling a grave obligation to one's self and is making one's self more efficient for social life. The name we give to this rather necessary adjunct to human endeavor, to this medicine which is easy to take, is recreation.

Recreation is almost synonymous with vacation. At any rate the proper kind of vacation should give the optimum amount of recreation, recreating as the name implies, not only the body of man but the whole man. But many vacations fail to do the very thing they are supposed to do, that is they do not "recreate" the mind and body. The rush and crush of the business world, the high tension, the accelerated speed of the ultra moderns are carried over into vacation time so that one often needs a week or so to recuperate after one's strenuous efforts at "having a huge time."

Any sane person (and there really are many sane people in this world) can readily realize that such a whirlwind of a vacation actually defeats its primary purpose for rather than acting as an aid to health it is in reality endangering that precious gift. The old axiom, "It is the pace that kills," should be carefully borne in mind, especially during vacation.

But aside from the danger to the body a perverted vacation may be the cause of disastrous inroads on the moral life of the individual. The immortal soul may suffer irreparable loss from indulgence in illicit pleasures or in those things which, for some people, constitute a good time.

For many "moderns," the only guide to moral conduct is that which is conventional. The only reason they do not act immorally is because they fear they will arouse unfavorable social opinion. These people demand that their vacation remove such conventional uses and in consequence, go to places where there is little or no fear of social opinion. In other words some people do not seek recreation but seek an unlimited license.

Here also any sane man should be able to see the danger but surely Catholics should have no trouble in keeping their balance. A sin for a Catholic is not an offense against society, it is an offense against God. A sin is as detestable during vacation time as it is in every day life.

The Catholic, therefore, should realize that while the care of his body is very necessary, still the care of his soul is even more important; that while he gives his body the rest and recreation it demands he should not weigh his soul down with grievous sin; that while a vacation is the time for carefree pleasures, it is not the time for licentiousness.

There is nothing Puritanical about the laws of God and the Church. Neither forbid a good time but both forbid sin; neither deny the body its well earned repose but both deny the soul rest from its vigilant enemies.

For a Catholic the very absence of the ordinary safeguards of conventional society should make him all the more careful not to take undue liberties. He should return from his vacation refreshed in body and clean of soul.

Missing Mass

During these summer months there will be many closed churches about us. Needless to say, no Catholic church will be closed. There is the same God to worship in summer as in winter, the same religious duties to be performed, the same commandments of the Church to be observed as to hearing Mass on Sundays and holy days of obligation. And all this under pain of mortal sin. That is such a plain duty that it needs no elucidation.

Yet there are some Catholics who affect to believe that they are an exception to this common, ordinary rule of life. They seem to breathe in some of the irreligion about them, they become infected with the spirit which turns its back on religious worship, when it entails some personal sacrifice, and just as so many of the non-Catholic churches close up for the hot months, so do they follow the example and close their hearts tight against God in order that they may indulge their personal comfort.

Hence the ease with which so many Catholics seek to satisfy their conscience when they miss Mass during the summer. It may be for a Sunday outing, when they will start early in the morning, and never give a thought to the duty of giving to God the worship He requires; it may be for the week's vacation, while they prevail upon themselves that, since it is a time of bodily recreation, no thought need be given to Mass for that one Sunday. Indeed, there are some who will go away for the entire summer, bury themselves in a place miles distant from a Catholic church and never once go to Mass.

And what makes it more criminal is the fact that it is unnecessary. In this vast country the places of vacation have been multiplied without end. There are thousands of delightful resorts adapted to every purse and to all sorts of people; resorts that are handy to the Catholic church or chapel where Mass is said on Sunday.

And apart from the question of sin, there is another consideration that ought to influence Catholics in the choice of a place of vacation. No Catholic wishes to die without a priest. No one knows when serious illness will come, and with it the urgent need of confessing and receiving the last rites of the Church. And what a terrible thing it must be for one to face a death in a place where he himself made it impossible for the priest to reach him. Unnecessarily to put oneself out of touch with the ministrations of religion is to take a chance in regard to eternal salvation.

The Mass Is My Life

I assist at Holy Mass all day long, for I know that the Holy Sacrifice is being offered at every hour of the day and night. There are 350,000 Masses every twenty-four hours; four elevations each second.

Whenever I recollect myself, though but for an instant, I see a Host and a Chalice uplifted between Heaven and earth. I offer them to the Most Holy Trinity for the glory of God and the reign of our Lord Jesus Christ.

... If I commit a fault, I offer the Precious Blood in reparation, and I really feel the purifying pardon, bringing me ever-fresh increase of light and strength.

... If I receive a grace, I offer the Holy Eucharist to God in thanksgiving for His infinite liberality.

... If I am suffering, it is a happiness to be more efficaciously united to the Adorable Victim!

... The Church, my country, souls in this world and in the next, are constantly in need of assistance. Then I appropriate the Divine Impetration, through which I hope to obtain whatever is necessary for them.

... This continual union with the Holy Sacrifice fully satisfies all my aspirations, for what more can I do for the glory of God and the good of my brethren?

Home Is Ever Where the Heart Is

Home is ever where the heart is, where from care we find surcease,
When the day is done and evening brings its quiet, calm and peace;
Home is just a little heaven given to us here on earth,
Where we gather with our dear ones in contentment, love and mirth;
Home is where God's dearest blessing—Mother—lives and reigns as queen,
Where at night she waits to greet us, with her love and smile serene;
Every Christian home is fashioned from the Home that Jesus knew,
Made for Him by Mary, Joseph, where He lived and loved and grew;

Home is where we find the courage to face trials of life each day,
For companionship of loved ones sweetens crosses on life's way;
There is where the wife and husband, joined by God the home to build,
Dream and plan and work together, while their hearts with love are filled;
There the laughter of the children—music in fond parents' ears,
Turns the toil of day to pleasure, brings the joy of heaven near;
On the home God looks with favor, and His Blessing imparts there,
In our midst He is at evening, as our heads bow low in prayer;

Home should be the Sacred Pathway that some day to us shall bring Life with God for souls in whose home, He has ever reigned as King;
Make the home a happy dwelling, one where peace and love abound,
One where Christ is Head and Master, where His Presence can be found;
When the home is gone, its mem'ries shall stay with us as we roam,
And our hearts shall turn with longing to the thought of Home Sweet Home;
Love of home God gives to all hearts, through this love He wants it known Something of the joy prepared us in His Heaven, our true Home.

Parish Notes

Our Golden Jubilee

Dear Parishioner:

Plans are rapidly maturing for a worthy celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the opening of our glorious Church.

Undoubtedly, there are those who remember the famous occasion—December 8, 1888—when divine worship was offered in this Church for the first time. During the succeeding fifty years, this Church made history. So it is only fitting that we commemorate this event on December 8, 1938.

On that day, His Eminence the Most Reverend Archbishop will celebrate a Solemn Pontifical Mass at 10 o'clock. On the day following, Solemn Mass of Requiem will be offered for all the deceased members of the Parish. Then on Saturday, December 10, we shall have a special Solemn Mass in which we hope there will participate all those who have entered from this Parish the priestly state or religious life. We shall take this means to call attention to THE FRUITS OF THE PARISH. Our celebration will conclude on Sunday with another Solemn Mass for the living—for our present parishioners and for those who have moved away and yet retain in their hearts a fond memory of their old parish.

Despite the hard times, we have been striving manfully to prepare our Church in its physical appearance for this most noteworthy occasion. The following sums have been expended or are to be expended for this purpose:

New Roof	$ 10,000.00
Sanctuary Carpet ..	2,000.00
Vestments	2,000.00
Cleaning and renovating	3,000.00
Functions of the celebration	2,000.00
	$ 19,000.00

This makes a total of $ 19,000.00

We should strive at this time to pay off a generous portion of the funded debt of the Church which now amounts to about $110,000.00. Would it not be a glorious tribute to our Faith if we were able to pay off the sum of $25,000.00.

Some of this money has been raised. The greater portion remains to be raised. With the coming of September then, we intend to initiate a Parish drive to secure the remainder of these funds. We intend to utilize our Annual Visitation of the Parish and Block Collection to this end. Further details will be forthcoming at a later date.

Report on Bazaar and Raffle

Through the zealous work and generous patronage of our parishioners, our combined Bazaar and Raffle, held from June 17 until June 25, netted the grand total of $4,116.86. The Bazaar proper netted $2,362.42, the Raffle $1,401.41 and donations were received in the amount of $353.03. We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all those who labored so tirelessly and cheerfully for the success of the Bazaar. Also we must not forget our humble thanks to Our Dear Lord for having given us such favorable weather. We have already endeavored to thank, by special letter, every parishioner who did something outstanding for the Bazaar, such as managing a booth, or contributing prizes or donations. If by oversight, we have neglected acknowledgment to anyone in such a large group of enthusiastic supporters, we would appreciate it if such an oversight is brought to our attention.

In the list of the net returns from our various booths, all expenses have been deducted, including fifteen dollars rental for any booth that was not constructed by the group themselves. To be sure, the net returns at each booth does not represent the relative energy and enthusiasm of that particular group, as the disposal of certain merchandise was more difficult or more costly than that of others. The Married Women's Sodality, however, deserve special words of commendation, as their task of refreshments was the most tedious and the purchase of food is always necessarily high. Nevertheless, they led all other groups and organizations in the matter of net profit. This was due to the good management, the attractiveness of their dishes, and the fact that they conducted a cake stand, to which all the cakes were generously donated, and which in itself netted over one hundred Dollars profit.

The success of our Bazaar in no small measure is also due to certain individuals in the parish, who did not represent any particular organization, but who through personal enthusiasm and devotion, volunteered their services in any way that might be helpful. We have given this group of volunteer workers, and with every justification, the title of "Bazaar Boosters." May they increase and multiply! Among this group are especially to be noted, the boys and young men of the parish, who day after day and night after night, decorated the booths, cleaned the grounds, guarded our merchandise, ran our errands, and all without remuneration, even refusing it when offered. We could not help but think of the parents of these boys who must have instructed them to do all that they could for their church, and to leave it to God for their reward.

To those parishioners who found it impossible to take part in the actual conduct of the bazaar, but who did their share either through the contribution of prizes or donations, we are also especially grateful.

Below are the returns from the various booths. Study them carefully. You may have some helpful suggestion for the coming year.

For the Altar of God

In the last 3 issues of our Bulletin we have been making an appeal for donations for vestments for the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. We renew our appeal here to our parishioners and friends who may wish to have their dear departed loved ones remembered at the altar each morning in holy Mass. One generous donor in presenting the donation remarked, "It could be spent in no better way than in purchasing the precious clothing for the 'Alter Christus' for the offering of the sacrifice most dear to our hearts." Up to date some large contributions have raised our fund but the number donating is comparatively small in comparison with the number in our parish. Remember the number of Fathers attached to the Church—we need at least 12 sets of vestments of the six colors used for the various feasts of the Church. That means at least 72 sets of vestments for Solemn High Masses. We would like to secure sets of vestments for that of Low Mass. We feel sure that you will generously come to our assistance. REMEMBER THE NOBLE PURPOSE. Perhaps you have intended to make such a donation—you have slipped up on the remembrance of it—you are grateful to us for reminding you about it—we shall be grateful to you for your loyal and generous support.

August—Dedicated to the Immaculate Heart of Mary

Devotion to the Immaculate Heart of Mary is said to be on the increase in many countries throughout the world and wherever it flourishes, it has been noticed that conversions to the True Faith are frequent. But even apart altogether from its power and efficacy, this devotion commends itself wonderfully by reason of its own intrinsic loveliness. Certainly, after the Sacred Heart of Jesus, the Heart of Mary is the purest and holiest heart that ever was. It is a shrine of holiness, whose threshold was never once crossed by the demon of sin, never once contaminated by the least breath of evil. It is a temple of peace, the heart of the Mother of the Prince of Peace, never for a moment disturbed by evil passions or propensities. It is a very heaven of glory, adorned with all the skill of the Divine Artificer, Who has lavished upon it all the resources of His treasurehouse. If St. John Chrysostom could feel such affection for the heart of St. Paul, because of its likeness to the Heart of Christ, with how much more reason may we love and honor the Immaculate Heart, so like to the Sacred Heart in the wideness of its love for us, in the intensity of its sufferings for us, in the depth of its generosity, in the perfection of its purity. During this month, dedicated to the Immaculate Heart, let us set about cultivating and increasing this devotion in ourselves and in those with whom we come in contact. There is no surer or safer approach to the all-saving protection of the Sacred Heart. Once more, to Jesus through Mary!

The GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION extends to its President, Dr. Francis Stokes, felicitations on the recent ordination of his brother to the Holy Priesthood in the Society of Jesus. We trust Father Stokes will be blessed with long life and health to carry on his noble work.

The Association will conduct only one meeting each month during the summer months and election of officers which usually takes place in June was postponed until September when regular business meetings will be resumed.

The improvements through the radius of the parish and neighborhood during the spring of this year has been extremely gratifying and inspire us to continue the good work so courageously undertaken two years ago with the hope of additional membership in the fall of the year.

The members of the Association at the last regular meeting voted their thanks and appreciation to Mr. James Ramp for his persistent and successful efforts in the interests of safety at Seventeenth Street and Ridge Avenue. This particular corner has been a source of anxiety to the Association since its inception and various methods of traffic control have been tried out in an effort to reduce hazard there. Consultation after consultation with the Traffic Bureau of the city kept it constantly under consideration and finally; thanks to Mr. Ramp's ingenuity and persistence, a complete traffic control system has been installed which reduces to a minimum the dangers there. Our hats are off to Mr. Ramp. Good work!

The continued interest of members and GOOD NEIGHBORS is requested even though the meetings will be few during the summer months. The officers are always in readiness to receive reports of interest and will take action where necessary for the interest of the GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD. Vacancies should be reported and an endeavor to obtain good tenants will be made at any time. A waiting list of desirable applicants for vacant homes in this vicinity assures quick occupancy of any property that is in livable condition. Keep your eyes open and be on the alert for any constructive work in your own NEIGHBORHOOD.

We thank all those who have contributed in any way to the success which we have achieved during the past two years—particularly do we appreciate the display of confidence evidenced by the investment in repairs and remodelling of homes in our NEIGHBORHOOD. With a corresponding increase in property preservation during the next couple of years, our GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD will have once more attained the enviable reputation it enjoyed in the past, and will be in keeping with the splendid institutions of all kinds which are permanent parts of our excellent NEIGHBORHOOD.

Your attendance at the August meeting is requested and your suggestion as to ways and means of further improvements are always welcome.

Holy Name Society

"At the Name of Jesus

Every Knee Shall Bend"

Following the June meeting of the Holy Name Society, various committees were appointed to take the charge of the excursion to Riverview Beach on Sunday, August 7.

Mr. Anthony Cherricole who is very active not only in the Holy Name Society, but in other parish activities as well was appointed chairman of the Excursion Committees.

The most important committee in the running of any affair is the ticket committee since that committee must see that the tickets are distributed and sold. John J. Carr and Walter Lawler have been placed in charge of this most important committee and have been working industriously with the Holy Name Captains in selling the tickets for the excursion. The committee reported at the July meeting held on Sunday morning, July 10, that there were over four hundred adult tickets out and over one hundred children's tickets and that prospects for a successful outing looked very good.

The Ticket Committee is now organizing the Holy Name Captains for a door to door canvass of the parish so be ready to receive them and buy your tickets now for the family. Adults sixty cents, children ages 5 to 12, thirty cents and children under five, free.

Our Secretary, Jerome Curtain is in charge of the Publicity Committee and will have handbills out in the course of the next few days.

Our Vice-President, Eddie Coogan, is in charge of entertainment and promises to have the same orchestra on the boat that he had at the Communion Breakfast.

The Committee on Arrangements will reserve tables at the Riverview Beach Picnic Grounds for all who purchase tickets.

While nearly everyone is taking their own lunch if anybody desires to buy their lunch on the grounds there is a very good restaurant there and many stands where sandwiches and soft drinks can be purchased.

If the day should be raining at the start do not let that stop you since the Boat can be enclosed and there is plenty of shelter at the Beach to accommodate all so no one need get wet.

Come with the Holy Name Society on this outing, bring your friends and families and have the time of your lives. The Wilson Line Boat "State of Pennsylvania" leaves Chestnut Street Wharf Sunday August 7, at 9.15 A. M. Daylight Saving Time. The Picnic Groves are free the only charge is adult sixty cents round trip, children 5 to 12 thirty cents. A whole day's outing within the reach of all.

Purchase your tickets now and make your arrangements with your friends and neighbors to be aboard the "State of Pennsylvania" on Sunday morning, August 7, at 9.15 A. M. for a glorious day's outing.

Holyday of Obligation

There are only six week days in the year on which we are obliged to hear Mass—same as on Sunday. ONE OF THESE HOLYDAYS OF OBLIGATION, THE FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION OF OUR BLESSED LADY INTO HEAVEN, OCCURS THIS MONTH ON MONDAY, AUGUST 15.

Remember, if you should be away on your vacation at that time, DO NOT FORGET ABOUT YOUR OBLIGATION TO HEAR MASS. Find out where the nearest church is and at what hours you may be able to HEAR MASS ON THAT DAY.

A Timely Word

Go To Mass During Vacation Time

Summer vacation is with us again, and all who can will seek rest in the country or at vacation resorts. A point to be emphasized in CHOOSING A PLACE for summer vacation is the possibility of ATTENDING MASS. While building up your bodily strength, so to cope with your physical work, it would be sad, indeed, if the soul were weakened and stained by being deprived of the graces which come from at least Sunday attendance at the HOLY SACRIFICE. Provision is made at many summer resorts FOR MASS, and there would be few places where this privilege could not be obtained if Catholics would demand it. We should not take vacations at resorts where attendance at Mass is impossible. Such conduct encourages and strengthens in Catholics and their children the habit of neglecting Mass. God's great gift to man.

Parents who wish to send their children to camps during the summer should select those that are UNDER CATHOLIC AUSPICES. At these care is taken, as at all other camps, of the physical welfare of the inmates; but, what is vastly more important, their religious training is looked after. Those in charge realize their responsibility in this regard and secure the services of a priest, who, by tactful watchfulness, creates a healthy spiritual atmosphere and is zealous in seeing that the Sacraments are FREQUENTED AND MASS DEVOUTLY HEARD. This zeal, far from being a kill-joy, adds to camp life a tonic which helps even to physical health and enjoyment. Then, too, at the Catholic camps, our young people form associations with Catholic boys and girls which may very well be helpful and beneficial in after years. For the boys and girls, too, who unfortunately attend non-Catholic schools, no better place can be found during the summer than our Catholic camps, where some of the poison imbibed during the year may be eliminated by Catholic association.—The Messenger of the S. H.

A Word to the Parents of the School Children

It is more necessary for parents to watch over their children during vacation than during school days. Remember your duties as parents.

As most of the dangers of youth arise from associations acquired during vacation, keep your children out of bad company. Parents should know the many dangers that children are exposed to during this time and take measures to remove them.

The following points are important for parents to remember, more perhaps during vacation than at any other time: 1. Have the children say their morning and night prayers faithfully. 2. Be sure that they go to Mass every Sunday. 3. Keep informed as to where your children are during the day and see that they are in proper company. 4. Oblige them to be in the house of evenings; don't let them run the streets at night. 5. If they belong to the Sodality, have them receive Communion with the Sodality on their Communion Sunday.

Feasts of the Month

THE ASSUMPTION OF MARY—AUGUST 15

Our Lady's death was privileged, and so was her resurrection. St. John Damascene tells the story from tradition, and St. Bridget confirms it in her revelation. The Apostles were miraculously brought to Jerusalem at the time of our Lady's death, and they buried her body in the garden of Gethsemane. St. Thomas did not arrive until the burial was over, and at his entreaty the grave was opened, but all that was found in it were the winding sheet and a sheaf of lilies, whence the Apostles concluded that our Lord, wishing not to delay the glory of His Mother, raised her to life and sent angels to carry her to heaven, to be associated to Him, body and soul, in glory and happiness. St. Bernadine of Sienna says that, in order to honor the triumph of Mary, Jesus Christ Himself came from heaven to meet her, with a host of blessed spirits, and led her to the throne prepared for her in that celestial place. There she reigns forever, Queen of angels and of men.

Let us contemplate our dear Lady, entering the land of bliss, leaning on the arm of her beloved Son. The angels who guard the throne of God, seeing her so glorious and beautiful, cry out to the blessed spirits who accompanied her from the earth: "Who is this that cometh up from the desert, flowing with delight, leaning on her beloved?" Who is this creature so beautiful, coming from the desert of the earth, a place of thorns and briars? So pure she is and so rich in virtue, that the Lord Himself deigns to accompany her, thus adding to the glory of her triumph. "Who is she?" And swiftly comes the response: "This is the Mother of our King, our Queen, blessed among women and full of grace; this is the Saint of Saints, the beloved of God, the immaculate one, the fairest and holiest of creatures."

The Church has not yet made the doctrine of Our Lady's Assumption an article of faith, but she has adopted this belief by saying in the Mass for this beautiful Feast: "Mary is assumed into Heaven." We have a right, therefore, to rejoice in the glorious resurrection of our dearest Mother. Let us rejoice also for ourselves at the thought of our own joyful resurrection. It will not immediately follow our death, as Mary's did, but it is not less certain, and if we are willing to lead a faithful Christian life, it will also be a resurrection unto glory.

BLESSED PETER FABER, S.J., CONFESSOR—AUGUST 11

The eldest companion of St. Ignatius and the first priest of the Society of Jesus was a peasant from the mountains of Savoy. At the cost of many sacrifices, his parents had sent him to the University of Paris, where he took all his degrees, and in 1529, being then 23 years of age, he was appointed to explain to Ignatius the lectures on philosophy, given at the College of St. Barbara. Soon the position of the two was changed, and the young professor placed himself under the guidance of his pupil. Ignatius began by teaching him his own simple habits of devotion—daily examination of conscience, weekly Confession and Communion and gradually, with consummate prudence, led him on through the "Spiritual Exercises." Later on, Faber became an adept in the spiritual science of St. Ignatius, and by his profound learning, his winning and edifying conversation, and his retreats, he obtained wonderful conversions throughout Italy and Germany. He deserves high praise for restoring the Catholic religion in Germany, by winning St. Peter Canisius, lately canonized and declared a Doctor of the Church, for the Society and by founding the great and influential house of the Society of Jesus at Cologne.

Father Faber said the Mass at which St. Ignatius and his companions took the vows on Montmartre, Paris, August 15, 1534. A man of wonderful piety and innocence, and of humility that bordered on diffidence, but prompted by his love of God and guided by his Spiritual Father's wisdom, the gentle and humble peasant became one of the greatest apostles of the Society of Jesus. He died at Rome, August 1, 1546, when about to start for the Council of Trent.

BLESSED MICHAEL CARVALHO, S.J., MARTYR—AUGUST 25

Father Michael Carvalho was burned alive at Omura, in Japan, on August 25, in the year 1624, with one Dominican and several Franciscan friars for companions. They went to their place of torture carrying the stakes to which they were to be bound, and singing hymns of thanksgiving. Fearing lest ambassadors from Spain should procure his deliverance, Father Michael wrote, "I should feel the greatest sorrow if Our Lord, on account of my sins, should withdraw me from the path of mercy and grace now open before me. . . . Nothing in this life appears to me more desirable, more delightful, and more consoling than to give my life for so merciful a Saviour."

THE ASSUMPTION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY—AUGUST 15

It is a holy day of obligation requiring even in our busy lives at least attendance at Holy Mass.

You will search the four Gospels in vain for any word about the Mother of God after the crucifixion of her Divine Son, and then only those brief but touching words of St. John: "There stood by the cross of Jesus His Mother." We must look to tradition, the unwritten story of the early Church, to tell us something more about Mary.

Very briefly we learn that she dwelt with St. John to whose loving care Christ on the cross had given her: "Woman, behold thy son." She comforted and consoled all the Apostles in their dangers and difficulties. About twenty years after the Ascension of her Divine Son her pure soul passed from earth to Heaven. Traditions tell us that all the Apostles, except St. Thomas, were present at her death and burial. Three days later came St. Thomas. At his request the tomb was opened, but nothing was found but the winding sheet and flowers.

It has always been the teaching and tradition of the Church that our Divine Lord, Who had taken His own most sacred flesh and blood from her, would not permit her most pure body to see corruption. He therefore took that sacred body of His Mother to heaven, where, body and soul united—as will be the bodies and souls of the just after the last Judgment—Mary may enjoy to the fullest extent the "things that the Lord hath prepared" for her.

THE FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION is, therefore, generally accepted as the principal feast day celebrated in honor of the Mother of God. By the Assumption is understood the passing of the Blessed Virgin, both body and soul, into Heaven. Although this belief has not been declared by the Church as an article of faith, nevertheless, Catholics from the early ages have so universally accepted it that it cannot be denied.

There were some who once held that Mary did not suffer death since death is the punishment of sin, and Mary, being without sin, could not die. But Mary could not have had privileges above her Divine Son. Her privileges depended upon her divine motherhood. Her Son died, therefore she also died. Her Son was human as well as Divine; Mary was His mother.

However, her sinlessness, although not a sufficient reason for exemption from death, was a sufficient reason for exemption from death by disease, or from corruption after death. Her virginal integrity during life was a reason why her body should remain incorrupt in death, and should be honored with a speedy resurrection. She who through life had been free from the slightest taint of sin, who had been closely associated with Christ in the conflict with evil, was most appropriately honored with this triumph over sin in a complete resurrection and glorification of her body and her soul.

It is to her sanctity that Mary owes the glory of her Assumption. Immaculate from the moment of her conception, the Blessed Virgin remained pure to the moment of her death. Yet the favors she received from God were due to her because she conformed her will to the Will of God.

In order to be crowned one has to work for such an honor. Mary who was the most privileged among creatures was not dispensed from this law. She triumphed because she had conquered; she received glory because she deserved glory. Never did any creature receive so abundant and so excellent graces as did the Blessed Virgin; neither did she ever receive any that was not increased by her most perfect co-operation.

We receive graces, although not in the fulness that Mary received them. Her co-operation deserved the glory of her Assumption; yet our glory will in like manner depend upon our co-operation. We cannot hope for the glory gained by the Mother of God—such a glory is impossible for us, born as we are in sin, but we can hope for a glory that will be due to us as we conform to those graces which God sees fit to bestow upon us.

May all of us repeat with loving emphasis the words of the beautiful collect of the Feast of the Assumption: "Gathered round the heavenly table, to which Thou hast bidden us come and feast, we implore Thy mercy, O Lord Our God, that even as we honor the Assumption of the Mother of God, so through her intercession we may be delivered from all the evils that threaten us." —Exchange.

The Modern Peril—Education Without Christ

What is the gravest of modern perils? Clearly it is education without Christ. The irreligious press has power chiefly over those formed in the irreligious school. It is this alone which has brought the world to its present pass, with revolution fomentive in every State, with confiscation, robbery, violence and lust openly preached from the public platform and taught in the very classroom. We call it liberty of speech. We give it high-sounding, scientific names. Officers of the law and representatives of the people do not, as a rule, dare to interfere. They themselves have been shorn of all their power by the education of today. There is no authority upon earth unless it comes from God. Even, therefore, though religion is merely ignored in our school without being actually opposed, every reason for obedience, law and order has been taken away. In spite of fine phrases, anarchy remains the only logical rule of civil life. Each man may follow his own unbridled instincts. . . .

Irreligious education is, therefore, the peril of our time. All neutral education, as Our Lord Himself has taught us, is of a class with it. In our day the devil is leaving no means untried to destroy the Church. But the first and principal means to bring this about is education without Christ. In school and press it is carrying on a relentless war. . . .

More than ever, therefore, is the formation of character in the Catholic school, college and university of the utmost importance for the welfare of our nation. But even this alone will not suffice. The influence of the press must likewise be taken into account. It continues with us through all the years of our lives. The indifferentism, therefore, of Catholics who neglect their press is second only to the criminality of the Catholic parents who send their children to the so called neutral schools and universities. All the world is alive to the power of the school and the press. Let Catholics not ignore it.

—America.

Catholic Schools

The development and increase of the Catholic schools is one of the most important means to make civilization Catholic. Without these Catholic schools the Church would of course continue to exist, because it is to last to the end of time; but without the Catholic schools, the losses to the Faith would be very numerous, the knowledge of the Faith in the minds of Catholics would be confused and limited, the progress along the Road to a Catholic Civilization would be almost none.

Some Catholics believe that Catholic schools are unnecessary, a luxury, a work of supererogation, because they have kept the Faith, and even manifested zeal and learning in its cause. But they forget that they have missed a great deal, and that they may have the Faith from Catholic parents formed in Catholic countries.

It is an error to suppose that a Catholic education is simply the adding onto an ordinary curriculum of certain periods in Christian doctrine. The Catholic point of view needs interpretation and draws and gives an influence to all the departments of learning—a word here or there has as much influence in guiding the life of a child as a formal hour in the study of the catechism. The child should learn, as all adults need to remember, that his religion should permeate his whole life. Moreover, religion cannot be taught by words and books only, but example is required. The best example to give children is that of the Catholic teachers, especially the religious and priests in the Catholic school, and the example and influence of the other Catholic students.

Some Catholics believe that the way to prepare their children for adult life in a pagan world is to inure (sic) them in schools, many of the influences of which are pagan. This is about as sound as putting healthy children to bed with measles-infected children that they may get the disease and get over it. Very often children do not get over the measles; if they do not die they almost invariably carry ill effects for the rest of their lives. Many Catholic children educated in non-Catholic schools lose their Faith even while going through the motions of practicing their religion, and few of them but come out with some views contrary to the doctrine and spirit of the Church.

We do not want a pagan civilization, do we? Why, then, prepare our children for a pagan civilization, when we want them to prepare for a Catholic civilization?

Children properly educated do a great deal to spread the Catholic idea at home and abroad. If parents go over the work of their children in the Catholic schools, their minds will be continually refreshed and their knowledge of the Truth extended.

The Catholic school is the proper nursery of vocations. If we want a Catholic civilization we must have more priests, nuns, religious brothers and lay workers. Although some remarkable vocations have come out of non-Catholic schools, they are not nearly as numerous in proportion to those where the first light dawned in parochial schools. Where vocations come from non-Catholic schools it will be found that they who have them are generally those who finding themselves away from the Church, want to get nearer. They are not those who deliberately or through the cold choice of their parents try to get away from Catholic influence. And where are vocations most easily lost, in the Catholic or non-Catholic schools?

Before the Catholic body shall be able to move forward toward a Catholic civilization, we must have enough Catholic schools for practically every Catholic child. To those who would sneeringly compare the Catholic schools to the catacombs, places of seclusion from pagan life, the answer is the question, where did Christianity come from, the catacombs or the public places of pagan antiquity?

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, Who art in Heaven; heaven seems so far away,
Be to us Our Earthly Father; help us bear life's cross each day;
Hallowed Be Thy Name, O, Jesus; may we sing Its Sacred Praise,
Let us love and keep It holy, give It honor through all day;
Thy Kingdom Come—O, come, dear Lord, and reign in our souls as King,
At Thy dear Feet, we lay our hearts, our love, Lord, our everything;
Thy Will Be Done on Earth, dear Lord, as It is in Heaven Done;
We crave Thy Smile of Love to help us sin ever, Lord, to shun;

Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread, so that we may stronger be,
Sustain us, Lord, in heart and soul, and make us faithful to Thee;
Forgive us, Lord, Our Trespasses as we Forgive all Others
Who Trespass, Lord, against us now; let us to men be brothers;
And please Into Temptation, Lord, Lead Us Not but let us stay
Close to Thy Heart, new strength to gain, so our love shall grow each day;
Deliver Us from Evil, Lord, Oh, come claim us for Thine Own;
Into Thy Hands we give our souls; in our hearts, Lord, make Thy Throne.

A Little Wisdom

Time does not change anything. A thistle will never bear roses, nor will a copper cent ever become a gold dollar. "As the twig's bent, the tree's inclined." Those boys and girls who are diligent in their school work will be known by the same degree of excellence later on. Neglect of duties now, shirking work, distaste for religious duties, tardiness for Sunday Holy Mass, will grow stronger and worse in aims.

Idle boy ragged man; silly girl, unscrupulous woman. Profanity lessens faith and becomes crime. The sins of youth penetrate the marrow of the bones. A studious and religious boy or girl, a successful and happy man or woman. Time changes no one. The future shows the development of youth. Let us heed the warning, take time by the forelock. Weeds grow rapidly and rank, and choke the good seed. Operations and strenuous efforts must often be resorted to, if only they are heeded, otherwise a bad and sad future is ahead. Training, education, religion, industry, virtue, cannot be started too early in life.

Mothers have a tremendous responsibility. They have charge of those who will one day be God's saints, and resemble in this respect the Angels of the Most High, to whom men are entrusted lest they dash their foot against a stone. Women bring children into the world for one end only—the extension of the kingdom of Christ upon the earth, with the consequent swelling of the ranks of the heavenly host. It is well that mothers realize that this is the end of their children's existence—the gaining of eternal happiness. If mothers realize this, then will they bring up their children in the fear of God. If they do not, the result will be disastrous both for mother and child.

My Lesson

Only to rest where He puts me,
Only to do His Will;
Only to be what He made me,
Though I be nothing still.
Never to look beyond me,
Out of my little sphere,
If I could fill another,
God would not keep me here.

Only take what He gives me,
Meek as a little child;
Questioning nought of the reason,
Joyful or reconciled.

Only to take what He gives me,
Patiently—gladly—today;
With never a thought of tomorrow,
Leaning on Him all the way.

Only to watch in the working,
Lest I should miss His smile,
Striving to still earth voices,
Listening for His all the while.
Only to look to Him ever,
Only to rest at His Feet,
All that He sayeth, to do it,
Then shall my life be complete.

First Communion Day

I've been sweeping the crossing these twenty years,
And well have I done my work:
For it's me that was steady, never fear,
And I never was known to shirk.
But today I am giving an extra sweep
To the stones till they shine like snow,
And be sure, I'll be watching 'tis clean they'll keep
Till she passes them over so.

She? Well, she isn't a rich young bride
That's coming her man to meet;
For it's them that has carriages fine
to ride,
And carpets across the street
But I'm clearing the way for a colleen bright

As a queen in her grand array;
My grand-daughter Peggy that's all in white
On her First Communion Day.

Sure, I've tended her well since her mother died,
And that was five years ago;
And it's many an hour we were side by side

While I learned her the little I know.
Do you see them now as they come
this way,
With herself at the head of the line?
Thank God, I am living to see this day!—

Ain't me crossing looking fine?

The Best in Life

What are the things in life that are broadening and satisfying, and what things tend to the best interests of the happy home-life of humanity? These are questions which we should ask ourselves and try to answer, for it is only by asking ourselves such questions honestly and answering them fearlessly that we shall get at the truth of simple living, and as a consequence, happiness. Shall we run after every new fad at the expense of health and happiness and peace of mind? Shall we regulate our lives by what people say, and shall we try to be something we are not capable of being, do something we are not fitted to do, or live as we are not able to live? Or shall we determine to stamp our own simple individuality upon our lives, and make them simple and honest and satisfying to our best and highest ideals of what is really worth while?

The Word of Praise

Many of us never hear a word of praise. Some of us do occasionally. Whether we deserve it or not is another story but the fact remains that we are very human, and a word of praise turns earth into heaven for the moment. There are thousands of women toiling at seemingly never-ending tasks to whom a word of praise would mean a new lease on life, yet they go their way and finally drop out of the race. When the tired hands have become motionless, some well-meaning friend writes a most touching obituary notice extolling the virtues of her who in life never heard a word of praise from anyone. Another good friend comes forward with the choicest offerings of the florist's shop and tearfully lays it on her bier.

All very nice and laudable, but did any of these good people some morning stop the woman, now dead, on her way to work and tell her what good work she was doing and how much the world needed her? Had they done so, the time-worn heart would have grown young again and the very air would have seemed filled with sweet music.

Brides of Christ

Their task it is to humbly serve—unsung, unpraised, unknown—
These noble souls who spend their lives in God's Cause and our own;
They count not cost as they forsake things closest to the heart,
Their parents dear, their homes, their friends, to dwell with God apart;
They spend their lives in prayer and works, to bring to others cheer,
To teach the young, to nurse the sick, to dry the orphans' tears;
Their Chastity, Obedience and Poverty were vows
They made unto their God when they became His Holy Spouse;

All sacrifices, loneliness and trials are gladly borne,
They would not wear life's roses when their Master's crown was thorns;
Through lonely nights, when sin runs high and man his God forsakes,
There kneels the nun before God's Throne, to reparation make;
Wherever foot of priest has tread, and God has victory won,
There, working hard and praying too, is found God's holy nun;
All tasks are light, all burdens sweet if comfort they can bring,
They only ask as recompense the Smile of Christ, their King;

Who of us knows the hearts consoled as eyes in death grow dim,
As nuns at bed-sides kneel and tell the sufferings borne by Him;
God but doth know the souls who come repentant to His Side,
Through prayers and deeds of holy nuns who love Christ Crucified;
They try to live as Mary did, with Christ deep in their heart,
But little while and they shall be of God's saints too a part;
O, Brides of Christ, when you shall reach the Home that is your goal,
What joy awaits you when appears the Bridegroom of your soul!

—William F. Sheridan.

Parish Notes

Our Golden Jubilee

Dear Parishioner:

Plans are rapidly maturing for a worthy celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the opening of our glorious Church.

Undoubtedly, there are those who remember the famous occasion—December 8, 1888—when divine worship was offered in this Church for the first time. During the succeeding fifty years, this Church made history. So it is only fitting that we commemorate this event on December 8, 1938.

On that day, His Eminence the Most Reverend Archbishop will celebrate a Solemn Pontifical Mass at 10 o'clock. On the day following, Solemn Mass of Requiem will be offered for all the deceased members of the Parish. Then on Saturday, December 10, we shall have a special Solemn Mass in which we hope there will participate all those who have entered from this Parish the priestly state or religious life. We shall take this means to call attention to THE FRUITS OF THE PARISH. Our celebration will conclude on Sunday with another Solemn Mass for the living—for our present parishioners and for those who have moved away and yet retain in their hearts a fond memory of their old parish.

Despite the hard times, we have been striving manfully to prepare our Church in its physical appearance for this most noteworthy occasion. The following sums have been expended or are to be expended for this purpose:

New Roof	$10,000.00
Sanctuary Carpet	2,000.00
Vestments	2,000.00
Cleaning and renovating	3,000.00
Functions of the celebration	2,000.00

This makes a total of$19,000.00

We should strive at this time to pay off a generous portion of the funded debt of the Church which now amounts to about $110,000.00. Would it not be a glorious tribute to our Faith if we were able to pay off the sum of $25,000.00.

Some of this money has been raised. The greater portion remains to be raised. With the coming of September then, we intend to initiate a Parish drive to secure the remainder of these funds. We intend to utilize our Annual Visitation of the Parish and Block Collection to this end. For further details see the article on page 12.

The Golden Jubilee

One of the greatest events in the history of our parish will take place a few months from now. The Golden Jubilee of the existence of any great event in the life of individuals, cities or nations is usually celebrated with pomp and rejoicing.

Golden Jubilees were regarded by the Jewish people as of the greatest importance. Special solemnities were held and special favors granted by Rulers and all those who had jurisdiction over the lives of others. All made sacrifices on these great occasions, and labored to make the affair a success. The Church too from the beginning has years of jubilee when she grants special favors to her children. The same thing is true in the life of nations. They celebrate golden jubilees, centennials, sesqui-centennials. To celebrate these great events world-fairs and similar celebrations are prepared with great outlay of money taken from public treasuries and private subscription. At the present time great preparations are being made in the city of New York to celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the inauguration in that city of George Washington as the first President of the United States. Undoubtedly many of you will visit that fair which is calculated to be the most elaborate of its kind in the history of this country. To visit that fair will cost a large amount of money.

As you know we are preparing to celebrate an event that has a greater bearing on your lives than anything else that has occurred in the heart of this great city; the opening for the public worship of Almighty God of a temple that is regarded even today as one of the most beautiful churches in our city. When we consider the work that has been accomplished here during these years for the good of the community, for people from all parts of the city, who have flocked hither to have their doubts removed and their souls cleansed, to hear the word of God expounded by learned preachers, and to have their minds trained in the High School and College by capable professors, we must conclude that we owe a duty to Almighty God to celebrate this event in a becoming manner. We can truly say that more good for souls, for the community and for the Church has been accomplished within the buildings erected on the site bounded by Stiles and Thompson Streets, 17th and 18th Streets, than in any other set of buildings of like size in our city.

For many years the Jesuit Fathers of St. Joseph's Church were looking for a tract of land on which to erect buildings for St. Joseph's College, which had been started in 1851 in a small building connected with St. Joseph's Church, Willings Alley. This site was purchased with the permission of Archbishop Wood in the year 1866 for the sum of forty-five thousand dollars. A church and college were to be erected on the site. As there was to be a parish connected with the college it was necessary to erect a church for the people who lived within the confines of the parish. These were not numerous at the time as this part of the city was not yet built up.

In the early part of 1866 the Provincial selected a man who by ability and experience was preeminently fitted for the great work entrusted to him; Rev. Burchard Villiger, S.J. For twenty years he had been engaged as Superior, Rector or Provincial, in building residences, churches, schools and colleges in California as well as in the Eastern part of our country. He was now called from California where he was Rector and Provincial. He came to the new parish without a cent in his pocket, but with a great deal of experience and with divine Providence to guide him. Plans for the new college and church were quickly formed in his great mind and work was begun on a temporary chapel to serve the needs of the parish till the erection of the new church. This chapel was designed to become a part of the new college later. The new chapel opened in 17th Street and extended on Stiles Street with a rectory for the Fathers to the rear of the chapel. It was dedicated on December 6, 1866, by Archbishop Wood in the presence of a great multitude of people who came from all parts of the city for the ceremony. The Holy Family Church as it was called was used for twenty years for public worship till the present Church of the Gesu was opened.

Ground was broken for the new church on the tenth of March, 1879. When the massive foundations were laid the corner stone was blessed and laid in position on October the fifth, 1879, by Archbishop Wood in the presence of at least twenty thousand people and a number of priests. Work was carried on incessantly till December 2, 1888, when the doors were thrown open and the sweet chimes high up in the tower announced the glad tidings that the grand church for which many of them had waited twenty years was now ready to be dedicated to the service of Almighty God.

During the twenty years that intervened between the opening of the Holy Family Church and the dedication of the Church of the Gesu, the good people who had made their homes within the limits of the parish were busy paying off the debts, which had been contracted by the purchase of the land, and the building of the parochial school (erected on the present site at a total cost of seventy-five thousand dollars and completed and opened in 1879), as well as the Holy Family Church.

The people of those days were Christian heroes, endowed with great faith, courage and generosity. Most of them had come to the land of the free from the Emerald Isle to escape from persecution, famine and rack-rents. They were determined to better their condition by laboring wherever they could find work. They realized their obligation to support religion and they willingly shared their earnings with Almighty God. Their generosity enabled their great pastor to pay off the debts more rapidly than was anticipated.

At the time of the opening of the Gesu the parish had not more than three thousand souls, and these were in great part laboring people, who through no fault of their own, were not blessed with the education necessary to fill the higher positions.

As the years went by the parish grew in numbers and prestige. Many of the members acquired education and worldly goods, and these they shared with their Creator for they were of the stock who believed that what they had received was from their God. A large number of the people worked at Baldwin Locomotive Works, where their hours were long and the pay envelope was not very fat on Saturday night. Nevertheless they were happy and contented. The Gesu parish, together with the other parishes in the center of the city suffered a great loss when that industry which had given employment to thousands, the Baldwin Locomotive Works, was moved to Eddystone, Pa., principally because of excessive taxation. On account of this many of the people were forced to seek homes nearer to the place of employment thus leaving many homes vacant only to be filled later by those who had nothing in common with the former parishioners.

In spite of the losses in numbers that our parish has suffered our numbers today are not less than when the Church was opened fifty years ago. When we see the results of the appeals of Pastors in our times we wonder if we have the same race of people, and if they possess the same faith. Is it because the faith is weaker; or the spirit of sacrifice is not as strong? It is true that the spirit of self indulgence is stronger, that the urge to pleasures and amusements is greater due to the habits and customs peculiar to our times.

We must now appeal to the generosity of our people to help us to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of our Church as well as the jubilee of those who labored with the great Father Villiger, to whose vision we have this grand church and college, standing as a monument to their love and generosity. These buildings have been as a power house sending out in all directions rays of light to enlighten those in darkness, and power to strengthen the weak and weary on their journey through life.

In order to make our appeal more effective we shall inaugurate a drive to reach all our people, and have them pledge what they can. These pledges can be paid in monthly installments. We expect all to do their duty and give according to their means. By making sacrifices all can help. If all put their shoulders to the wheel, we can raise between now and the eighth of December all the money necessary for the celebration and be able to pay off at least a part of the large debt with which the church is encumbered. What a glorious thing it would be if the whole debt could be paid off and our Church Consecrated! But we realize that this is an impossibility on account of the condition of the times. There are many of our people who can do but little, while there are many who can and should do more. We must bear in mind that there are many who, touched but little by the depression and recession, should in thanksgiving to God give generously. In a short time men and women, the leaders of the Holy Name Society and Sodalties, will call on every Catholic in the parish to get their pledges and the amount they can give monthly, September, October, November and December. There is no family so poor as not to be able to give at least one dollar a month, twenty-five cents a week, about three and one-half cents a day. Wage earners, male and female, surely can treble the usual amount given in the block collection of last year. All that is required is the spirit of generosity. In what you do, bear in mind that God is never outdone in generosity. Give and He will give.

The Sanctuary Carpet

The carpet that has recently been removed from the sanctuary of the Church is being renovated by an experienced rug maker. When this is completed it will be made into individual rugs, which will be sold to the people of the Parish for use in their homes. The carpet will be made into finished rugs of various sizes. This announcement should please both the present and the past Parishioners since the carpet has served in the sanctuary for many years. These rugs would be serviceable in almost any part of the household, but especially at the side of a person's bed where one kneels to say his morning and night prayers. One would be privileged to kneel upon the carpet that has been so close to Our Lord for many years. This is an opportunity that may never come again so it is well to remember that "First come, First served." Rugs will be offered at the low price of one dollar per square yard. The following measurements will give you an idea of what you will get: a two by four throw rug would cost one dollar, a larger rug six by nine would cost six dollars, and a nine by twelve rug would cost only twelve dollars. Rugs or runners for the hall will be made up any size you may desire and the orders will be taken in the Treasurer's office in the Rectory.

THE GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION devoted the last two meetings to a study of Federal Credit Unions, a plan which presents a convenient safe way to save and earn and at the same time an opportunity for the small borrower to borrow at a reasonable rate and convenient terms a plan of genuine benefit to both saver and borrower.

A Federal Credit Union if established in connection with the Association would open up an avenue of further NEIGHBORHOOD improvement beneficial to all. So many improvements and renovations have been established in the NEIGHBORHOOD and many more would be made possible if owners were afforded an opportunity to borrow small sums to tide over the expense.

Federal Credit Unions are insured and supervised by the Government to protect all participants from losses such as have been sustained in recent years through defunct building and loan associations and closed banks. Earnings on invested money are 6 percent on each $5.00 share and interest on loans made is 1 percent on the unpaid balance a decided improvement over the usual method of finance loan companies.

Officers and members of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association are keenly interested in establishing such a credit union and urge members of the parish and neighborhood to attend future meetings for the purpose of obtaining full information on the plans and procedure. Mr. Walter McGrath of the Knights of Columbus Federal Credit Union gave a very instructive talk followed by questions and answers at the July meetings and Mr. Jas. Ramp also an officer in the K. C. F. C. U. took up the discussion at the August meeting. These officers have volunteered their aid in our efforts and the benefit of their experience will be of inestimable value to us.

Therefore, we urge the parishioners and Neighbors within the parish boundaries to learn more of this progressive movement, to participate in our meetings, and by UNITED EFFORT to push forward to another year of success in NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT.

This is the GOLDEN JUBILEE year for the GESU CHURCH and while we give our earnest support to the efforts and aims of our Reverend Father Rector in marking the Golden Jubilee year in a fitting manner—let us look about us and see in what practical manner we, personally, can show our interest in PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT. Golden Jubilee affords a GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY to show our appreciation for all that we owe to our beloved JESUIT FATHERS.

Gesu Parish About to Start a Federal Credit Union

Meeting is called for Wednesday evening, August 17th, in the Old Sodality Chapel to formulate plans to procure a charter from the Federal Government to start our own Credit Union. James D. Ramp, President of the K. of C. Auto Club Credit Union, gave a very interesting talk on the advantages of the Credit Union. Much interest was displayed at the meeting of the Gesu Improvement Association last Wednesday evening, August 10th. When the members after discussing at length the procedure of a credit union voted to take action at the next meeting when all members would be notified to attend.

"What is a credit union?" That's the question all members are asking about, even though credit unions have been active in the United States for the last 24 years.

A credit union is a mutual organization for providing a systematic saving plan paying attractive dividends, and of making available to its members ready credit for constructive purposes at interest lower than they could obtain on the outside. The credit union has proven to be about the only workable device for handling satisfactorily short term credit problems at reasonable rates of interest. At the same time, it affords an exceptionally reliable and fruitful form of investment.

History of Credit Unions

First conceived in Germany in 1848, this idea of co-operative banking has spread to all parts of the world. In 1909, Edward A. Filene, a Boston merchant and philanthropist, organized the Credit Union National Extension Bureau, the activities of which he has financed during the quarter century of its existence. The idea spread rapidly, and today there are approximately 4,000 unions in this country alone, with more than one million members. Although organized and operated entirely by members for their own benefit, they come under the supervision of State or Federal Banking Departments. Today 38 States, as well as the Federal Government, have laws to govern credit unions. During their 24 years in the United States, not a single credit union has failed, and the average loss even with the depression has been less than one-half of one percent better than the banks' record.

How it Functions

Here is the way a credit union works:
When a charter is granted by the State or Federal agency, the charter members choose directors, a credit committee and a supervisory committee. A treasurer is elected, who manages the organization. Forms, bookkeeping data, and consultation are supplied at cost by the Credit Union National Extension Bureau.

Shares are $5.00 each, subscribed for at 25 cents per share per month, and so on. Dividends on accumulated deposits average about six percent. A member may withdraw at any time.

From these funds there is built up the capital, out of which loans are made. Such credit is extended only to members of the union; non-members so a man must save while he borrows. Loans are for "provident" purposes, only such as payments for taxes, insurance, repairs, sickness, and so on. But loans are also made to enable members to realize discounts for cash purposes and avoid installment buying. Small loans of $10.00, $25.00, or $50.00 are made on the character of the borrower without further endorsement. For larger amounts, if the member has no collateral, a co-maker is usually required. Members liquidate indebtedness on terms fitted to their earning power and other circumstances.

Interest charged on such loans amounts to one percent per month assessed against the unpaid balance, or six percent on the principal per year.

The Underlying Purpose

Installment buying has its blessings as well as its evils. Through it many a family with little cash in hand acquires possessions it could never get if it had to accumulate the price first. On the other hand the system was abused in pre-depression days to gear consumption to production. Impudent people found it easy to make a small down payment and contract to pay more than they could spare from earnings. Collectors hounded them and annoyed their employers. If illness, birth or death came the necessary money was not available. Too often the recourse was the money lender. Finance Companies, legal and illegal, did a land office business at interest rates ranging from 36 percent to 42 percent a year and up—mostly up. Once in their hands, the worker seldom got loose and was picked clean year in and year out. In one medium sized city, employees owe four million dollars and pay 48 percent per annum on it.

Encouragement of Thrift

Sponsors of the credit union point out that in addition to encouraging thrift and helping those in financial difficulties without exorbitant charges, the principle of the credit union has these four advantages:

- It meets a credit need which, since banks as a rule have not filled it, has encouraged the spread of "gyp" finance companies.
- It aids the member to learn to manage his own money.
- The capital works for those to whom it belongs.
- The difference between sound borrowing within one's means is clearly distinguished from blind rushing into debt.

Every Knee Shall Bend"

The Gesu Holy Name Society held its outing at Riverview Beach on Sunday, August 7th. The number of parishioners that attended the affair surpassed all expectations. There were about five hundred adults, two hundred and twenty children between the ages of six and twelve and about one hundred children under the age of six making a total of approximately eight hundred and twenty-five people.

This attendance broke all previous parish records and was the largest affair of its kind ever run in the history of the parish.

The various committees holding their final meeting on the Saturday night before the outing were filled with apprehension as the skies were filled with clouds and an occasional downpour dampened our hopes for a clear day for the picnic. After raining most of the night it started to clear about five o'clock in the morning and at six the sun was shining in all its glory.

Before boarding the boat each child was given a taffy, a top, a whistle and a balloon as a direct result of which there were few quiet moments on the trip down the River. Messers Edward Coogan, Hugh Mangan and Frank Scherer played a few Irish and other pieces on the way down, which considerably enlivened the affair. Mr. Ramp and Mr. Cherricola had made all arrangements for the games for both young and old and a large number of prizes to award to the successful contestants. The children entered the games most seriously and with a wholehearted determination to win and all had a most enjoyable time.

At 4.30 o'clock the people began to board the boat to come home and everywhere could be seen tired but happy faces, children went to sleep all over the boat. As far as the committee could learn, there were no accidents or injuries to anyone to mar the occasion and all returned home tired but happy and thus wrote finis to one of the largest and best managed outings ever held in the Gesu Parish.

It is proper and fitting that Anthony Cherricola as chairman of our Picnic Committee should be congratulated on his excellent work. It is also proper that Walter Lawler and John Carr, co-chairmen of the Ticket Committee be congratulated on their fine work and for the many weeks and hours of effort they spent in getting the tickets into circulation, selling tickets, keeping records and making collections. Edward Coogan deserves our thanks as chairman of the Entertainment Committee and also Hugh Mangan and Frank Scherer who so ably assisted him in supplying music on this occasion. Mr. James Ramp, chairman of the Sports and Games Committee assisted by Mr. Anthony Cherricola and Mr. Thomas Holmes did an excellent job in securing prizes and running off the games. Mr. Thomas Holmes also rendered great assistance to the ticket committee in keeping records. Mr. S. P. Julian also rendered great assistance to the ticket committee since he sold over seventy-five tickets and led by far all the other members of the organization. Mr. Leo Glasser who sold over fifty tickets is also to be congratulated as are all the officers, captains and men who worked so industriously to make our affair a success. Our Society also desires to thank Mr. William Kohl who purchased one hundred children's tickets and made possible an outing for one hundred children who could not otherwise have gone.

The success of the affair brought words of praise for one and all from our Spiritual Director, Father Maguire, who has not ceased to smile from Sunday, August 7th until the present time, as he formulates plans for yet a bigger and larger outing next year.

Morning Prayer

Few realize the fruitful influence on our lives of a worthy compliance with the duty of morning prayer. That influence flows forth like a plentiful stream that marks its course with the outgrowth of plants, flowers and fruits. By consecrating, as we should, the first moments of the day to the thought of higher things, we soar to the regions where abide the immortal spirits of the just made perfect and the Creator Himself, with Whom we hold intimate communion before the advent of "the daily task, the trivial round," of the coming hours. We thus enter into that great inner world or kingdom of prayer, which the soul recognizes as its true home, and in it we continue to dwell all the day long, behind the outward mask, or veil, of work and talk and amusement. Just as music which was heard when the morning was fresh and young, fills our inner sense with its haunting strain in the midst of hurry and turmoil of the work-a-day world, so in early prayer there is a certain supernal melody, to which our spirit secretly listens, and which charms us despite care, temptation, and suffering, and strengthens the soul to dare and do what is great and noble in God's sight. And like the sunrise, which, when viewed from Alpine summits, communicates a solemn and exalted wonder and pleasure, this intercommunion of the soul and God suffuses the mind with radiance, softens life's asperities, and imparts worth to the commonest actions and the whole character of man. These are the results of the spirit of prayer, which issues with a full and gladdening tide from the quiet moments that are devoted in the freshness of the morning to loving adoration of the Divine presence; and the hope of such results should stir us up to withstand resolutely all wandering thoughts and the desire of the imagination to fly abroad on rebellious pinions. If, whenever we bow in supplication and praise, we would enjoy a perfect serenity, let us be strenuous in our labor for that blessing through an effective love of what is spiritual and eternal. Then peace will speedily alight in our heart, and folding its wings, will there abide.

Say Your Morning Prayers

For my part, says a Paulist Father, I look upon regular morning prayers as a plain mark of predestination to eternal life. "Ask and you shall find; knock and it shall be opened to you," is Our Lord's promise to those who pray; and the best prayer is the morning prayer. Be ready, therefore, to correct yourself for omitting it. The day you forget it, go without something you like to eat, put a nickel in the poor-box, double up your night prayers, make a special request to your guardian angel to get you up in good time for morning prayer the following morning. For the "Our Father," "Hail Mary," "Apostles' Creed," "Confiteor" and Acts of Faith, Hope, Sorrow and Charity that you say in the morning will in the end give you a happy death and the kingdom of heaven.

Feasts of the Month

FEASTS OF OUR LADY

The month of September is rich in feasts of Our Lady. Her birthday is on the 8th, her Holy Name on the 12th, her Seven Sorrows on the 15th, and the feast of Our Lady of Mercy on the 24th. Each of these feasts has a special lesson to convey, her sorrows in particular, emphasized by this second feast to commemorate them.

THE EIGHTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER is the FEAST OF OUR LADY'S NATIVITY, when she was born into the world to enjoy a brief period of peace and joy, followed by many years of unexampled sorrow. Even that purest and holiest of mothers could not enter into the Kingdom of her Son save through many tribulations.

The birth of the Blessed Virgin Mary announced joy and the near approach of salvation to the lost world. Mary was brought forth into the world not like other children of Adam, infected with the loathsome contagion of sin, but pure, holy, beautiful and glorious, adorned with all the most precious graces which became her who was chosen to be the Mother of God.

ON THE TWELFTH, BY THE FEAST OF THE HOLY NAME OF MARY, the Church reminds us of the power of this sweet and Holy Name—a mother's name, tender and strong as her love—which has wrought so many wonders and destroyed so many heresies in the Christian world.

The sweet name of Mary, chosen for the universal mother, is symbolical of her dignity and prerogatives. In the Syriac it means "Queen"; in the Hebrew, "Star of the Sea." She was a queen even in its earthly sense, because she was of royal lineage. Her glorious ancestry can be traced back forty centuries, and neither silence nor prejudice has been able to break it. She is a queen because she is the Mother of the King of Kings.

She is a star because she is a symbol of purity. She sends forth a pure, untarnished ray of light. She brought forth the Light of the World, and she is so pure she stands for the personification of virginity, and all nations acclaim her blessed. To the poor mariner, tossing on the waves in his fragile barque, she is ever guiding star, leading to the safest of havens.

ABOUT MIDWAY IN THE MONTH, ON THE FIFTEENTH, occurs the FEAST OF THE SEVEN DOLORS. Few people seem to know that September is specially dedicated to the Sorrows of Mary. In the Mass of the day the Church salutes her as the Queen of Martyrs when she says that Our Lady, "without dying, merited the palm of martyrdom beneath the Cross of the Lord." Moreover, the Church has granted an indulgence of three hundred days, to be gained each day of the month by performing any approved devotion in honor of the Seven Dolors, and a plenary indulgence on one day of the month, under the additional condition of confession and Communion and prayer for the intentions of the Holy Father.

It is customary in the Church of God to celebrate the day on which a Saint was taken from this life, as his or her birthday. That is the real birthday for the Church. In the case of two elect souls, the Church celebrates their birth into this life as feast days. Mary, who was born without stain of original sin, and Saint John the Baptist, who was sanctified in his mother's womb before birth, are thus commemorated. SEPTEMBER 8TH IS THE FEAST OF THE NATIVITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN; the other, which occurred on June 24th, was the feast of the Nativity of Saint John the Baptist.

Mary—blessed name, which I love and venerate from the depths of my heart! I declare—from my experience of souls—that when a heart has received from Heaven the precious gift whereby it turns to Mary in its sufferings, its trials and its dangers, that heart always finds peace, rest, blessing. The path of a soul which trusts itself with ease, and habitually, to Mary is always one of liberty, peace and simplicity.

JESUIT FEASTS

There are more feasts of the Society of Jesus during this month than in any other month of the year. There are nine in all—six of these within the first ten days, the others within the last week.

On Saturdays, September 3, we have the feast of the Blessed Martyrs Antony Ixida and companions.

On the next day, September 4, we commemorate another group of beatified Martyrs, Blessed James Bonnaud and her heroic companions.

Two days later, on September 6, we honor another group of Martyrs, Blessed Thomas and Michael and their companions. The very next day, September 7, we are reminded of another glorious group of Martyrs, Blessed Mark, Stephen and Melchior the leaders of this band.

Then comes, on September 9, the canonized St. Peter Claver, glorious confessor of the faith and Apostle of the Negroes. We have a church named for him here in our own city.

The very next day, September 10, we meet another valiant band of Martyrs, Blessed Charles Spinola and companions.

Passing now to the last week of the month we honor another band of Martyrs, led by Blessed Camillus and Augustine, on September 25.

Then comes that glorious group of our own New York Martyrs, born in other lands but the first to shed their blood for the faith on our soil. St. Isaac Jogues and his companions. Within your own memory these have passed through the stages of beatification and canonization.

June 21, 1925, will ever be a memorable day in the history of the Church of North America. On that morning in St. Peter's Church at Rome the Papal Decree was solemnly read, proclaiming as Martyrs for the Faith the six Jesuit Fathers and their two companions, who suffered and died in the United States and Canada.

Three of the newly beatified won the martyr's crown in New York State, Isaac Jogues, Rene Goupil, and John de Lalande; the others in Canada, John de Brebeuf, Anthony Daniel, Gabriel Lalement, Charles Garnier and Noel Chabannel.

Blessed Isaac Jogues and his two companions, Blessed Rene Goupil and Blessed John de Lalande, were slain at Auriesville, N. Y., where for the last forty years Catholics have been cherishing their memory at the shrine of Our Lady of Martyrs. It is hoped that soon a worthy church will rise as a memorial to the Martyrs on the site of the Indian village, the scene of their glorious triumph.

Blessed Isaac Jogues was born in 1607. He came to the Jesuit Missions in 1636 and for six years labored among the Hurons. On his way back from Quebec, whither he had been sent to obtain supplies in 1642, he was taken prisoner by the Iroquois and cruelly tortured in the Mohawk village of Ossernenon. A sharer in the captivity and torture was his faithful associate, Blessed Rene Goupil. The latter was killed on September 29, whilst Father Jogues was retained as a captive for over a year. We are familiar from childhood with his pious practice of carving the name of "Jesus" and the figure of a cross on the trees of the forest. The Dutch settlers at Albany helped him to escape to France, but he returned to Canada, went on an embassy to arrange peace with the Mohawks and was on his way back to Auriesville for the third time, when he was seized by the savages and after excruciating tortures put to death on October 18, 1646. The following day his companion, Blessed John de Lalande, met the same fate. They were slain because the Indians hated the God of the Christians. The feast of the Martyrs comes on the twenty-sixth of September.

EMBER DAYS

Wednesday, Friday, Saturday—September 21st, 23rd, 24th

Ember days are days of fast and abstinence and were instituted to thank God for His gifts of nature, and to teach men to use them for the service of God.

We mean by the ember days the three fast days—WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—which occur four times during the year. One of these four times is the week following the FEAST OF THE EXALTATION OF THE HOLY CROSS, SEPTEMBER 14th. This month, therefore, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, September 21st, 23rd, 24th, will be ember days. They are FAST days, that is days on which ONLY ONE FULL MEAL IS ALLOWED for those who are not excused from fasting. They are also ABSTINENCE days, that is, days on which all who are not excused from abstinence are obliged to abstain from meat. By special concession to working people and their families meat is allowed at the one full meal on Wednesday and Saturday.

This is the law of the Church. This law has not been abrogated by the dispensation granted to workmen and their families by the indulgence of the Holy See, and even those who avail themselves of it should conform to the spirit of the Church by performing other voluntary acts of self-denial. This indulgence affects abstinence only.

Union-Men! Beware of "Spanish Democracy"

A short time ago, an appeal was sent out from 1011 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, by the Friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade. This appeal is "For Immediate Help To The American Heroes In Spain." We are told "They left their jobs and their families to defend on the battlefields of Spain the same ideals of Democracy and freedom which gave America its birth."

"A large sum of money is needed to bring these heroes back home and hospitalize them."

Let us take a look at this "Spanish Democracy" so like the "ideals which gave America its birth." Here is its record thus far . . . Cold-blooded murder of thousands of innocent people, slaughter of thousands of priests and nuns, burning and destruction of thousands of churches, unspeakable blasphemies against God. And these are the same "ideals of democracy" which gave America its birth!

The Spanish Bishops tell us the frightful story. They know; they are on the ground of these frightful crimes. Listen to their testimony: "Although the figures are premature, we calculate that about 20,000 churches and chapels have been destroyed or totally plundered. The murdered priests will sum up, of the secular clergy alone, about 6,000. They were hunted with dogs, they were pursued across the mountains, they were searched for with eagerness in every hiding-place. The number of laymen who have been murdered only for their political ideas and especially for their religious ones is calculated to surpass 300,000. Many had their limbs amputated, or were dreadfully mutilated before being murdered; their eyes were put out, their tongues cut out, they were ripped open from top to bottom, burned or buried alive, chopped to death with axes." Our Holy Father Pius XI said some time ago: "Bishops and priests, consecrated Virgins, the laity of every class and condition; all have been assaulted, violated, destroyed and in the most ruthless and barbarous way." His Eminence Cardinal Dougherty said: "The whole world has been aghast at the horrible butchery of priests, nuns, and lay-Catholics in Spain."

Compare this barbaric butchery with the "ideals of democracy and freedom which gave America its birth." The whole thing is an insult to our American ideals, a communist insult to the memory of Washington and Lincoln who must be turning in their graves at their names being even remotely connected with such Democracy.

By its own admission this "Spanish Democracy" is Russian Democracy. Listen to this: "The proletariat of Spain will always strive during the war and after the war is over to follow the example of your great country." (Telegram to Russia from Largo Caballero, former Loyalist premier, known as the Spanish Lenin.)

Again listen: "Madrid celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the When You Patronize Our Advertisers—Please Mention the Monthly Calendar

Russian revolution suddenly blossomed today with huge portraits of Russian leaders, Communist slogans, red stars and pledges of homage to and solidarity with the Soviet Union. Pictures of Joseph Stalin appeared in most newspapers with eulogistic articles. Official greetings, gifts and a delegation already have been dispatched to Moscow." (New York Times, Nov. 2, 1937.)

This is the Moscow-Red Spanish Democracy our "American Heroes" went over to fight for. And they want YOUR money to bring home their wounded.

Union Men of Philadelphia: don't be fooled by this Communist appeal. For that is what it is. If these poor deluded "heroes" must be brought home, let the Communists who recruited them, bring them home with some of the money they are spending for propaganda to overthrow the United States Government.

Last month a correspondent of the New York Times interviewed 80 Americans captured by General Franco's troops. When asked who supplied the funds for their trip to Spain they declared "that with the exception of the five who had paid or worked their way over, all had been sent by the Communist party of the United States or one of the organizations working with the party, such as the North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy or the Friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade." (New York Times, July 11th, 1938.)

These "Heroes" know who sent them over. You have their own testimony. Let the same crowd bring them back—But—NOT WITH YOUR HARD-EARNED MONEY. Remember this, Union Men of Philadelphia, Catholic, Protestant or Jew: Your union was organized to protect yourselves, your homes and your families and to assure yourselves and your families a fair, decent and honorable living as American citizens—not to be dupes for Communist organizers. Watch every move at your local meetings. Don't let a single penny be voted for "Spanish Democracy" or for "American Heroes" of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade. Take the floor. Don't let them fool you. Your dues are paid for the support of your AMERICAN UNION—But—NOT ONE CENT FOR "SPANISH DEMOCRACY." Union Men: SHOW YOUR COLORS—THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE OF THE STARS AND STRIPES. THAT'S YOUR FLAG. STAND BY IT IN YOUR UNION.

For your own information, here are some of the names listed as endorsing this appeal for the "American Heroes."

Mass Intentions

Do I ever have a Mass said for my parents—living or dead?
Do I ever have a Mass said for my children—living or dead?
Do I ever have a Mass said for my friends—living or dead?
Do I ever have a Mass said for my spiritual or temporal needs?
Do I ever have a Mass said in thanksgiving?
Do I ever have a Mass said in reparation?

An Irish Mother's Beads

(To my Mother—God love her and give her rest)

"You're asking what they mean to me—me Rosary and me beads—
And why I sit here in the dusk, a tellin' Her me needs;
Ah! if you knew the comfort sweet, the peace and blessing rare,
That sinners like meself enjoy, to go to Her in prayer;
Sure, She's a Mother like meself, and knows a Mother's heart,
And all the things that's hidden there, kept from the world apart;
And so I sit and talk to Her, and tell Her of me boy,
And all the things I'm wishing for his welfare and his joy;
"I tell Her how I teach the lad to love Christ and Herself,
And then I ask Her speak a word to Jesus for meself;
For every Mother's son, I know, is kind to all her friends,
If Mary is my friend I'll reach Her Jesus in the end;
When things go wrong and trouble makes the heart of me so blue,
I go to Her and there I see the Sword Her Own Heart knew;
She knows me weakness and me strength, She knows the human heart,
And next to Christ She suffered most, of Calvary She was part;
"Within me hands I hold the Cross that's fastened to me beads,
And on it is Her tortured Son; I know Her Own Heart bleeds;
She never knew the touch of sin, She was God's purest One,
I ask Her to keep sin from me, and lead me to Her Son;
Her beads! I'll cling to them in life until me dying breath.
And say: 'God's Mother, pray for me, now, Dear, and at me death,'
For if She's near me all through life, and near me when I die,
Her Jesus will not cast me off, if She is standing by."

William F. Sheridan.

Jubilee Notes

By the time this edition of the Calendar reaches our parishioners preparations for the great Golden Jubilee will be well advanced towards completion. The theatrical displays which will be complement to the spiritual functions will add to the festivities and all classes of our people will add their quota and share in the general picture.

The men who are conducting the drive for finances will deserve to be high in the general picture for their self-sacrificing labors in behalf of the Jubilee. Night after night they are out endeavoring to contact the people to give them a chance to give their contributions. Those who have experience know that it is not an easy task to contact all as there are many in spite of appeals made even from the pulpit who leave their homes without leaving their pledge cards and money, or a note that they cannot or do not intend to contribute anything towards the expenses or the reduction of the debt so that the time of consecration of our beautiful church may be advanced.

As all the pledges are not in yet we cannot give even an estimate of the amount that will be contributed. All we can say at this time that the total will be far from the total expected unless greater sacrifices are made by all. It was hoped that the total of last year's block would be at least four times as large. Will it be?

We are sure of one very important thing for the Parish, that is, a complete census. The painstaking efforts made by all the workers have brought to light scores of people who were buried away from our sight in apartment and rooming houses. Later on when we start our campaign for the spiritual campaign in accordance with the wishes of our Holy Father who has been crying out for the assistance of the laity in bringing the blessings of God's Church to those who through ignorance of the teachings of the Church of Christ, or some other reason that can be easily removed.

An executive committee of all our Societies which will direct all activities in the parish will soon be formed and the parish will be organized and sections given to the various groups to work under capable leaders. There is work to be done and with God's help that work will be done according to the wishes of the Vicar of Christ. The drive will continue till the 8th of December. The men who are engaged in the work and helping the Fathers are showing themselves to be real campaigners in the manner in which they are working the districts to which they have been assigned by the Rev. Director and his able Assistants, Mr. Walter Lawler and Mr. Leo Glasser. Not only are the men working hard but they are ably assisted in clerical work and handling the returns, by Mrs. Catherine Alminde and Miss Mary Hogan and a number of young girls.

The men who are laboring are the following and it is our desire that they be remembered in the prayers of all. Mr. James Dougherty and Edward Daly; Mr. John J. Carr and Mr. John Alminde; Mr. Lawrence Finnigan and Mr. Al. McPhillips; Mr. Joseph Monaghan and Mr. Frank McCabe; Mr. James McLaughlin and Mr. Michael Darcey; Mr. Edward Coogan and Mr. Edward Foley; Mr. Anthony Cherricola and Mr. James Donnelly; Mr. John Brecker and Mr. John Burtchall; Mr. S. P. Julien and Mr. John O'Donnell; Mr. Leo Volpe and Aloysius Carney; Mr. John E. Martin and Mr. Leo Washila; Mr. William Gallagher and Mr. Jerome Curtin; Mr. John McLoughlin and Mr. John A. Ryan; Mr. Hugh Mangan and Mr. George Burns; Mr. Patrick O'Connell and Mr. Thomas McCabe; Mr. Patrick O'Donnell and Mr. John O'Rourke; Mr. John Cochran and Mr. Clement Mahoney; Mr. Joseph Kane and Mr. David Shafer; Mr. Patrick McKenney and Mr. Francis Thompson; Mr. Thomas McPhillips and Mr. John Golden. A special committee headed by Mr. James D. Ramp will contact all the business men who are conducting stores within the parish. Mr. Wm. T. Welsh is also giving valuable aid.

SOUVENIR OF GOLDEN JUBILEE

A large and beautiful souvenir book of our Golden Jubilee, containing pictures and a history of the parish and its activities will be published about the beginning of December. There should be a copy in every home in the parish. The price is to be One Dollar ($1.00) per copy subscribed for in advance. Our Church Debt Solicitors will take your order and give you a printed receipt for your copy. Copies may also be paid for through Brother Rosenecker, S.J., in the Treasurer's Office, any time before November 15th. The supply of this souvenir book will be limited and only those who order their copies ahead of time will be sure of obtaining this historical record of the parish.

INFORMATION WANTED: Old parishioners who have photographs and documents of interest for our grand souvenir book of the Golden Jubilee are asked to bring the same to the Rectory before October 15th. Please leave these pictures and documents at the Rectory in Father Fortescue's name together with the name of the party contributing the information.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association will resume regular business meetings beginning in September and it is hoped attendance at the meetings will multiply considerably. With the study of Federal Credit Union and the possibility of housing improvements made possible in various ways, the homeowners and property owners are being urged to put forth special effort in the rehabilitation of the neighborhood.

That the work is being effective is evident from the fact that the number of property improvements in the neighborhood is increasing. For many years the Provident Trust Company has had a property standing and falling into decay, with broken windows and fences and other signs of deterioration on the corner of Perkiomen and Edwin Streets. During the past month that property has been pointed, all barriers at windows and doors removed, complete set of new windows set in, and various other repairs set in motion. This after repeated attempts during a period of many years have met only the response that the property was part of an estate and nothing could be done about it. It seems even estates come to life eventually.

This is one of several such properties which after long months and years of disuse have been renovated and made into comfortable homes because the onmarch of deterioration has been stopped by our Association and the owners and tenants have a brighter outlook for the future.

The spirit of the Jubilee should fill all hearts at this particular time urging special effort to renew the spirit that pervaded the neighborhood when the GESU PARISH first became a parish. Then everyone's pride was in their parish and during fifty years so far as is possible the Gesu has given no one any reason to lose that pride. Catholics all over the city have found in the Gesu and in the Jesuit Fathers their chief source of consolation in trials and difficulties and today as ever the Fathers are untiring in their efforts for the spiritual and temporal welfare of their flock.

So do what YOU can do to promote the Jubilee spirit and induce your NEIGHBOR to do so likewise—so that December 8th may dawn on a renewed and beautified NEIGHBORHOOD in keeping with the renewed and beautified CHURCH OF THE GESU.

—Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association.

Holy Name Notes

At the last meeting of the Gesu Holy Name Society, our Spiritual Director, Rev. James J. Maguire announced that he had been placed in charge of the Golden Jubilee Drive and that he was depending principally upon the Holy Name men to help put the drive across. All the men present pledged their wholehearted support. It was decided to divide the Parish into sections and to make an entire canvass of the whole Parish. Father Maguire announced that he was going to call a joint meeting of all the Church Societies to outline plans for the drive. The joint meeting was held the following week and at that meeting it was decided that the Holy Name men and the Young Men's Sodality and some of the other parish men should do all the collecting.

The Married and Single Women Sodalities agreed to keep all the records of collections and the pledge cards.

A further meeting was called by Reverend Father Rector at which over fifty men were present. Forty men were finally selected to call on the parishioners, thirty of whom were Holy Name men. It was decided that the drive should be started on Sunday, September 11th and continue until the first week in December.

The first collectors reported that while they had been received very cordially, the amounts given or pledged were very small. It is hoped, however, that the pledges will increase and that the drive will gain momentum as it progresses.

St. Joseph's College Free Evening School of Social Sciences Curriculum Revises. Many New Courses Introduced Directors' Group to Be Inaugurated

St. Joseph's College Free Evening School of Social Sciences will enter its fourth year on Monday, October 10, when registration for the coming year will be held in the High School building at Eighteenth and Thompson Sts. The purpose of the school has ever been the dissemination of right principles in a world of agitators. During the past three years it has progressed forward in the right direction and intends to carry on its good work for the coming year. Its doors are open to all working people, men and women. No scholastic credits are required and none are given. The School feels that it has done its good work if its students are imbued with the right principles and become agitators for the right cause.

Working men and women have attended the School during the past three years in large numbers. The School welcomes people from all walks of life and every shade of opinion, and strives to present positive principles and applications of the same to the great problems that vex the economic and social life of the nation.

The curriculum has been revised and a two years course, graded for the new and old student will be put into effect. It is expected that the faculty will be enlarged to meet the demand of so many new students that wish to enroll.

Very frequently we hear the college graduate ask the question: What can we do to prevent the spread of radical ideas in all classes of Society? To the answering of this question the School intends to inaugurate a new group, called the Directors' Group. This group will obtain an extensive and intensive training in the technique of Propaganda, so that study clubs can be formed in many parts of the city of the working men and women, who, for many reasons, cannot attend the School. This group will act as leaders and will be ready to answer the vexing questions proposed. Thereby the work of the Evening School will be extended to every part of the city. If time permits during the coming year the Regent of the School intends to invite the Junior Executives of business to attend the lectures, so that both Labor and Capital can discuss in the same room their own particular problems.

Complete information may be obtained by addressing your communications to Fr. Robert A. Parsons, S.J., Regent, St. Joseph's College School of Social Sciences, Eighteenth and Thompson Streets.

Feasts of the Month

THE GUARDIAN ANGELS—OCTOBER 2

God has created two orders of creatures endowed with immortal souls; one composed of body and soul, that is, man; the other of soul or spirit alone, namely, angels. We know of the existence of these spirits and that they have been given to man to watch over him, from many places in Holy Scripture; such as, "He hath given His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways." (Psalm 90:11.)

We may learn something of the duties of our guardian angels from the little prayer which Catholics know so well:

"Angel of God, my guardian dear,
To whom His love commits me here;
Ever this day be at my side,
To light, to guard, to rule and guide."

The prayer names four offices that we ask our guardians to fill; to help our minds to differentiate between good and evil; to protect us from that evil; to govern the circumstances of our lives; and to watch over our every step until we stand on the threshold of heaven. To perform this task they must be at our side every minute of the day and as long as we live.

A true Christian may derive real consolation from remembering from time to time this simple doctrine of the Guardian Angel. The man who fails to consult his spiritual monitor when in difficulty is merely casting aside the counsel of a prudent and trusty friend.

ST. TERESA OF THE CHILD JESUS (THE LITTLE FLOWER) OCTOBER 3

Mary Frances Teresa Martin was born at Alencon, France, January 2, 1873. She entered the Carmel at Lisieux on April 9, 1888. She was remarkable only for her perfect simplicity, humility, charity and her love of and trust in God. She died at Lisieux, September 30, 1897. She writes herself: "I count fully on not remaining idle in Heaven. My longing is to labor even there for the Church and souls. Our Lord will work wonders for me that will infinitely surpass my boundless desire. After my death, I shall let fall a shower of roses."

ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI—OCTOBER 4

Born in the town of Assisi in Umbria in the year 1182, Francis' love of the poor made a saint of him. Few saints have exercised such a mighty influence upon the Church and human society. The principal task of St. Francis was to follow in inward and outward sufferings his Redeemer who sanctioned his mode of life by the seal of the stigmata which he received.

ST. FRANCIS BORGIA—OCTOBER 10

Worldly honors and possessions, so often an impediment in the path of virtue, proved no obstacle to the sanctity of this Spanish nobleman. In the midst of the cares attendant upon the high offices he filled in the state he won the admiration of all by the austerity of his life and his practice of Christian virtue. It fell to his lot, as Viceroy of Catalonia, to escort the remains of the Empress Isabella to the City of Granada. When the coffin was opened, he was struck with horror at the sight of the ravages wrought by death in the once beautiful features and immediately registered a vow henceforth to serve no mortal monarch, but only the King of kings.

Upon the death of his wife, he entered the Society of Jesus, of which he had long been a friend and benefactor, hoping thus to remain more securely hidden and to cut off all possibility of being advanced to high honors in the Church. Five times he refused the Cardinal's hat, offered to him by several Popes, and when, in 1565, he was elected the third General of the Society of Jesus, he burst into a flood of tears. He died at Rome in 1572.

ST. MARGARET MARY—OCTOBER 17

Members of the League and all true lovers of the Sacred Heart will not allow the 17th of October to pass without some very special devotional preparation for the celebration of the feast of St. Margaret Mary, the humble Visitation Nun, whom our Divine Lord chose from among all the holy souls of the seventeenth and previous and subsequent centuries to be His instrument in spreading devotion to His Sacred Heart. St. Margaret Mary was canonized, that is, raised to the Altars of the Church.

October 17th ought to be a day of general Communion for all the lovers of the Sacred Heart; thus honoring her whom our Lord honored and showing our devotion to her by doing what she desires more than anything else as our Divine Lord taught her, namely, to receive Holy Communion in preparation for the coldness and indifference shown our Lord's Sacred Heart and to intercede for poor sinners.

FEAST OF CHRIST OUR KING—OCTOBER 30

It is of Faith that Christ, as Man, has fullest spiritual power, leading to salvation, establishing the Church and her Sacraments, and disposing of all graces in the supernatural order. All this is included in His Kingdom on earth. But His domination does not end there.

In the year of Jubilee, 1889, Pope Leo XIII wrote:

"Christ's reign extends not only over the Catholic people or over all those who have been regenerated by Baptism and belong by right to the Church, even though erroneous opinions have led them astray or schisms have separated them from her, but it embraces also all such as have no Christian beliefs, so that all human kind is under the domination of Jesus Christ."

It is hoped that at the sight of this inspiring leadership those of her own children, who before may have been weak and languorous in their Faith, will now eagerly answer the Christ-Man's royal appeal to their loyalty and love, while many who still remain outside of His Spiritual Kingdom, the Church, will come rejoicing to the feet of their Savior-King. Such are the great purposes of that royal Feast of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King, celebrated each year throughout the entire world over which He must reign supreme.

The Feast of Our Lord, Jesus Christ, King, ought to be celebrated not merely in the churches but in every Catholic household of our Lord. What more appropriate ceremony could be suggested than the renewal by all the members of each family of their consecration to the Sacred Heart, father, mother, and all the children should kneel to recite their pledge to be faithful to Him, so that He may reign over their lives. Our consecration to the Heart of Jesus should be no mere form of words, but a heartfelt dedication to the service of Jesus Christ.

Millions of families in the United States are thus consecrated. We have recommended it year after year. All these are invited to make the coming Feast memorable by a renewal of their consecration. Families not yet consecrated should delay no longer to give the Heart of Jesus this consolation and to ensure for themselves the abundance of blessings promised to those who honor Him in this way.—Messenger of S. H.

Consecration of the Human Race to the Sacred Heart of Jesus

Most sweet Jesus, Redeemer of the human race, look down upon us humbly prostrate before Thy altar. We are Thine, and Thine we wish to be; but, to be more surely united with Thee, behold each one of us freely consecrates himself today to Thy Most Sacred Heart. Many indeed have never known Thee; many, too, despising Thy precepts, have rejected Thee. Have mercy on them all, most merciful Jesus, and draw them to Thy Sacred Heart. Be Thou King, O Lord, not only of the faithful who have never forsaken Thee, but also of the prodigal children who have abandoned Thee; grant that they may quickly return to their Father's house, lest they die of wretchedness and hunger. Be Thou King of those who are received by the harbor of truth and unity of faith, so that soon there may be but one flock and one Shepherd. Be Thou King of all those who are still involved in the darkness of idolatry or of Islamism, and refuse not to draw them all into the light and Kingdom of God. Turn Thine eyes of mercy toward the children of that race, once Thy chosen people. Of old they called down upon themselves the Blood of the Saviour; may it now descend upon them a laver of redemption and of life. Grant, O Lord, to Thy Church assurance of freedom and immunity from harm; give peace and order to all nations, and make the earth resound from pole to pole with one cry; Praise to the Divine Heart that wrought our salvation; to It be glory and honor forever. Amen.

ST. ALPHONSUS RODRIGUEZ, S.J.—OCTOBER 31

The feast of St. Alphonsus Rodriguez, S.J., Confessor is transferred this year to the 31st of the month as the Feast of Christ the King is to be celebrated on Sunday, October 30th. Alphonsus Rodriguez was born at Segovia, in 1531. He entered the Society of Jesus as a Lay Brother at Valencia. For many years he performed the duties of a college porter, distinguishing himself by a spirit of penance, obedience and fortitude. His canonization took place on January 15, 1888.

Religious Life for Men

"Yes, I should really like to consecrate my life to God, but unfortunately I know that the priesthood is not for me." It is surprising how often this statement is made in substance by ordinarily well-informed Catholic men. Consecration of one's life to God, the religious state, for men, at least, is supposed to demand the priesthood as a prerequisite; and according to the popular half truth, a man may be a priest who is not a religious, but surely not a religious unless a priest.

Why should there be no religious state for men not destined for the priesthood? Is there anything in the nature of a life consecrated to God, in a state in which one strives for his own perfection by means of the three vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience, which would prevent others than priests from embracing it? Nuns are religious, though they are not priests. Is there no similar state for men?

There is a religious state in which men not called to the priesthood can consecrate their lives to God. Thousands of men have given themselves to God in religion, and thousands will continue to do so, who will never become priests. These men are called brothers.

A brother is a religious in the fullest sense of the word. He offers his life completely to God, and vows to serve Him in poverty, chastity, and obedience according to the rules of his order. He enjoys all the privileges of the religious state; he strives for his own perfection; he does incalculable good for Christ's cause.

A true religious, a brother is invaluable to his order in its work for the salvation of souls. In some orders he teaches; in others he performs professional, artisan, or domestic duties. In one order, the Society of Jesus, approximately one quarter of the members are brothers, without whose valuable services the order would scarcely hope to continue its work for souls.

The Fathers will be glad to tell you more about the religious state for men, and to aid you or any other young man, to realize a noble ambition to serve God in religion.

How to Recite the Rosary

The Rosary has the peculiar excellence of combining meditation (or reflection) with vocal prayer. The prayers are the best in use in the Church of God—the Our Father, the Hail Mary and the Glory. The meditation is on the principal mysteries of the life of Our Lord and His Blessed Mother. It may be easily conceived that this union of reflection and prayer has the effect of making us thoughtful, generally, in regard to the mysteries of our Faith and also of fixing our attention in moments of converse with God.

At the beginning of each mystery we should represent to ourselves as vividly as possible the scene representing the mystery, say, the Annunciation or the Crowning with Thorns, or the Assumption of our Blessed Lady into Heaven. With the scene present to our minds, we begin the Lord's Prayer, speaking to the Eternal Father, whose wisdom and power were manifested in the great events of the life of our Divine Lord and His Blessed Mother. In the Hail Mary we address the Mother of God as having a part in or a sympathy with the mystery we are contemplating. At the close of the decade we glorify Father, Son and Holy Ghost, who are present and operative in each mystery. The prayer we are uttering can thus be recited in connection with the thoughts awakened in us by the contemplation of the mystery. For instance, the Eternal Father, whom we speak to in the Lord's Prayer, can be conceived as accepting the Sacrifice of His Divine Son. and Mary, as we are addressing her in the Hail Mary, can be thought of as offering up her own poignant sorrows with those of her Divine Son. These are but samples of the way in which meditation can be combined with vocal prayers in the recitation of the Rosary.

Promises of Our Lady to Those Who Devoutly Recite the Holy Rosary

To all those who recite my Rosary, I promise my special protection. The Rosary will be a powerful weapon against the powers of hell; it will root out vices, destroy sin, and subjugate all heresies.

He who calls on me through a Rosary shall not perish.

Whoever recites devoutly the Rosary, meditating on its holy mysteries, will not be cast down by troubles, nor perish by an unprovided death; but, if he is a sinner, he shall be converted, if he is virtuous, he shall increase in grace, and become worthy of eternal life.

Those who are truly devout in reciting my Rosary shall not die without the Sacraments.

I will deliver from Purgatory in the space of a day those souls devoted to my Rosary.

The true children of the Rosary shall enjoy a great glory in heaven.

Whatever you ask through the Rosary shall be granted.

Those who propagate my Rosary shall be helped by me in all their necessities.

Devotion to my Rosary is a great sign of predestination.

Reasons for Saying the Rosary

1. Because it brings the special blessing of God and His Immaculate Mother on the individual, the family, and the home.
2. Because it is the form of prayer that is dearest to our Blessed Lady.
3. Because, if we use indulgenced Beads, it is a most powerful means of relieving the Souls in Purgatory.
4. Because it unites mental and vocal prayer.
5. Because it is so easy to say, and calls for no great or sustained mental effort.
6. Because the prayers that compose it are the most sacred and beautiful prayers in the Church's whole liturgy.
7. Because it has a most sanctifying effect on our souls, and is most sweet and consoling.
8. Because the oftener we say it the more we shall love it.
9. Because, in a word, all sorts of graces and blessings are promised to those who devoutly recite it.

How Stalin Loves His People

Communist writers and speakers are eternally telling of their great love for the workers and peasants and how wonderful their lot is in Russia the great Soviet Paradise. Well here is something you don't hear them mention. How about this for an example of love for the workers in the "Workers' Paradise?" Keep this for reference. It is the story of a man-made famine. A deliberately government-organized famine which cost the lives of millions of peasants, men, women and children. It happened in 1932-33 in that part of Soviet Russia known as the North Caucasus, Ukraine and Central Asia. The poor peasants were slow and uninterested in reaping their crops because they felt the government would confiscate them. To punish the peasants for this and for their resistance to the seizure of their lands, the government "of the people" refused all aid and allowed hunger and starvation to take their course. The outside world knew practically nothing of this organized act of brutality, as no newspaper reporters were allowed near the district until the dreadful tragedy was over. Results? Between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 human beings died at the hands of a government that keeps telling the world it is "the peoples' government."

This was a man-made famine, a deliberate government-made famine. A Soviet official admitted that to have allowed grain to come in from the outside would have harmed the government's "prestige" and to have allowed the peasants to hold on to their grain meant encouraging them to produce little. This is one chapter of the Soviet Paradise the Communists of the United States don't talk about. Is it any wonder? Naturally such love for the people wouldn't go over very big in this country. Oh, but they would never do that here! Wouldn't they? Why not if they got the chance? The leopard doesn't change his spots. Ask Russia. She knows.

Lord, Grant Them Rest in Peace

When tired eyes have closed in death, when life's turmoil has ceased,
And souls stand at Thy Judgment Bar, Lord, grant them rest in peace;
Life's Book is then forever closed; the record of their years
Shall be the scales to weigh their deeds, to bring them joy or tears;
When for them, Lord, the day is done, when at Thy Throne they stand,
Grant they may not as strangers come—alone, with empty hands;
May they have lived for love of Thee, love which the years increased,
So they may hear: "Well done" from Thee; Lord, grant them rest in peace:

Grant rest and peace to all the dead, make short their prison days,
And bring them to Eternal Light, to live with Thee always;
Give rest to all forgotten souls, remembered not in prayers,
Though men forget them, show them, Lord, their Father for them cares;
Grant rest to all abandoned souls, to souls with sentence long,
Let Mercy flood Thy Justice, Lord, and blot out all their wrongs;
Give Rest Eternal to those souls who soon shall know release,
Have Mary bring them Home to Thee; Lord, grant them rest in peace;

Have mercy, Jesus, on them all, forgive each sinful deed,
Remember only for these souls, Thy Own dear Heart didst bleed;
The Crown of Thorns, the Scourging, too, the crimsoned Calvary Way,
Thy tortured death—all these were borne for souls for whom I pray;
Flames now bring anguish to them, Lord, but greater far the pain
To see Thee for a moment brief, then lose Thee, Lord, again;
Look down with pity on them, Lord, their prison door release,
And take them to Thy Heart and Home; Lord, grant them rest in peace.

—William F. Sheridan.

The Last Nightwatch

"Don't ask me, Son, to leave him now, I want to stay right here;
All through the night, beside my dead, I know he'd want me near;
Tonight's the last he'll be with us, they'll take him soon away,
Then I'll have days and nights to sleep and take the rest you say;
My heart is almost breaking, Lad, I just can't stop the tears,
How can I lay away the one I've loved for fifty years?
Fifty Years! Sure it only seems a dozen, maybe less,
Since for my heart and hand he asked, and proudly I said 'Yes;'

"To love and cherish me through life, they were the words he said,
He kept them from our Wedding Day until his life was fled;
We worked together through the years without a cent to spare,
But I was rich—I had his love, his tenderness and care—
When babies came to cheer our hearts—God blessed us, Son, with nine—
Your father grew, as each one came, more tender and more kind;
We stood together by each crib in well days and sick nights,
And always was he there to share my sorrow and delight;

"When God called Jack and Mary home, and death's grief we did taste,
His face was pressed against my own, his arm around my waist;
We worked and dreamed, we lived and loved, for fifty golden years,
Then from my arms God called him Home and left me grieving here;
I'll not forget his parting words: 'It's waiting, dear I'll be,
For heaven will not be complete until you're there with me;'
So let me sit with him tonight, tomorrow we must part,
And when they lay him in the grave, they'll bury, too, my heart."

—William F. Sheridan.

Holy Name Notes

No meeting of the Holy Name Society was held during the month of October due to the fact that all of the active members of the Society are busily engaged in the Golden Jubilee Drive. The men working on the drive report that they have had very little success in getting new members to join the Holy Name Society, the Married Men's Sodality or the Young Men's Sodality.

On the second Sunday of the month the Holy Name Society and Young Men's Sodality received Communion in a group at the 7.30 o'clock Mass.

While the attendance at this Mass on the second Sunday of October was slightly larger than usual, in all there were only slightly more than two hundred men and young men that received Communion in a body. At the same Mass thirty-one men received Communion who were sitting in the side aisles. These men should have been seated in the middle aisle and received Communion with the men in a body.

Any man or young man wishing to join the Holy Name Society, the Married Men's Sodality or the Young Men's Sodality need only give his name and address to the men standing at the foot of the middle aisle on the second or third Sundays of the month at the 7.30 o'clock Mass.

The women of the Parish are asked to have their fathers, brothers, husbands or sons join one of the men's Societies and receive Communion once a month with that Society.

The Holy Name Society and the Single Men's Sodality receive Communion on the second Sunday of the month at the 7.30 o'clock Mass.

The Married Men's Sodality receives Communion on the third Sunday of the month at the 7.30 o'clock Mass.

All the men and young men are invited to join and the women are requested to remind the men in their families to go to Confession and to receive Communion with the men in a body.

THE GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION installed newly elected officers at the last regular meeting, as follows:

President, John E. Martin
1st V. P., Jas. McNally, Property
2nd V. P., Mrs. Marie Conlin, Organization
3rd V. P., Mrs. A. McGarry, Publicity
4th V. P., Clement Mahoney, Finance
Financial Secretary, Neil Boyle
Recording Secretary, Matilda M. Brennan

The success of the organization will depend in great measure on the work of these officers, but their efforts may well be in vain without the earnest support of the membership and residents of the NEIGHBORHOOD. Therefore, show your NEIGHBORHOOD SPIRIT by co-operating in every way possible.

An encouraging and interesting address by Norman J. Griffin, prominent attorney and member of St. Joseph's Evening School Faculty, gave side-lights on the history of the Church in America and of the Gesu in particular; outlining the difficulties and almost unsurmountable barriers to progress which were encountered by the early Missionaries and the dogged persistence with which they were overcome.

He commended the officers and members for the spirit displayed in their movement for neighborhood improvement and outlined new ideas for the furtherance of their plans. The seed planted now, in Mr. Griffin's opinion, will bear fruit not only in this NEIGHBORHOOD but will be the means of encouraging like movements throughout the city to the general improvement and betterment of the entire city area.

Reports brought to the meeting recently concerning insufficient police protection, unsanitary conditions in discarded properties and dangerous and unsightly sidewalks, have been turned over to the proper city authorities. An immediate response from the various departments involved pledged their united co-operation and interest in our work.

Do not sit idly by lamenting the unsatisfactory conditions about you. Attend your NEIGHBORHOOD meetings and present your difficulties. Do not say "Nothing can be done about it" until YOU HAVE TRIED TO DO SOMETHING. In every case where a legitimate complaint has been brought to the meeting and taken up by the organization adjustment has been effected.

Our President, Mr. Martin, plans to bring to the meetings from time to time, men of ability and knowledge who can lend constructive criticism to our efforts and thereby guide us into paths of success.

We trust our earnest Past President, Dr. Francis Stokes, while retiring from office, will continue to lend to the organization the benefit of his experience and his genial guidance and we tender him a vote of thanks for his two years service.

Our sincere good wishes to the incoming officers and a pledge to support their work.

Miraculous Medal Novena

Since its inception as the flying battalion of the Holy See, the Society of Jesus, under the enthusiastic inspiration of its founder Saint Ignatius, has always been foremost in spreading devotion to its Queen, Mary the mother of our dear Lord. The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary owe their origin to the early fathers of the order and so great was the spiritual good obtained through this movement for the entire Christian world that today the Sodality is part and parcel of every parish. Four years ago the devotion to the Blessed Mother under the title of the Miraculous Medal was begun at the Gesu, and the service was always held on Sunday evenings at 8. The initial enthusiasm which drew large crowds to the novena has greatly decreased within the past year. This fact has caused concern to the Fathers of the parish, who as devoted sons of Mary, wish to see the services conducted in her honor well attended. Hence a change has been decided upon and will become effective in the parish beginning with the month of November. The service will be transferred from Sunday to Monday evenings at 8 o'clock. Secondly one Father will conduct the novena for a month and will give over this period a series of sermons upon one topic. Father Kines will preach the novena during the month of November, Father Bellwoar during December, Father Redmond during January. The intention box for favors needed and received, will be placed at the Blessed Virgin's altar on Friday till Sunday evening. We hardly need to urge devoted lovers of Mother Mary to show their confidence in her intercession, by making this child-like act of faith. Nor do we feel that much urging is necessary to make the Gesu parish once again the parish of our Lady.

"You Prayed for Me"

You prayed for me. You did not know my need,
Nor that my heart was very sore indeed,
Nor that I had a fear I could not quell.
You sensed that all was not quite well with me,
And you—you prayed.

How to Help the Holy Souls

The Church teaches that we can help the souls in Purgatory by the Sacrifice of the Mass, by indulgences, by prayer and almsgiving, and by other exercises of piety. Therefore—

1. If possible, have the Holy Sacrifice offered for your dead. Hear Mass devoutly every day with the intention of aiding them.
2. Fix upon some definite prayers to be said for the Holy Souls, e. g., the Beads, the En Ego after Holy Communion, the Way of the Cross at least occasionally.
3. Try to gain some of the indulgences offered so freely by the Church. The indulgences attached to the Beads and the Way of the Cross are almost incalculable. Many short prayers carry rich indulgences.
4. Give alms to some needy persons, to some deserving charity. Give generous support to your pastor and to the Parochial School.
5. Receive Holy Communion frequently; if possible every day. Daily Communion may be counted (next to the Holy Sacrifice) as the best means at our disposal to aid the suffering Holy Souls.

The Stoning of a Cardinal

The attack on Cardinal Innitzer in Vienna has shocked The Philadelphia Record. Says The Record: "Yet the shocking outrage, the invasion of his palace by the mob, his door crashed with battering rams, a crucifix set afire, his furniture seized and burned in the public square, the Cardinal himself stoned through the smashed windows of his private chapel. . . . ALL that squares perfectly with the history of Nazi character. So do the cries of the mob!"

Fine! Every decent man and woman ought to be shocked at this. A Cardinal means more to Catholics than he does to The Record, and every Catholic worth his salt is far more shocked than The Record ever dreamed of being. We have no delusions about the persecution of the Church in Germany and the sufferings there of our fellow-Catholics. But here is the interesting thing: Cardinal Goma, Primate of Spain, is now living in Pamplona, Spain, because he had to clear out of his own residence at Toledo, after it had been bombed seven times by 'Spanish Democracy' air-men. Not by 'irresponsible mobs'. The Record shocked? No sign of it has reached us yet.

Here is an excerpt from The Record's own columns August 1, 1938; Quoting Monsignor Edward Hawks, rector of St. Joan of Arc Church, Philadelphia, The Record says: "In Asturias I saw the total destruction by dynamite and gasoline of ninety-five percent of the hundreds of churches I was able to visit and photograph. I saw and photographed places where hundreds of innocent people were killed in cold blood. I saw the bodies of nuns which were dragged from graves and I saw the sign of the sickle and hammer painted on walls with the Spanish inscription below: 'United Brothers Proletariat.' In demonstrating their 'hatred of God' the loyalists destroy 'anything that shows signs of religion, education or culture.'" What was the Record's comment on these barbarities? Shocked? No sign of it yet. Just the news item, that's all. But what if Monsignor Hawks had seen all that in Germany? The Record's editorial page would have sizzled. The Record knows of the letter of The Spanish Bishops. Here is a small portion of it. Speaking of the hundreds of thousands murdered, the Bishops say: "Many had their limbs amputated, or were dreadfully mutilated before being murdered; their eyes were put out, their tongues cut out, they were ripped open from top to bottom, burned or buried alive, chopped to death with axes. The greatest cruelty has been used against the ministers of God." Was The Record shocked at this savagery? No sign of it. The Record bore up bravely under the dreadful news.

Now what is the point of it all? Very simple. It's The Record's old line. When Catholics are persecuted in Germany, by Hitler, The Record puts on its editorial helmet and goes out to battle for them. When Catholics in Spain are wiped off the face of the earth by thousands, The Record takes off its fighting helmet and keeps a deep editorial silence. A Cardinal is stoned in Vienna, and The Record's tear-bag bursts. 11 Bishops, some 15,000 priests, 300,000 Catholic laymen are butchered in Spain, and The Record's tear-bag is as tight as a hazel nut.

Don't you see the difference? One crime is committed by Hitler's gang. That is 'shocking.' The other crime is committed by 'Spanish Democracy's' gang and that makes the difference. Do you get the point?

Feasts of the Month

ALL SAINTS—NOVEMBER 1

This feast ranks among the highest in the Church's calendar and is one of the comparatively few Holydays of Obligation now observed in the United States. It is instituted in honor of all the saints, known and unknown, and whether formally canonized or not. Though from the beginning of God's Church the saints have one and all been invoked by Christians, it was only the martyrs and St. John the Baptist who had special feast days in the early centuries of Christianity. By degrees the other saints were added, and at length in the eighth century Pope Gregory III established a local feast of all saints in Rome, for November 1st, a feast which in the ninth century was extended to the whole Church by Gregory IV.

Few feasts are more inspiring than that of All Saints. The very thought of that vast army of Apostles, Martyrs, Confessors, and Virgins, whose name is legion, and each of them recalls the memory of a mighty combat and an eternal triumph over the powers of evil, should arouse the courage of the most timid-hearted and arm them for the struggle against sin and concupiscence for which is promised the same reward as that of the saints.

COMMEMORATION OF ALL THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED—NOVEMBER 2

November is the month of the dead. Like a tender mother the Church leads the living to the last resting place of her children. She would not have us ignorant concerning them that sleep, neither would she have us forget. On one day the glorious choirs of the Apostles and the white-robed army of the martyrs and the numberless companies of prophets and confessors sweep before our eyes. The following day the triumphant canticles are unheard for the supplication that sweeps out of the depths, "Have mercy on me, have mercy on me, at least you, my friends, have mercy on me."

Loyalty to our dead—this is the only incentive we need to spend this November well. This is the only incentive we need to offer by sacrifice and supplication that succor to faithful souls for which they look with weary eyes as they keep the long night watches of their purgation. No true heart will be insensible to the claims of them that suffer. Those that are near and dear to us have the first claims, but no Catholic will forget the unnumbered multitude of the forgotten dead who have no one on earth to do them the service of a prayer.

"Remember, O Lord, Thy servants, men and women, who have gone before us with the sign of faith and who sleep in the sleep of peace. To them and to all that rest in Christ we pray Thee to give a place of refreshment, light and peace. Through the same Christ Our Lord."

SAINTS OF THE SOCIETY OF JESUS FEAST—NOVEMBER 5

The feast of All the Saints of the Society of Jesus will be celebrated this year, November 5th, and the Commemoration of the deceased members of the Society on the 3d of November.

The Saints who are especially honored on November 5th are Ignatius Loyola, Francis Xavier, Francis Borgia, Francis Jerome, John Francis Regis, Aloysius Gonzaga, Stanislaus Koska, John Berchmans, Peter Claver, Alphonsus Rodriguez, Peter Canisius, Robert Bellarmine, Paul, John and James, Japanese Martyrs, John Brebeuf, Isaac Jogues and Companions, North American Martyrs and Andrew Bobola.

These Saints shed lustre on every grade of the Society, priest, scholar, lay and lay-brother. They were from different countries, from Italy, France, Portugal, Germany, Poland, Japan; and each in his sphere and in his holiness had characteristics distinguishing him from the others.

On the commemoration of all the deceased Jesuits, November 3rd, we ought to be mindful of all the Jesuits who have labored here in our midst and elsewhere and offer up a loving tribute of prayer, communion or Mass that their rewards may be eternal with God.

SAINT STANISLAUS—NOVEMBER 13

SAINT STANISLAUS—NOVEMBER 13

St. Stanislaus, whose feast the Church keeps this month, was a Jesuit saint, only eighteen years old when he died. His tender age makes him the patron of youth, and boys and girls ought to feel encouraged by the example of his holy life to do their utmost to please God. The present period of your young lives is a season of grace, a time when you can gather strength to meet and overcome the difficulties that will later on surely cross your paths. If, now, when the practice of virtue is easy, you fail to equip yourselves with good habits; if now you fall into sin as readily as your elders, you will find yourselves, when a few years older, too weak to fight temptation and sin; you will find yourselves, where so many Catholic men and women find themselves, after a childhood of crime, nearly outside of the Church, on the very edge of hell. You cannot, while young, afford to let slip any opportunity to practice virtue. Every single effort you now make in this direction will be afterwards abundantly rewarded with assistance from Heaven. You must store your little minds with principles of action, with motives of conduct, that will never abandon you when old, that will keep you forever in the straight and narrow path. You must fill your little hearts with a love for God and His Blessed Mother that no love of later years will be quite able to shake from your bosoms. And the way to accomplish this blessed purpose is to think frequently of how St. Stanislaus behaved himself, of how he thought, of where he put his affections.

ST. JOHN BERCHMANS, S.J.—NOVEMBER 26

ST. JOHN BERCHMANS, S.J.—NOVEMBER 26

The Altar Boys should be interested in the Feast of their Patron St. John Berchmans, S.J. All St. John's early years were associated with the faithful serving of Mass. He began at the age of seven, and he kept his grandmother busy waking him every morning in time to set out for the Church. Being poor, he was received, at the age of fourteen, into the Cathedral School of Malines, as a servant and student. Here his duties were to wake the smaller boys every morning, to see that they were tidy, to teach them how to serve, to accompany them to the Cathedral, and to perform all the offices of a little master of ceremonies. As a novice of the Society of Jesus in Rome he loved to serve as acolyte in the grand functions of the great church of the Gesu. A Roman gentleman once said to a friend, "Do you know why I come to this church (the Gesu)? It is to see that young man serving Mass. The sight of him is as balm to my soul." John Berchmans died at the age of twenty-four.

Pope Leo XIII declared him Patron of Altar Boys throughout the Universal Church.

Thanksgiving Day—November 24

Thanksgiving Day—November 24

The Church in her official prayers is ever mindful to return thanks to Almighty God for His loving kindness. For the Church, every day is Thanksgiving Day.

The chief executive of the Nation and the Governors of the States invite us to return thanks to Almighty God for His loving kindness and for His observance of Thanksgiving.

The Church in her official prayers is ever Almighty God for His loving kindness. For the Church, every day giving Day.

The President as chief executive of the Nation and the Governors of the respective States, year after year, invite us to return thanks to Almighty God on Thanksgiving Day. For Catholics, the proper observance of Thanksgiving Day is assistance at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass and the reception of Holy Communion. There is not one of us to whom God has not shown in the year that is drawing to a close unnumbered mercies and blessings beyond count. It is meet and proper that we should thank Him for what He has done for us and for our beloved Country, and beg Him that in future we may be found in some degree less unworthy of His goodness.

—Ex.

The Communion of Saints

This doctrine, in which we profess our belief every time we say the Apostles' Creed, "is one of the most consoling doctrines of Christianity."

It proclaims that the followers of Christ are not isolated soldiers of the Cross, but that they belong to a closely-knit array of all those who, under the leadership of Christ, the Eternal King, have won or are striving to win the crown of immortal glory.

The Communion of Saints embraces three classes First, those who have fought the good Christian fight, have won and are crowned; in the next place, those who have fought the good fight and have won but have not yet been crowned; and, finally, those who are still engaged as soldiers of Christ, fighting the good fight against the world, the evil allurements of the flesh and the devil. Members of Christ's own Church know that they are united by a spiritual bond which establishes helpful relationship among the faithful on earth; and between the faithful on earth and those who have gone before to their reward—whether they be already crowned in glory with Christ the King, or awaiting coronation in purgatory, that place of purification which prepares them for presence in the abode of the all-holy God.

Members of Christ's own Church realize that they are not alone in the warfare of life. They know, with the Apostle St. Paul, that they can and do pray for one another and that those mutual prayers bring down God's grace and help in the battles of Christian warfare.

From many texts in St. Paul's Epistles it is very clear that the first Christians believed that the faithful on earth are associated in a holy union, and that they are able to be of help to one another before the throne of God. This is the Communion of Saints on earth.

True Love for the Dead

A true love for the dead is not shown by a vain and inconsolable sorrow, nor yet by the tenderness with which we cherish the memory of their stay with us on earth, but rather by the comfort we take in rendering to them the kindly offices which can benefit them.

"Concerning them that are asleep," St. Paul bids us "be not sorrowful, even as others who have no hope." For they are only asleep. Be sorrowful, yes, but hopeful, too.

Do not, therefore, treat the bodies of the dead either as if they are all that is left of them, or yet as if the quicker we put them out of existence the better. Do not deck them out in gaudy attire, or lavish on them all the wealth of our gardens, as if to mock the corruption to which they are subject. Do not, on the other hand, attempt to annihilate or utterly destroy, as some think to do, the corruptible which must one day put on incorruption, the mortal which must put on immortality. The grave is the fitting receptacle for the dead, not the furnace. The cemetery, consecrated and properly kept as a garden of repose, signifies the place of refreshment, light and peace in which we trust the souls of the departed faithfully dwell.

Not content with having the Mass of requiem offered for their souls, we should keep up the good old Catholic custom of the Month's Mind and Anniversary Mass, and occasionally also have the Holy Sacrifice offered for our departed. It is the one sacrifice which is common for the living and the dead, and through which we hope to be united with them in a happy immortality.

Plenary Indulgence for November

An indulgence—a plenary one—may be gained by all who, having confessed and received Holy Communion, visit any church and there offer prayer, according to the intentions of the Sovereign Pontiff, for the suffering souls in Purgatory. This indulgence may be gained as often during the day, as distinct visits are made. It is applicable only to the souls in Purgatory. A person may begin on November 1st, 12 o'clock noon, and continue till 12 o'clock midnight of November 2nd. These visits may be made before or after the fulfilling of the other conditions. No special prayers are prescribed. The person must pray for the intentions of the Pope, and it is generally said that five "Our Fathers" and "Hail Marys" suffice.

Another indulgence which we can use to good purposes during November was granted by Pope Pius X on July 11, 1914. If we say the ejaculatory prayer, "Praised be the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus in the Most Holy Sacrament," we gain 100 days indulgence every time and can apply it to the Holy Souls.

Comfort for Those Who Mourn

The great and sad mistake of many people, among them even pious persons, is to imagine that those whom death has taken, leave us. They do not leave us. They remain! Where are they? In darkness? Oh, no! It is we who are in darkness. We do not see them, but they see us. Their eyes, radiant with glory, are fixed upon our eyes full of tears. Oh, infinite consolation! Though invisible to us, our dear dead are not absent.

I have often reflected upon the surest comfort for those who mourn. It is this: a firm faith in the real and continual presence of our loved ones; it is the clear and penetrating conviction that death has not destroyed them, nor carried them away. They are not even absent, but living near to us, transfigured, having lost in their glorious change no delicacy of their souls, no tenderness of their hearts, nor especial preference in their affection; on the contrary, having in depth and fervor of devotion, grown larger a hundredfold. Death is, for the good, a translation into light, into power, into love. Those who on earth were only ordinary Christians, become perfect; those who were beautiful become good; those who were good become sublime. —Msgr. Bougaud.

What We Ought to Know of Purgatory

Catholics believe in accordance with a decree of the Council of Trent, that "there is a Purgatory, and that the souls there detained are assisted by the suffrages of the faithful, but especially by the most acceptable Sacrifice of the Altar." It is a matter of faith, therefore, that (1) there is a Purgatory, (2) that souls suffer there after death for their sins, (3) that we can help to relieve them. In addition to these points to be held under pain of heresy, Catholics believe (1) that the Holy Souls are saved, also in a state of grace and friendship with God; (2) that they are confirmed in grace and cannot ever lose it; (3) that the one certain punishment they suffer is the pain of loss—the keenest of all suffering, as described by Newman in his "Dream of Gerontius"; (4) that, as St. Thomas teaches, the punishment of Purgatory is greater than the greatest pain in this life; (5) that the punishment due; (6) that only those souls go to Purgatory who have not fully paid the debt of temporal punishment due to sins of which the guilt has been forgiven.

Implicit belief in a doctrine which is explicitly denounced by the churches to which they belong is manifested by many non-Catholics, who satisfy an instinctive craving of their hearts by praying for their departed loved ones; and believing that such praying will aid them.

Cardinal Newman's Prayer for the Holy Souls

Jesu! by that shuddering dread which fell on Thee;
 Jesu! by that cold dismay which sickened Thee;
 Jesu! by the pang of heart which thrilled Thee;
 Jesu! by that mount of sins which crippled Thee;
 Jesu! by that sense of guilt which stifled Thee;
 Jesu! by that innocence which girdled Thee;
 Jesu! by that sanctity which reigned in Thee;
 Jesu! by that Godhead which was one with Thee;
 Jesu! spare those souls which are so dear to Thee;
 Who in prison, calm and patient, wait for Thee;
 Hasten, Lord, their hour, and bid them come to Thee;
 To that glorious home, where they shall ever gaze on Thee.

Examen for Parents

Some one suggests the following examination of conscience as pertinent to parents preparing for their ordinary confessions:

- (1) Are my children taught to prepare their Catechism?
 - (2) Am I taking interest in their attendance and progress at school?
 - (3) Are they trained to say their morning and night prayers?
 - (4) Am I leading them by example to love Holy Mass, frequently to receive the Holy Communion and to make their confessions well?
 - (5) Are the children roaming the street after nightfall?
 - (6) Do I know their companions and where they go for amusement?
 - (7) Do they have good example at home in speech and conduct?
 - (8) Do they find good influences in the house, the crucifix, good books, holy pictures and statues?
 - (9) Am I instilling into their hearts a love of the Sacred Heart and of the Holy Mother of God, teaching them to say her rosary and to call upon her in the hour of need?
 - (10) Am I teaching them to know and to love their religion and to practice it out of love for our Lord Who is so good to them?
- A little meditation with prayer on these ten questions will go a long way towards the spiritual welfare of our children.

Scolding Gently

One branch of the gentle art of disagreeing is "How to Scold," a very important branch for those who have children and others under their care.

It is often a duty to point out faults and suggest a remedy, and it is a most difficult duty to do it well. This is usually because people do not realize that the disagreeing may be a gentle art. They think it necessary to speak sharply because their words contain a rebuke, which is a sad mistake, because at no time are such gentle words needed as when someone must be set right.

Gentle scoldings are far more efficient than loud shouts. One rarely finds a person who will not listen to reasoning if it is put forward at a suitable time.

Of course, it is useless to reason with a child or a grownup who is out of temper, but it is also useless to try and shout him down. When noise and force are called into play to aid an argument, it is safe to conclude that the cause is weak, or it would not need such a defense.

It is worth diligent study and much application, this gentle art of disagreeing.

Because It's Christmas Time

Because It's Christmas Time let's go where lies an Infant dear,
Let's leave the world and sin behind as to His Crib we near;
Let's gaze upon the Christ Child's Face, and all Its sweetness see,
And think that we too once were babes as innocent as He;
Since then the years have come and gone, each one has brought its toll
Of sin to us and grief to Him, and harm to our poor souls;
Let love for Christ, and tears for sin, now warm His Heart Divine,
So we may be His Children now Because It's Christmas Time;

Because it is Thy Birthday, Lord, we draw close to Thy Side,
Oh, have us know that only there does happiness abide;
Beside Thy Manger let us see how empty is our goal,
Our chase for conquest, wealth and fame which brings not rest to souls;
Where is the Peace, Lord, Thou didst bring; where, too, is found Good-Will,
When wars surround us everywhere, and hatred men's souls fill;
O, Infant Jesus, from Thy Crib stretch forth Thy Loving Hands,
And give contentment, peace and love to distressed, warring lands;

Let every day be Christmas Day as long, Lord, as we live,
And let us to Thy Manger come each day our love to give;
Before our eyes and in our hearts two scenes, Lord, let us see,
The one, the Stable with its Babe, the other, Calvary's Tree;
Each represents a Love so great that only God could show,
Each tells a tale of suffering deep man's heart shall never know;
Make our love strong so we shall not offend Thy Heart Divine,
And have us love all men for Thee Because It's Christmas Time.

Novena in Honor of the Immaculate Conception

Only a few days now lie between us and the celebration of the Golden Jubilee of the parish. The nearness of the solemnity should be the signal for an earnest renewal of fervor, as in our spiritual, no less than in our temporal concerns, success depends in no little measure on our ability to persevere. These days when we are preparing to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of the opening of the church should be days of a spiritual renovation for all in the parish.

What better preparation could we make for the celebration of the Golden Jubilee than to be faithful in attending the Novena in honor of the Immaculate Conception? The Novena will commence on November 30th and end on the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, December 8th. Father Joseph Perrot will conduct the exercises of the Novena at 4 P. M. and at 8 P. M.

It lies with our people this year to give to this feast a character of special earnestness by attending the exercises, evening after evening, in greater numbers than ever before and in receiving Holy Communion on the Feast of the Immaculate Conception. Holy Communion then will be the most fitting crown to our Novena, as well as to our Golden Jubilee.

Jubilee Notes

Ground was broken for the Church of the Gesu on March 10, 1879, and the corner-stone was laid on October 5th of the same year. Nine years were spent in the construction of the magnificent edifice. The highest point of the arched ceiling is 100 feet above the center aisle. The architect said that such an arch could not be built in those pre-steel days, but Father Villiger, of happy memory, insisted that it could, if the supporting walls were made enormously heavy and thick. The result has been described as "a triumph of architectural skill and daring." The first public function held in the new church was the celebration of the Golden Jubilee of the founder, Father Villiger, in the Society of Jesus. This was on October 4, 1888. The church was not then quite finished, and so the formal dedication and official opening was held on December 2, 1888.

The Golden Jubilee of the opening of the Church of the Gesu, 18th and Stiles Streets, will be celebrated with fitting ceremonies from December 8th to 11th.

On Thursday, December 8th, feast of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary, a solemn pontifical Mass will be celebrated by His Eminence, Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia. The deacon of the Mass will be the Very Reverend Francis X. Dougherty, S.J., rector of the Church of St. Michael, Buffalo, N. Y., and president of Canisius College High School. The sub-deacon will be the Reverend Paul A. McNally, S.J., director of the Astronomical Observatory of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. Assistant Priest: Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Carroll McCormick, Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia.

Both the deacon and sub-deacon are former residents of the parish. Deacons of Honor to Cardinal Dougherty will be the Very Rev. Joseph A. Murphy, S.J., Provincial of the Maryland-New York Province of the Society of Jesus and Rt. Rev. Monsignor Fenton J. Fitzpatrick, rector of the Church of the Incarnation, Philadelphia. The master of ceremonies will be the Reverend Joseph M. Corr, Procurator of St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook, Pa. The sermon will be preached by the Reverend Joseph S. Hogan, S.J., professor of philosophy at St. Joseph's College. Mass at 10 A. M.

On Friday, December 9th, there will be celebrated a solemn requiem Mass for all the dead of the parish. The Mass will begin at 10 o'clock. The celebrant will be the Reverend Francis J. Markee, rector of the Church of St. Philomena, Lansdowne, Pa. Deacon will be the Reverend Michael A.

Brown, assistant rector of the Church of St. Margaret, Narberth, Pa. Sub-deacon will be the Reverend James I. Maguire, S.J., assistant rector of the Church of the Gesu. Master of Ceremonies will be the Reverend John F. X. Bellwoar, S.J., professor of Classics at St. Joseph's College High School. The sermon will be preached by the Very Reverend W. Coleman Nevils, S.J., Ph.D., rector of the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola, New York City.

On Saturday, December 10th, there will be celebrated at 10 A.M. a solemn high Mass dedicated to all former members of the parish who have entered religious orders. The celebrant will be the Very Reverend Francis A. O'Malley, S.J., Ph.D., President of Canisius College, Buffalo, N. Y. The deacon will be the Reverend Herbert P. McNally, S.J., professor of Physics at Canisius High School, Buffalo, N. Y. The sub-deacon will be the Reverend John J. O'Connor, S.J., professor of Greek at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. Master of Ceremonies will be the Reverend Thomas A. Doyle, S.J., Student Counsellor at St. Peter's College, Jersey City, N. J. The sermon will be preached by the Reverend Dennis J. Comey, S.J., Ph.D., rector of St. Peter's College, Jersey City, N. J.

On Sunday, December 11th, a solemn High Mass will be celebrated by the Reverend James A. McCarl, S.J., assistant rector of Loyola High School, Baltimore, Maryland. The deacon will be the Reverend Michael J. Dougherty, S.J., professor of Classics at the same school. The sub-deacon will be the Reverend John J. Brown, S.J., assistant rector of St. Joseph's Church, Willings Alley, Philadelphia. The sermon will be preached by the Reverend John J. Geoghan, S.J., professor of Philosophy at Loyola College, Baltimore, Maryland. Master of Ceremonies, the Reverend Atlee F. X. Devereaux, S.J., assistant rector, Holy Trinity Church, Washington, D. C.

The bi-monthly meeting of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association was held on Wednesday evening, November 2nd, in the high school building on Stiles Street. There was a very encouraging attendance at this meeting and we trust that this spirit of interest will continue for only through the cooperation of our tenants and owners will the success of this Association be assured.

The matter of sufficient police protection at all times in the neighborhood was discussed fully and a determined effort is being made by the Association to see that ample police protection is secured for the neighborhood.

We wish to congratulate the owners who are renovating their homes. This interest on their part is much appreciated. Cooperation of this kind is helpful to all. Attractive homes bring desirable tenants.

Come to the meetings of the Association which are held twice a month in the high school building on Stiles Street. Bring your problems to us to solve. We will help you all we can. Bring your neighbors and friends to the meetings. Secure new members. Membership dues $1.00 a year—a good investment.

"Smilin' Through"

On the evenings of Thursday and Friday, the eighth and ninth of December, the Gesu Parish Dramatic Association will present "Smilin' Through" a romantic comedy in three acts by Allen Langdon Martin. This play has been a Broadway hit, and has also quite recently had great success as a moving picture. It is a very beautiful moving production concerning a great hate and a great love. The second act is a flash-back to fifty years before, very appropriate indeed to the occasion for which we are putting on this play. But we had better not tell you any more of the plot—we do not wish you to know the whole story before you see it, or we might spoil it for you.

A word about the occasion. As all the parishioners know by now, we are celebrating this year the Fiftieth Anniversary of the opening of our beloved Gesu Church. The people have generously contributed in a drive to make this occasion a success. During the week of December fourth, we shall have the religious ceremony; the celebration of High Masses to mark the great occasion. Father Rector thought it only right that during this same week, we should have some social function at which the people, parishioners old and new, could gather, to meet their friends, to talk and laugh and to be entertained. And so we decided to put on this play. It is not just a play; nor is it just the annual play for we have not had one in a few years. But it is an occasion! It is to be the big social event of the Golden Jubilee Celebration. You cannot afford to miss it. Everybody will be there.

The boys and girls, or we should say, the young men and young women of this parish have been working hard to make this a first class entertainment. We have hired a professional coach—Mr. Edward Keough—founder and director of "The Showcrafters of Park Avenue" who assures us that the production will be of almost professional caliber.

You may like to know the names of those who are to do the acting. As far as we can determine at the present writing, the list is as follows:

Regina Dougherty
Helen Carroll
Jean Fenerty
Ann O'Donnell
Rose O'Lone
Mary O'Donnell
Kay Jamerson
Peg Larkin
Marie Myers
Isabel O'Leary
Gertrude McLaughlin
Mary Germscheid

Catherine Barth
Rita Barth
Margaret Gallagher
Catherine Daley
Edward O'Donnell
Raymond Colliton
John Boyle
William Gallagher
Paul Fenerty
Joseph Mackey
William Danks

Stage Manager—Frank McGowan; Lighting—Frank Cunningham
Properties—Alfred Burns

Come one and all and show these young people that you appreciate their fine work; come and make this presentation the finest and grandest social event that we have had in fifty years. Tickets of admission will be fifty cents.

A Word of Thanks

TO ALL OUR PARISHIONERS:

By the time that this edition of the Calendar will reach our Parishioners the Golden Jubilee drive will be near its termination. Therefore it behooves me as its Director to thank our Parishioners for their courtesy towards the workers and their generous contributions. In the second place I must thank the truly Catholic Men and Women who answered our call and labored faithfully during the time of the drive. When the call went out they grasped its meaning and offered their services without any reservations. They knew full well the labors and sacrifices it entailed, the pleasant evenings frequently after a hard days work that would have to be sacrificed. They promised their assistance and to this promise they were true. If the drive did not come up to their expectations it was no fault of theirs.

Again I wish to thank all those who lived up to their obligations as Catholics and contributed according to their means. We realize that many went beyond their means and gave because their conscience would not allow them to rest if they did not answer the call made upon them by their Pastor. Who those are will be seen when the names are published in the January edition of the Calendar. These people understand the meaning of the Commandment that we are to contribute to the support of our Pastors, or the Church, according to our means. It is a matter of record that there are many in our parish who do not seem to understand this as can be seen from the absence of their names from any printed record of donors to the various collections, even to the 5 cent collection for the Church Debt.

As we look back over the names of those who by their sacrifices left this beautiful monument to the glory of God we are astonished at their generosity. They were real Catholic giants. We hope that when the record of this drive will be read by those who will celebrate the centennial of this church fifty years from now, they will say the same thing of the parishioners of our time. Again I thank all those whose names will be found in our printed lists as making this drive possible and consequently the celebration of the Golden Jubilee a success.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES I. MAGUIRE, S.J.

Our Christmas Wish

We wish a Happy and a Holy Christmas to all our parishioners and beg of Almighty God the most abundant blessings for every family and individual of our congregation. May you carry home with you on Christmas Day the peace promised to men of good will, and may the loving heart of our Infant Saviour so fill your soul with that peace that it may abide with you throughout all the days and hours of the coming year.

THE FATHERS OF THE GESU.

The Advantage of Having a Pew Reserved

There are now quite a few pews available for rental in the Church. There are many advantages to be considered from the renting of these pews. In the first place there is the advantage of convenience. The pews are reserved for their holders on Sundays and Holydays of Obligation. The pew-holder has the advantage of choice of location and may go directly to it rather than looking for a seat in some unoccupied pew. The rentals are very reasonable, hence there is good reason why more of our parishioners should be pew-holders.

This year the Golden Jubilee of the Parish is being celebrated. It would be a privilege, for those who find it possible, to rent a pew at least during this year. This applies not only to those who live in the parish at the present time, but also those who formerly lived here and are now with us in spirit. These folk will be welcomed as pew-holders. If you are interested call at the Treasurer's Office in the Rectory.

Feasts of the Month

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER, S.J.—DECEMBER 3

When Ignatius of Loyola, in the corridors of the University of Paris, repeated to the eloquent and ambitious Professor, Francis Xavier, that momentous warning: "What doth it profit a man to gain the whole world, if he lose his own soul?" he gained a greater victory than any in which he shared in the armies of Charles V. Francis Xavier, won to God and to the religious life, went forth to conquer new worlds to Christ. The extent and the success of his missionary labors in Europe, India and Japan are held in admiration even by the enemies of the Church. The native Christian churches existing today in those two important Oriental countries testify by their fervor and their fidelity through centuries of persecution and neglect to the solidity of his labors.

Next to his burning zeal for the salvation of souls, the leading characteristics of Francis Xavier were his confidence in God, his love for his father, Ignatius, and the Society of Jesus. Strange, then, that while men have never been wanting to heap obloquy upon the Society of Jesus, and assail it with calumnies, that man has yet to appear who holds in disrespect the name of Xavier, or fails to recognize the grandeur of his character.

THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION—DECEMBER 8

We are doing theology no violence when we conceive the Son of God, the Second Person of the adorable Trinity, voluntarily offering Himself for the sacrifice of Redemption. His consent was free, His knowledge of Redemption's cost was full, and His acceptance of the trust was a miracle of generosity, a miracle of obedience to His Heavenly Father's wishes. "He humbled Himself, becoming obedient unto death, even to death on the cross." We can, therefore, consider the Immaculate Conception a favor done the Blessed Virgin in view of her divine Son's heroism. It is, in fact, an article of faith that this privilege of immunity from original sin was conferred on her by virtue of the merits of Jesus Christ. She was as truly redeemed by Jesus Christ, as any son or daughter of Adam, and nothing prevents us from regarding this stupendous favor a recompense for Christ's stupendous courage and generosity. We can believe that the Son's willingness to suffer and die for mankind so worked on the Father's sense of justice that He reckoned no smaller gift a fitting reward, and needed no other motive to exempt Mary from an otherwise universal law. The thought will serve to recall the debt of gratitude we owe the world's Redeemer, and will help us to appreciate the esteem in which God holds generous self-sacrifice. When we reflect that the degradation and pain Christ suffered for our sakes appealed so forcibly to the Father's admiration and sense of thankfulness, we can well feel ashamed of our own forgetfulness and ingratitude. Oh, the generosity; oh, the magnanimity wrapped up in that act of acceptance, by which the Son of God sealed with His Father the bargain of Redemption! All the world were too inadequate a reward! Something new had to be introduced into creation to save divine justice from the shame of defeat; and that new being was our Mother Mary, immaculate in her conception!

Could we but acquit ourselves of heroism in God's service resembling in the faintest way this glorious achievement of the Son of God, we, too, should deserve at the Father's hands some marked intervention of His omnipotence. But we cannot! We are not sturdy enough to forego self in the commonest affairs of life. We shrink from suffering, we shrink from pain with an instinctive dread, and we break down the barrier of God's law to escape trifling hurts. But let us take courage from this mystery of the Immaculate Conception, considered as God's tribute to generosity. Let us derive from it the strength needed to meet like men the sacrifices our post in life demands. Let us not run away from humiliation, or sorrow, or fatigue; and, perhaps, God, pleased with these small beginnings, will pour out upon us some of the graces He lavished on His saints. God is as jealous of His reputation for generosity as He is of His dignity. He will allow no man to outdo Him on this score; and we never yet denied ourselves a gratification for His love without receiving in return a magnificent reward. One sacrifice has often made a saint; and, if God is now whispering to any heart of a holocaust He wants made, that heart had better arrange terms for a surrender.

This then is another lesson we derive from our Mother's Immaculate Conception, the hard lesson of self-denial, the difficult task of generosity in God's service, the martyrdom of obedience to God's law. The small gifts we have to offer cannot weigh enough with God to urge a like miracle in our behalf, but they can, and they must, influence Him to see to it that, even if we came into the world covered all over with sin, and lived only to add to our shame, we may at least go out to meet Him with clean hearts and clean hands; and that is reward enough, that is reward enough!

"Naked on parent's knee, a new-born child,
Weeping thou sat'st when all around thee smiled;
So live, that sinking to thy last long sleep,
Thou then may'st smile while all around thee weep."

CHRISTMAS DAY—THE JOYOUS FESTIVAL OF OUR SAVIOUR'S BIRTH—DECEMBER 25

A Child is born to us, and a son is given to us and the government is upon His shoulder; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, God, the Mighty, the Father of the world to come, the Prince of Peace.

Joy is the key-note of this dearest Festival. It was a message of gladness that the angel bore to the shepherds, not for the shepherds alone, but for the whole world. And that same note of gladness rings in the salutation with which we all greet one another on this Christmas day.

Yet Christian joy is not of a piece with mere worldly joy. It is always accompanied by a certain modest reserve, because the Christian has God always present. "Rejoice in the Lord always; again I say, rejoice," is the urgent recommendation given to him but the apostle who gives it at once adds: "Let your modesty be known to all men. The Lord is nigh."

The Christian's joy is deepest in the midst of poverty and suffering and tribulation of every kind. His rejoicing has Christ for its motive, and Christ first appears among us as a little babe, wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger. "He was in the world, and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not."

We must indeed rejoice on this holy Christmas day. Our hearts must overflow with gladness, but our joy must be such as to avail us not for this world alone, but for that also which is to come. We must so rejoice now that we may deserve to rejoice forever hereafter.

At the Crib

In this gracious, hallowed season, our thoughts are turned to the Crib and Bethlehem. Joseph, anxiously seeking a refuge in the little town, received no welcome. Outcasts from the city of their fathers, he and his ever blessed spouse go out into the darkness to find a shelter in a place of beasts. And there He Who for our sins deigned to take upon Himself our humanity, was born as a child of the poor, born as a child of outcasts. He came unto His own but His own received Him not. They persecuted Him. The manger is His throne, pain and poverty His courtiers. Soon the shepherds will come and the Wise Men from the East. And then . . . the pursuivants of Herod, the voice of Rama, the journey into a far land.

There is no bitterness in our hearts as we kneel at the crib on Christmas Day, repeating the story ever old and ever new of the coming of the Christ Child to His people. We will try to understand why He chose persecution and suffering for Himself, for His Blessed Mother, for St. Joseph, for His Apostles, for all who through them should believe in Him. In the presence of the Divine Babe and His sweet Mother, we ask that we may learn the lesson of forgiveness so that we too may pray for all who use us in hatred and despite; even as at the end He begged forgiveness for those who encompassed His death.

There too let us ask that the peace and calm of Bethlehem may be given to all whom we love, but in especial measure to the old, the sick, and to all who suffer persecution for His Name. May he bless our little children and our schools and our patient, self-sacrificing religious teachers; our priests and our Bishops; our brethren in the Faith throughout the world that they may be strengthened; and all who sit in the darkness of unbelief and error that they may speedily be brought into the glorious light of the Faith; our fellow-citizens that we may dwell with them and they with us in peace and harmony; our beloved country, that she may fulfill to the end the mission entrusted to her.

Christ is born in Bethlehem of Judea; come, let us adore! O Babe of Bethlehem, the world is sick and weary, and hearts are heavy. Touch us with Thy little Hand, as we kneel at the crib with Mary and Joseph, and make us to know that in Thee alone is the Way, the Truth, the Light!

Pagan Cards or Christmas Cards

How many people buying Christmas cards ever stop to think of the real meaning of Christmas? It is the feast that celebrates the birthday of Our Lord. The day when He left His heavenly home to come and live with us that some day we might enjoy that home with Him. If more people would realize this fact, when they are purchasing Christmas cards, they would purchase cards that have a true and religious significance. If we took away the religious significance there would be no Christmas. Many people are forgetting the true meaning of Christmas because many of the cards that are now being sold, entirely omit the underlying idea of Christmas. There are those, too, who do not realize that by using cards that have no relation to the true significance of Christmas they are helping to spread pagan ideas, which these cards represent. Religious cards may be obtained in most Religious Goods Stores. There is such a store directly opposite the Gesu Church.

December Thoughts

THE TIME OF ADVENT

The first thought that comes into the Catholic mind when thinking of December is that it is the TIME OF ADVENT. That season which bids us prepare for the suitable commemoration of Our Lord's birth. It is the beginning of the Church's year for everything begins with our Lord, the New Adam and regenerator of the race. All the feasts and devotions of the Church begin over again to go the round of another year. In this sense Advent should be a time of reflection and resolution and should help to make our years better since they are growing fewer and coming nearer the end of time and the beginning of eternity. It is especially the preparation for Christmas, the birthday of our Lord, and Holy Church sings in her services the prayer of the Jews of Old, "Rain down Thou Just One," "Rejoice, O Jerusalem, rejoice with a great joy, because thy Saviour will come to thee."

The second thought OF ADVENT is the great feast of Our Lady namely that of her Immaculate Conception on December the eighth. How our Blessed Lady stands as it were, exalted in space—in her glorious perfection. She is like the sun, dazzling in her glory, and like the moon, set steadily in the heavens midst the darkness and danger of night. What joy, what comfort from the assurance that she is our Mother, and that we are her favored well-beloved children. Our Lady was born immaculate and created full of grace because she was to be the Mother of infinite perfection and holiness, the Son of the Most High. Mary was made immaculate that she might be worthy to be the temple of the King of Glory. Let us ask our Immaculate Queen to gain for us the grace of holiness and innocence that Christ may find a home in our hearts wherein to live and be close to us.

But the thought of thoughts for December is that in it comes CHRISTMAS DAY, the time when every Christian heart overflows with joy. The joy we feel radiates all around us, and we give and receive the signs and marks of our affection and friendliness. Man wishes to be at peace and rest with his fellow man because he wishes to be at peace and rest with God. Ah let us not throw away the boon offered to us, but by prayer and fasting, by recollection and resolution, daily attendance at Mass and more frequent reception of the Sacraments, fit ourselves in Advent days, for the beginning of heaven's joy by their earthly counterpart—a happy and holy Christmas tide.
